Dear Mr. Bagnard:

Thank you very much for your informative and interesting presentation last week at our Region II construction inspector counterpart meeting. My staff thoroughly enjoyed your presentations on the I-90 tunnel ceiling failure and the I-35 bridge failure. Your presentations were well received and served as a valuable part of our program to ensure that the lessons learned in all industries are reviewed to provide insights for new nuclear facility construction activities.

Our senior managers also enjoyed our discussions during lunch – it was interesting to see the parallels between our agencies' histories and activities. We appreciate the professional work conducted by the National Transportation Safety Board, and the valuable insights that are relevant to other industries.

Again, thank you, and good luck in your future endeavors.

Sincerely,
