NANCY BURTON,

Petitioner,

- v. -

(09-0005-ag)

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA and UNITED STATES
NUCLEAR REGULATORY COMMISSION,

Respondents,

ENTERGY NUCLEAR OPERATIONS, INC.,

Respondent-Intervenor.

For Petitioner: NANCY BURTON, pro se, Law Office of Nancy Burton, Esq., Redding Ridge, Connecticut.

For Respondents: JAMES ADLER, United States
Nuclear Regulatory Commission,
(John E. Arbab, United States
Department of Justice,
Environment & Natural Resources
Division, Washington, D.C., on the brief), Rockville, Maryland.

For Respondent-
Intervenor: CATHERINE MASTERS, Schiff Hardin LLP, Chicago, Illinois.

Petition for review of a final decision of the United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission.

1 UPON DUE CONSIDERATION, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED, ADJUDGED,
2 AND DECREED that the petition for review is DENIED.

3 Petitioner Nancy Burton challenges a decision of the 4 United States Nuclear Regulatory Commission ("NRC"), which 5 denied two petitions she filed in a license-renewal 6 adjudication relating to the nuclear power facilities at 7 Indian Point. In the first petition, petitioner applied for 8 a waiver of certain generally applicable NRC regulations 9 during the license-renewal adjudication in question. In the 10 second petition, petitioner sought to intervene in the 11 adjudication in order to present evidence that would 12 otherwise be barred by the regulations for which she sought
13 the waiver. The Atomic Safety and Licensing Board denied 14 both petitions, and the NRC denied petitioner's appeal of

1 those conclusions. Relying on 28 U.S.C. § 2342(4), 2 petitioner now challenges the NRC's decision.¹ We presume
3 the parties' familiarity with the underlying facts, the 4 procedural history of the case, and the issues on appeal.

5 Our review of a final order of the NRC is governed by 6 the Administrative Procedure Act ("APA"), 5 U.S.C. § 701 et 7 seq. Pursuant to the APA, petitions for review of the NRC's
8 decisions must be denied unless the agency's conclusions 9 were "arbitrary, capricious, an abuse of discretion, or 10 otherwise not in accordance with law." Id. § 706(2)(a).

11 Thus, our review is "narrow" and "highly deferential";
12 "[t]he test here is primarily one of rationality." County
13 of Rockland v. U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Comm'n, 709 F.2d 766,
14 776 (2d Cir. 1983) (quotations omitted). "'If the [NRC]
15 based its order on substantial relevant evidence, fairly 16 ascertained, and if it has made no clear error of judgment, 17 this court is not authorized to overturn that order.'" Id.
18 (quoting Cross-Sound Ferry Servs., Inc. v. United States, 19 573 F.2d 725, 730 (2d Cir. 1978)).

¹ In the proceedings before the NRC, petitioner filed both petitions jointly, as an individual and on behalf of the Connecticut Residents Opposed to Relicensing of Indian Point ("CRORIP"). In her petition to this court, however, petitioner only signed the petition in her individual capacity. The omission of CRORIP is immaterial to our analysis, and the same result would obtain if that organization had been named as a party to these proceedings.

1 Upon review of the instant petition, we conclude that 2 petitioner has failed to demonstrate that the NRC acted 3 arbitrarily or capriciously in denying her waiver petition.
4 Absent such a waiver, it cannot be said that the NRC ran 5 afoul of the APA by denying petitioner's application to 6 intervene in the license-renewal adjudication. We have 7 considered petitioner's remaining arguments and find them to 8 be without merit. Accordingly, the petition is hereby

9 DENIED.
