SUBJECT: Response to NRC Generic Letter 96-06

Members of the regulatory staff have requested clarification of our response provided on October 30, 1996 to the referenced generic letter. In our response we referred to "preliminary" analysis that had been completed for Fan Cooler Unit fluid heat up which showed no boiling during the first 25 seconds post accident. We also indicated that additional analyses were being performed. The conclusions drawn in the October 30, 1996 response were based upon the "preliminary" analysis described in the submittal, and were therefore also preliminary. The additional analyses being performed cover all areas needed to respond to the Generic Letter including the Fan Cooler Unit fluid heat up calculations. Our inquiry into these matters is continuing, and our response to the generic letter will be submitted within the requested 120 day response period.

Should there be further questions in this regard, please contact Charles W. Jackson, Manager Nuclear Safety & Licensing.

Very truly yours,
