Team New Jersey,

Yes, its been a while since you've heard from me regarding New Jersey. But if you remember, a long time ago, you were assigned/asked/forced to be a part of the team that gets the honor of reviewing New Jersey's application to become an Agreement State. In the attached letter, NJ declares that they still wish to become an Agreement State by August 2009, and they are anticipating submitting their draft application by August 2007. Hopefully, as that date approaches, I will be able to provide you with a more exact date (they're supposed to give us two months' notice). That way, we can ensure everyone's availability to participate or find suitable replacements. I will keep you posted on what I hear.

Thanks for being so patient.

Your (anything but) fearless team leader, -Aaron
