I can't remember if I gave you all the last ML number for the additional information NJ submitted to resolve the comments - it's ML090770116. The matrix is in there too. They addressed everything. I've attached the table of the ML numbers for the package for your info., in case you want them.

Gary: (a) they added in the things they left out re: reactive inspections - included the lower level exposure ones. She accidentally switched them and put the higher ones in - those actually trigger their state response plan which would require them going out. (b) All of the information in the matrix from the 1/11/08 response still stands. they still have all of the website notification, listserve, etc. (c) licensing staff will be using a centralized data base to issue licenses - when they put program codes in, any events, new information, etc. pops up and they have to address that before they can actually issue a license. Given that the inspectors and licensing staff are the same people, with everything in the official file and the database, the notification should be fine. (d) they corrected the info they submitted in 7.06 and 7.05 - our MC1302 and 1301 - in line with your suggested changes.

Bruce: I think we talked about your comments regarding exemptions and expired licenses. Re: the line between diffuse and discrete - and NRC's jurisdiction - they are well aware of NRC's jurisdiction and that we will be regulating certain activation materials.

I think these are the big remaining comments you all had.
