don't forget - we have the OCA piece - OCA told me that Congress needs one day before it is in the FR. The minute I can have the FRN signed, I'll take the copies to OCA - Amy already knows it's pending and I'll remind her today. I have to check with ADM regarding the holiday - it may shift everything a day and we're trying to avoid publication on a Friday, just in case a glitch happens with the remaining 3 publications that jeopardizes noticing it for 4 consecutive weeks.

Publications told us that if we had it to them by COB Thursday, that it would be published the following Wednesday. I am not sure of the Memorial day effect on the publication but it should be published NLT Thursday if we can meet the Thursday COB time.

All Commission offices have approved Klein's recommended changes to the draft SRM so we could see a final shortly. Torre is already making the edits from the vote sheets.

If the SRM is issued tomorrow (Wednesday), when will the Agreement be published in the Federal Register?
