RE: Periodic Radioactive Device Product Transfer Report
 NRC License # 20-15285-03E
 Device Registration # NR-0668-D101-E

Dear Anthony,

The figures I am submitting to you today are based on an average of sales from the period of Jan. 1, 1995 to Dec. 31, 2001, since I was unable to find any prior records

Product Model	Time Period	Quantity
CPD7051	Sept. 1, 1992 – Dec. 31, 1994	85,976
Total Microcuries		60,183.2
CPD7052	Sept. 1, 1992 – Dec. 31, 1994	18,949
Total Microcuries		13,264.3

Note: Both models contain AM-241, 0.7  $\mu$ Ci

Mr. Mousseau,

Could you please make an estimate based on previous known distribution patterns, trending and current distribution profiles. Preface your submittal with the below explanation. Please send your exempt product distribution report by facsimile (301-415-5369) within the next two weeks for the period from the last report to the beginning of the report submitted by facsimile dated 5/31/02. The missing report would cover the period from 8/15/92 to 12/31/94.

Mr. Kirkwood,

It will be next to impossible for us to come up with the figures for those years and if we could it would not be accurate, and would take us great deal of time to get these figures since we only go back to 1995 on our computer system we would have to look through our archive of files.

RE: Device Registration NR-0668-D-101-E Amendment Request

In response to your e-mail dated 4-18-2002 this letter will address those questions in that letter.

Question # 1. You will find enclosed with this letter a copy of our ISO 9001 Certificate issued to us on August 20, 1999.

Question # 2. Kidde-Fenwal does not purchase sealed sources from Amersham. We have named Amersham in our licenses, certificates and other documents as a alternative to NRD. We would only purchase sealed sources from Amersham if NRD was unable to supply us. We have confirmed that the model numbers are still valid from both suppliers. NRD supplies us with model NRD A-001, and Amersham (now known as AEA Technologies) still supplies Nohmi with model AMMD -1001H. This is a sealed source mounted in a holder.

Question # 3. Kidde-Fenwal purchases these devices already assembled in there holders (sealed sources). The only assembly done here is mounting of the holder into the smoke chamber.

Question # 4. The letter dated November 27, 1991 describes in summary the quality guidelines for these detector assemblies. The procedures that are described in the letter are Kidde-Fenwal's procedures Nohmi Bosai Ltd also employs these procedures in their manufacturing process. We manufacture model CPD7052, and Nohmi manufactures model CPD7051. Each lot received from Nohmi is accompanied by quality conformance documentation, and Kidde-Fenwal performs their own quality conformance test procedures prior to distribution of these detectors in the U.S.

Question # 5. This question is answered in question # 4.

Question # 6. Kidde-Fenwal has been using LTPD of 5% and C=0 for all of the smoke detectors that we manufacture and distribute. One reject would fail the entire lot. Please note that we have been using the table in 10 CFR 32.110 (b)(6) but as stated in the original ameridment request, one reject will fail the entire lot no matter what the sample size. The table in 10 CFR allows 1 failure on a sample size of 2,001 to 100,000 pieces. The sampling sizes listed in this table are identical to the table found in NRC's regulatory guide 6.9, page C-6. Kidde-Fenwal will be referencing and following the guidelines in Regulatory Guide 6.9 as well as NUREG 1556 vol.3.

Question # 7. Quality records as they pertain to radioactive materials and radiation safety at Kidde-Fenwal are kept for many years. Records are kept in the office of the Radiation Safety Officer, and date back to the early 80's. Section 4.16 of the Quality manual will be revised.

Sincerely,
William E. Sawyer R.S.O.

Subject: Request for Additional Information No. 1

Good morning, Mr. Sawyer!

In order to complete your application, please provide the following information:

1. Your application stated that Kidde Fenwal has ISO 9001 certification. Please provide a copy of ISO 9001 certificate.
2. Please confirm that Nohmi Bosai Ltd uses Amersham AMM.1001 only (neither AMM.1001D nor AMM.1001H) and Kidde Fenwal NRD A-001 only.
3. Please provide source assembly procedures using NRD A-001 at Kidde Fenwal.
4. Please confirm that manufacturing processes of Kidde Fenwal in US is same as those of Nohmi Bosai Ltd. in Japan.
5. Please provide the Kidde Fenwal QA/QC procedures over Nohmi Bosai Ltd. Because NRC does not have legal authority for Nohmi Bosai Ltd, we have to rely on Kidde Fenwal QA/QC procedures including audits (frequency and scope).
6. NRC issued Regulatory Guidance (RG) 6.9, "Establishing Quality Assurance Programs for the Manufacture and Distribution of Sealed Sources and Devices Containing Byproduct Material" in February 1995. The Section 3.3.5, "Quality Control," of your 11/27/91 application is somewhat different from RG 6.9. Specifically, the sampling size of Lot Tolerance Percent Defective (LTPD) is different. The design conformance criteria was not specified in the 11/27/91 application. Please provide updated QA/QC procedures comparable to RG 6.9. Please refer Appendix C, "QC Program Specifications for the Manufacture and Distribution of Smoke Detector" for the sample size.
7. Please provide the quality records keeping duration in Section 4.16 of your quality manual ISO 9001. It should be 5 years or until NRC inspection, whichever longer.

Please submit the requested information within thirty days of the date of this letter. If we have not received complete information within thirty days of the date of this letter, we will consider your application as having been abandoned by you. This is without prejudice to the resubmission of a complete application

If you have any questions, please contact me at (301) 415-5787 or send me an e-mail to sjl@nrc.gov.

Thank you very much.
