1. Sample Positive Evaluation

SAMPLE POSITION EVALUATION
(as found in section B.1.2 of this task order)

POSITION EVALUATION

IT Assistant, GG-335-6
Information Resources Branch
Division of Resource Management and Administration

Background:

The Region has established an information technology (IT) help desk to provide customer assistance to employees who are experiencing IT software and hardware problems. The help desk troubleshoots and resolves problems in response to customer reported incidents. The incumbent of this position is a member of the help desk staff. Her position was previously classified as an Office Automation Assistant, GG-326-05. The position description was updated to show what current duties and responsibilities are assigned. Audits of the incumbent and the supervisor were conducted to gather and clarify facts about the position. The position was therefore evaluated to ensure proper title, series, and grade.

Reference:

- OPM Handbook of Occupational Groups and Families, GS-0326 -- Office Automation Clerical and Assistance Series, dated January 1999.
- OPM Handbook of Occupational Groups and Families, GS-0335 --Computer Assistant Series, dated January 1999.
- OPM Handbook of Occupational Groups and Families, GS-0303 --Miscellaneous Clerk and Assistant Series, dated January 1999.
- NRC Management Directive 10.37, NRC Appendix 4130-A, Pay Administration - Evaluation of Positions, GS- 1-15, dated April 30, 1980.

Series and Title Determination:

The primary purpose of this position is to provide first-line help desk support to the regional staff. This involves receiving first-line help desk calls, categorizing the nature of calls, tracking them, and solving those that are basic and clear-cut. Help desk calls of higher complexity are referred to technicians to handle.

In addition to the above duties, the incumbent also coordinates all regional video conference scheduling and set up which entails ensuring equipment availability, scheduling conference rooms for use in video conferencing, notifying participants of location of conference, and maintaining a schedule of upcoming conferences. The incumbent also performs some duties incidental to the information resources function such as assisting in maintaining time and attendance records and composing correspondence of a non-technical nature.

The position's current series, GS-326, is no longer appropriate. This series includes all positions which perform office automation work such as word processing either solely or in combination with general office clerical work. The primary duties of this position are more appropriately covered by the GS-335 series. This series includes positions that perform data processing support and services functions for users of digital computer systems or perform other support functions. The GS-303 series is not appropriate. This series is primarily used when no other series is appropriate.

The title IT Assistant is assigned to reflect the clerical work performed in the IT field. The term Assistant versus Clerk is assigned because of the position's grade level. Positions titled Assistant typically function at the GG-6 level and higher.

Grade Determination:

Basic Skills:

Degree 4, 180 Points

This factor measures the minimum amount of knowledge, mental ability, and manual skill required to perform the duties assigned to the position.

The incumbent of this position is required to have a basic knowledge of IT sufficient to provide simple, clear-cut, and basic first-line help desk support. They must have the ability to comprehend and follow general instructions and relay oral instructions accurately, and must also possess skill in meeting and dealing with persons at all levels within the organization.

The basic skills required by this position fall within the Degree 4 (180 - 225 points) range. The incumbent of the Regional position serves as a member of the IT help desk team and as such trouble shoots basic IT problems. The work requires the incumbent to understand the nature and cause of the user's problem and use judgment to determine the appropriate corrective action. The incumbent must also use judgment in deciding which problems are outside their scope of expertise and require referral to a higher graded IT Assistant or Specialist. At Degree 4, work requires knowledge of the principal techniques, work methods, or procedures involved in non-repetitive work. Activities are not controlled by well-defined procedures, and judgment is involved in getting the work done. This is the degree at which considerable clerical/technician judgment is required to carry out independently duties in a clerical or administrative field involving a wide body of instructions, procedures, and processes.

The basic skills of this position are comparable to those found in Benchmark S&C-130, Secretary, GS-318-6, 180 points. The incumbent in this benchmark, like the incumbent in the Regional position, must have organizational and subject matter knowledge sufficient to respond to staff inquiries. Because of the customer support aspect of the job, the incumbents in both positions must deal tactfully and effectively with people within and outside the organization. They must be able to follow general instructions and relay oral instructions accurately. In both positions, the incumbents must be cognizant as to when problems need to be referred to another person. Therefore, 180 points are assigned.

The basic skills of this position are not comparable to those found in Benchmark BAF-40, Voucher Examiner (Commercial Accounts), GG-540-6, 185 points. In this benchmark, the incumbent is required to know the statutes, Comptroller General Decisions, regulations, and policies governing their field of work and have the ability to apply them with judgment and discretion. By comparison, the incumbent in this position relies on rote memory, precedents, oral instructions and guidance to accomplish their work. In this benchmark, the incumbent handles unusual problems resulting from processing invoices. By comparison, the incumbent in this position will refer unusual problems to a higher graded employee for resolution.

Contacts:*Degree 3, 60 Points

This factor measures the type and level of contact normally required by the position in meeting and dealing with people inside or outside the organization.

The incumbent of this position has regular contacts with all regional employees to resolve "first-line" help desk calls. The incumbent also has contacts with members of the IRB staff to refer help desk calls of higher complexity, set up teleconference and arrange for materials in conjunction with such conferences.

The contacts found in this position fall within the Degree 3 (45 - 70 Points) range. Degree 3 contacts are for the purpose of resolving minor differences on relatively routine matters within the organization, to adjust factual discrepancies in reports or other data; or to obtain or give factual information susceptible to misinterpretation. If the position has contacts outside the agency, they require tact, diplomacy, and finesse to prevent damage to public relations, although on relatively routine matters involving giving and explaining factual information. In this position, the majority of the incumbent's contacts are with persons located within the Region and its resident sites. By comparison, the contacts in this position are not comparable to positions having Degree 4 contacts. At this level, contacts are with responsible persons of the NRC, license applicants, licensees, contractors, outside agencies, the press, or representatives of the public with respect to requesting information for use in analysis or resolving technical problems; or reconciling divergent views or negotiating agreement; or presenting the organization's position on matters which require explanation.

The contacts found in this position are comparable to those of Benchmark A&S-20, Travel Clerk, GS-2132-5, 60 points. In both positions the work is primarily of a service nature and the contacts are with all levels of staff to discuss and resolve a variety of routine problems. By comparison, the contacts in the Regional position are not comparable to those found in Benchmark A&S-30, Personnel Clerk, GS-203-6, 65 points. In this benchmark, continuous contacts are with the service population to convey information on a multitude of personnel policy and procedural questions. There are frequent contacts with officials in other Federal agencies to exchange information relative to policy on personnel actions. Therefore, 60 points are assigned.

Responsibility for Decisions:*Degree 2, 80 Points

This factor measures any decision which reflects the independent action required by the assigned function, from independently furnishing or securing information, to finally approving programs and policies.

The incumbent of this position is given specific instructions by the Branch Chief and uses standard policies and practices requiring some interpretation to respond to first-line help desk calls from users and independently solve basic and clear-cut IT problems. Errors in the incumbent's judgment or advice to users would frustrate users, waste their time, and delay their ability to gain immediate access to information to carry out work assignments.

The level of responsibility found in this position fall within the Degree 2 (70 - 90 Points) range. In this degree, decisions are generally based on specific instructions and standards, some interpretation is required because of the non-routine nature of the work or the variety of regulations, procedures, or instructions which must be applied. Resulting errors may not be immediately apparent but usually would be revealed in subsequent operations of that particular office and would result in minor confusion and delay or loss of materials. By comparison, the level of responsibility found in this position is not comparable to those having Degree 3 responsibility. Degree 3 decisions require constant interpretation of existing standards and procedures and their adaptation without guidance to problems of normal complexity. Errors would cause confusion, delay, or waste of materials in several offices.

Again, Benchmark A&S-20, Travel Clerk, GS-2132-5, 80 points is an appropriate match. In both positions, independence is exercised in making decisions with regard to solving routine problems consistent with standards and guides. Benchmark A&S-30, Personnel Clerk, GS-203-6, 85 points, is not an appropriate match. Here the incumbent uses judgment in the application of a wide variety of Federal regulations and other government-wide guidelines, and standards where agency guidelines may not address all pertinent aspects. Therefore, 80 points are assigned.

Supervision Exercised:

The incumbent exercises no supervision. Therefore, this factor is not considered in the evaluation of the position.

Working Conditions:

Degree 1, 5 Points

This factor measures the surrounding and physical conditions under which the job must be performed which have an effect on individual performance, and the extent to which these conditions make the job disagreeable or hazardous. The incumbent of this position works in a typical office environment where there is adequate heating, lighting, and ventilation. The number of points assigned for work situations such as this is 5.

Effort:

Degree 1, 5 Points

This factor measures the physical demand or the stamina required in the job performance and the extent to which work includes unusual or physical fatigue, or demands physical effort or endurance. The work places no unusual physical demands on the employee. The job requires no heavy lifting, excessive walking, climbing, crouching, or stooping. The number of points assigned for effort such as this is 5.

Summary:

Basic Skills	180
Contacts	60
Responsibility for Decisions	80
Supervision Exercised	0
Working Conditions	5
Effort	5
Total	330

Total points assigned under grade determination is 330. Under the Conversion Table - Total Point Score to Grade on pg. 51 of reference 3.b., 330 points equates to a GG-6 grade.

Final Determination: IT Assistant, GG-335-06.
