Dave,

Attached are some change pages to update the LA and ISAS for ASME B31.3 to allow us use through code year 2006. The project has performed an equivalency analysis on the later versions such that we do not believe this is a reduction in the level of effectiveness of the design basis commitments with respect to the use of the later versions of the code.
We would like to include this change in the current update.

If you have any questions, please let me know.

Dealis
