SUBJECT: MEETING SUMMARY FOR PUBLIC MEETING TO DISCUSS THE DRAFT NUREG-0654/FEMA-REP-1, SUPPLEMENT 3, "GUIDANCE
FOR PROTECTIVE ACTION RECOMMENDATIONS FOR GENERAL EMERGENCIES"

On June 9, 2010, the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) staff held a Category 3 public meeting at the Radisson Hotel La Crosse in La Crosse, Wisconsin. The purpose of the meeting was to provide an opportunity for members of the public to discuss the draft NUREG-0654/FEMA-REP-1, Supplement 3, "Guidance for Protective Action Recommendations for General Emergencies," with NRC and Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) representatives. The presentation given by NRC staff is available in the Agencywide Documents Access and Management System, Accession Number ML101650414. Meeting attendees, either in person or participating by teleconference and/or webconferencing, included NRC and FEMA staff, the Nuclear Energy Institute (NEI), industry representatives, state and local emergency response representatives, and the general public. A list of attendees is enclosed.

NRC staff stated that this meeting was the first of a series of additional public meetings for the draft Supplement 3. NRC staff presented background material, the technical basis and described elements of the draft Supplement 3. NRC staff discussed a hypothetical example of a Protective Action Recommendations (PAR) logic diagram for a typical low population site. After presentations, comments and questions by the public were taken. This led to discussion of a few key topics such as: heightened preparedness as a protective action; regulatory oversight of the guidance implementation; and, the PAR logic diagram.

Two more public meetings are scheduled. These meetings will take place on July 19, 2010 in Wilmington, DE and on July 21, 2010 in Tampa, FL.
