Victor Cusumano requested that I transmit this copy to you for a fact check review. This version is as conveyed by Victor to me, except that all track changes and comments have been removed. Therefore, the attached copy is clean and ready for you to comment or otherwise correct or supplement.

I noted the presence of highlight and colored font, which I have retained, and I noted that some text selections were under active discussions via comments that I removed. Therefore, if you encounter content that is not as expected, I suggest contacting Kristy, while Vic is on leave, to determine its status.

A version of the attachment and other supporting information are being processed into assigned ADAMS document locations to enhance document control until the entire document is ready for issuance.
