Hello everyone;

For your information, attached is the latest version of the CR list of questions and responses from the site's "L" drive. It is the version that I used during last week's team discussion and does not have the comments we made during the conference call.

Also, I remind everyone that since we are spending more time off site, it becomes harder to put the time in required to complete the review of these questions. We get caught up doing work on other assignments; (example - I spent 2 days working on a Dresden LR report). Let me know asap if this is a problem. I don't want us to all of a sudden find that the site is ready to start de-tensioning and we are not far enough in our reviews to support it.
