Chairman Gregory B. Jaczko
Nuclear Regulatory Commission
11545 Rockville Pike
Rockville, MD 20852

Dear Chairman Jaczko:

On July 8, the President named the ten members of the Council of the Administrative Conference, taking one of the final steps toward reviving an agency that has long received the support of good government forces across the political spectrum. A copy of his statement is enclosed. Our next step is the appointment of the remaining government and non-government members of the Conference, so that we can move forward in what the President recognized as “a public-private partnership designed to make government work better.”

The Administrative Conference Act includes among these members “the chairman of each independent regulatory board or commission or an individual designated by [such] board or commission.” 5 U.S.C. § 593(b)(2). I very much hope that you will seriously consider participating personally as a statutory member of the Conference. However, in the event that time does not permit you to do so, I urge that you select as your designee someone on your senior staff with both a keen interest in administrative law issues and the ability to devote time to active participation in the work of our committees and plenary sessions as we consider recommendations for possible reform of federal administrative processes.

My staff will be following up with your office to identify who will be representing the Commission on the Conference and to answer any questions you may have about how it operates. I look forward to working with you on this renewed venture, and I welcome any ideas you may have about possible areas for study by the Conference based on your experience with the administrative process.

Sincerely,

Paul R. Verkuil
