Dear Dr. Peter B. Lyons,

I am writing to seek your advice and guidance after I read your speech at Istanbul, Turkey January 18, 2008.

You mentioned "Another example of NRC collaboration on new reactor licensing is our bilateral agreement with China for regular technical exchanges with its nuclear regulator on the licensing and construction of Westinghouse AP1000 reactors. As global nuclear power plant licensing and construction activities expand using new globally standardized reactor designs, we should also find new ways to expand our global regulatory exchanges."

I would very much like to meet and to talk with you and your associates if you would visit China and also during my next trip to the United States which I anticipate will be later 2008.

Sincerely
Faith Wang
