
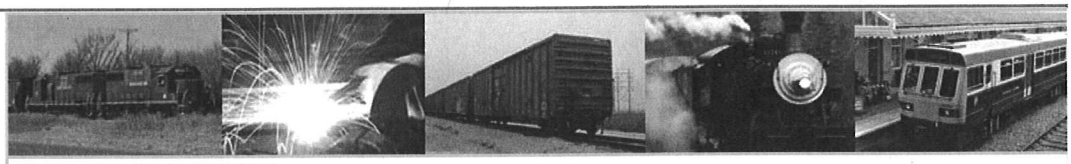
Arizona Eastern Railways
Chicago Terminal Railroad
Iowa Pacific Holdings
Mt. Hood Railroad
Rio Grande Scenic Railroad
San Luis & Rio Grande Railroad
Texas-New Mexico Railroad
West Texas & Lubbock Railway

To report a crossing problem or RAILROAD EMERGENCY, please call toll free:

888-783-4316



Home ▸ Texas-New Mexico Railroad

Texas-New Mexico Railroad

The Texas – New Mexico Railroad (TNMR) operates 104 miles of railroad extending from a Union Pacific connection at Monahans, TX to Lovington, New Mexico. The railroad serves the oil fields of west Texas and southeast New Mexico. The primary commodities hauled are oilfield chemicals and minerals, construction aggregates, industrial waste and scrap.

History

The TNMR was completed in 1930 as a subsidiary of the Texas and Pacific Railway (TP). The primary purpose of the TNMR was to serve the oil fields in west Texas and southeastern New Mexico. The TP was under financial control of the Missouri Pacific Railway (MP) beginning in 1928. In 1976, the MP completely merged the TP. In 1982, the MP was, in turn, merged into the Union Pacific Railroad (UP). UP sold the TNMR to shortline operator RailTex (RT) in 1989. In 1999, RT merged with another shortline holding company, RailAmerica (RA). RA sold the TNMR to Permian Basin Railways on May 25, 2002.

Maps

At a Glance

Reporting Marks	TMNR
Miles of Track	104.28
Cities Served/ Transloading Facilities Available All stations have siding(s) for liquid and/or bulk transfer.	Monahans, TX Kermit, TX Jal, NM Combest, NM Eunice, NM Hobbs, NM freight dock / warehouse Lovington, NM freight dock / warehouse

Counties Served	Ward, TX Winkler, TX Lea, NM
Locomotives Operated	Three EMD GP-35M One EMD GP-7
Freight Cars Operated	28 gondolas marked TMNR 2 flat cars marked TMN
Service Frequency	Six days per week
Car Storage Capacity - Visit Car Storage	500 50-foot cars
Railroad Connections	Union Pacific Railroad at Monahans, TX
Commodities Transported	Chemicals Waste Soil Petroleum Products Rock Scrap

Tariffs

- TNMR 6000-B
- TNMR 6000-B Supp 1

Contact Information

Operating Office
821 West Broadway
Brownfield, TX 79316
Voice: 806-637-8323
Fax: 806-637-8074

Business Office
118 South Clinton St., Suite 400
Chicago, IL 60661
Voice: 312-466-0900
Fax: 312-466-9589