AFFIDAVIT

STATE OF SOUTH CAROLINA

COUNTY OF RICHLAND

Before me, the undersigned authority, personally appeared C. D. Alstadt, who, being by me duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is authorized to execute this Affidavit on behalf of Westinghouse Electric Company LLC (Westinghouse), and that the averments of fact set forth in this Affidavit are true and correct to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief:

Cary D. Alstadt, Vice President

Nuclear Fuel

Sworn to and subscribe before me

this 4th day of January 2011

Notary Public

My Commission Expires October 12, 2020

- (1) I am the Acting Vice President, Nuclear Fuel, Westinghouse Electric Company LLC "Westinghouse", and as such, I have been specifically delegated the function of reviewing the proprietary information sought to be withheld from public disclosure in connection with Westinghouse submittals to NRC, and am authorized to apply for its withholding on behalf of Westinghouse.
- (2) I am making this Affidavit in conformance with the provisions of 10 CFR Section 2.390 of the Commission's regulations and in conjunction with the Westinghouse "Application for Withholding" accompanying this Affidavit.
- (3) I have personal knowledge of the criteria and procedures utilized by Westinghouse in designating information as a trade secret, privileged or as confidential commercial or financial information.
- (4) Pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b)(4) of Section 2.390 of the Commission's regulations, the following is furnished for consideration by the Commission in determining whether the information sought to be withheld from public disclosure should be withheld.
 - (i) The information sought to be withheld from public disclosure is owned and has been held in confidence by Westinghouse.
 - (ii) The information is of a type customarily held in confidence by Westinghouse and not customarily disclosed to the public. Westinghouse has a rational basis for determining the types of information customarily held in confidence by it and, in that connection, utilizes a system to determine when and whether to hold certain types of information in confidence. The application of that system and the substance of that system constitute Westinghouse policy and provide the rational basis required.

Under that system, information is held in confidence if it falls in one or more of several types, the release of which might result in the loss of an existing or potential competitive advantage, as follows:

 - (a) The information reveals the distinguishing aspects of a process (or component, structure, tool, method, etc.) where prevention of its use by any of Westinghouse's competitors without license from Westinghouse constitutes a competitive economic advantage over other companies.
 - (b) It consists of supporting data, including test data, relative to a process (or component, structure, tool, method, etc.), the application of which data secures a competitive economic advantage, e.g., by optimization or improved marketability.
 - (c) Its use by a competitor would reduce his expenditure of resources or improve his competitive position in the design, manufacture, shipment, installation, assurance of quality, or licensing a similar product.
 - (d) It reveals cost or price information, production capacities, budget levels, or commercial strategies of Westinghouse, its customers or suppliers.
 - (e) It reveals aspects of past, present, or future Westinghouse or customer funded development plans and programs of potential commercial value to Westinghouse.
 - (f) It contains patentable ideas, for which patent protection may be desirable.

There are sound policy reasons behind the Westinghouse system which include the following:

- (a) The use of such information by Westinghouse gives Westinghouse a competitive advantage over its competitors. It is, therefore, withheld from disclosure to protect the Westinghouse competitive position.
 - (b) It is information which may provide Westinghouse's competitors with information on the methods and procedures which Westinghouse uses to fulfill regulatory and licensing obligations. The extent to which such information is available to competitors may diminish the need of Westinghouse competitors to develop such methods and procedures without comparable investment of time and resources.
 - (c) Use by our competitors would put Westinghouse at a competitive disadvantage by reducing our competitor's expenditures of resources by allowing them to build upon or utilize methods and procedures developed by Westinghouse at great expense.
- (iii) The information is being transmitted to the Commission in confidence and, under the provisions of 10 CFR Section 2.390, it is to be received in confidence by the Commission.
 - (iv) The information sought to be protected is not available in public sources or available information has not been previously employed in the same original manner or method to the best of our knowledge and belief.
 - (v) The proprietary information sought to be withheld in this submittal are reports referenced within the Safety Analysis Report of the "Submittal of Docket 71-9297, Amendment Application - Certificate of Compliance No. USA/9297/AF-96 for Model No. TRAVELLER," dated November 19, 2010, being transmitted by Westinghouse Electric Company letter (LCPT-11-01) and Application for Withholding Proprietary Information From Public Disclosure, from Peter J. Vescovi, Westinghouse, Licensing, Compliance and Package Technology to the attention of R. Johnson, Chief, Licensing Branch, Division of Spent Fuel Storage and Transportation. The proprietary information as submitted by Westinghouse Electric Company is that referenced in the Safety Analysis Report for Docket 71-9297 as SFAD-09-184, Revision 1 (May 24, 2010) "ER-09-6 -Engineering Review Package for Revised Traveller Shear Lip" and SFAD-10-72, Revision 2 (July 6, 2010), "Analysis of a Traveller XL Package in a Hypothetical Bottom-Down Impact With 17X17 STD Fuel and Spacer Assembly."

Public disclosure of this proprietary information is likely to cause substantial harm to the competitive position of Westinghouse because it would enhance the ability of competitors to address similar safety, regulatory and licensing issues without commensurate expenses. Also, public disclosure of the information would enable others to use the information to meet NRC requirements without purchasing the right to use the information.

In order for competitors of Westinghouse to duplicate this information, similar technical and procedural programs would have to be developed and a significant manpower effort, having the requisite talent and experience, would have to be expended.

Further the deponent sayeth not.

With respect to the non-proprietary versions of such documents, the NRC is permitted to make the number of copies beyond those necessary for its internal use which are necessary in order to have one copy available for public viewing in the appropriate docket files in the public document room in Washington, DC and in local public document rooms as may be required by NRC regulations if the number of copies submitted is insufficient for this purpose.
