To Whom It May Concern:

Please find enclosed a copy of proposed Planned Unit Development No. 2011-001 for your review and comment. Applicant requests approval of a Planned Unit Development (PUD) for the "Colorado Clean Energy Park," to establish electrical energy generating facilities including wind, solar, geothermal, nuclear and others (excluding coal fired plants). The proposal also involves associated infrastructure, storage and support facilities. The site is 24,000 acres in size, and is currently zoned A-1, Agricultural. It is located generally south of Grape Rd., east of Huerfano Rd. in eastern Pueblo County. Site location: Approximately 24,000 acres of land SE of the City of Pueblo currently zoned agricultural (see legal description attached as Exhibit A).

Actions requested:

1. Approve deferring amendment of the Comprehensive Plan in accordance with the Development Plan.
2. Approve the application of a Planned Unit Development for the land involved including phasing in accordance with the submitted Development Plan.
3. Approve the submitted Development Plan which includes certain deferrals, variances and waivers as set forth therein.
4. Determine that there is a vested real property right to develop the land included in the Colorado Clean Energy Park in accordance with the Development Plan, contingent only on compliance with the Development Plan.

Existing and proposed facilities, structures, roads, etc.: the land is primarily vacant, agricultural land all of which is zoned A-1. The proposed facilities include any and every manner of producing energy excluding coal fired electric plants including but not limited to wind, solar, geothermal, nuclear, gas and other forms of electric energy production and energy storage and support facilities. The land will not be used for residential uses or for retail sales uses other than the possible retail sale of electric energy. A 700 acre site for location of a nuclear power generation facility will be identified after extensive land studies. This site will be surrounded by a minimum buffer zone of open space consisting of 4000 or more acres. Once this site is identified the remaining land will be used for a) a solar array; b) a wind farm and alternate energy production to supplement the solar and wind energies; c) energy storage facilities; and d) support facilities. All road and access design will be submitted when the site for a nuclear power plant is identified as proposed in the Development Plan.

Very truly yours,

COLORADO CLEAN ENERGY PARK
PLANNED UNIT DEVELOPMENT PLAN WITH PHASING

I. The Colorado Clean Energy Park will be developed in three (3) phases.

Phase 1: Preliminary Investigative Phase. During this phase the Applicant will:

- A. Conduct land studies and water studies to determine if the proposed Energy Park and available water are suitable for energy production and the support facilities necessary for the Permitted Uses as set forth below in II.a.
- B. Identify a specific site for the location of a nuclear power plant and its related buffer zone.
- C. Identify specific sites for the location of a wind farm and solar fields.

Phase 1 will begin upon approval of the PUD Application.

Prior to the commencement of Phase 2, and upon notice by the Applicant to Pueblo County that the property is suitable for a Clean Energy Park, Pueblo County will initiate and process to completion an amendment to the Comprehensive Plan for this area of Pueblo County.

Phase 2: NRC Compliance Phase. Phase 2 will begin no later than 30 months after Phase 1 begins. Within the first 24 months of this Phase 2, Applicant will submit to Pueblo County Planning and Development those items for which a deferral is being requested herein in paragraph II a. showing the specific site for construction of a nuclear power plant (approximately 700 acres), a buffer zone around the site as well as proposed sites for a wind farm, solar fields and additional energy related development, storage and support facilities. As soon as practical after submitting all materials and documentation required to the Pueblo County Planning and Development office, a hearing will be held before the Pueblo County Commissioners, after notice to all landowners within 500 feet of the property, to determine the acceptability of the proposed location of the proposed energy generating, storage and support improvements and the infrastructure necessary to provide access to them. The County Commissioners shall not receive evidence or make a further determination about the proposed uses of the property; their determination shall be limited to whether or not the improvement locations and infrastructure providing access to those improvements are acceptable to the County. During this Phase 2 determination will be made by the Applicant as to what clean energy sources should be built on the property and Applicant will pay an application fee reimbursing the Pueblo County Planning and Development office its costs.

During Phase 2, after receipt of all of the required materials submitted to it by the Applicant, the Pueblo County Commissioners shall determine if any 1041 Permit is required. If such a permit is required, the Applicant shall submit an application for same which application shall be determined simultaneously with the hearing described above before the Pueblo County Commissioners to determine the acceptability of the proposed location of improvements and access routes.

After receiving approval from the County Commissioners, the Applicant (or its assignee) will apply to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission for approval to construct the energy generating, storage and support improvements and infrastructure on the property. During this phase all plans for on-site and off-site infrastructure will be designed in accordance with Pueblo County design standards and those standards required by Federal law. During this phase plans for an on-site water treatment plant and on-site sewage disposal plant and other on-site energy production and storage and support facilities will be designed in accordance with Nuclear Regulatory Commission specifications to serve the needs of improvements to be located on the property.

Phase 2 will end upon approval of the land and water by the Nuclear Regulatory Agency for development of a nuclear power production facility on the site identified.

Phase 3: Construction Phase. This Phase 3 will commence immediately upon completion of Phase 2. During this phase all on-site and off-site infrastructure and on-site improvements for the nuclear power plant and related support facilities will be constructed. Additional energy production and storage facilities may be constructed simultaneously during this Phase 3 or may be deferred to a later time.

II. Deferrals, Variances and Waivers requested:

- a. Variance of 17.126.040 to allow the deferral to the first 24 months of Phase 2 the submission of i) those parts of the Development Plan Submittal Requirements set forth in 17.126.040 B. 1. d. through m., the map anticipated in said submittal requirements and ii) Submittal Requirements set forth in 17.126.040 C. 2 and 3 and the map anticipated in said submittal requirements. Note: the Applicant will submit with the Application a list of ownership of adjoining land use and ownership of adjoining property and zoning within five-hundred (500) feet of the exterior boundary of the subject property
- b. Variance of 17.128.060 to reduce the cost upon filing the Application to $100.00 and defer payment of other costs and fees as provided above in Paragraph I, Phase 2.
- c. Include within Permitted Uses in 17.126.020 all forms of energy production and storage and support facilities with the exception of coal fired electric plants.
- d. Modification of Design Standards set forth in 17.126.130 for all site, design, construction or other applicable requirements to comply with Federal law and regulations dealing with the site location, design and construction of nuclear power plants.
- e. Variance for maximum height of structures as set forth in 17.126.030 D. to allow structures to be 300 feet in height to accommodate containment

- dome for nuclear power plant and 350 feet in height for wind towers and communication towers.
- f. Variance for noise standard to be no more than 55db of noise within 3000 feet of any structure not related to wind generation.
 - g. Variance of 17.126.150 to allow the property to revert back to its zoning as of the date of the PUD Application associated with this Development Plan if a) at the conclusion of Phase 1 it is determined that the land is not suitable for clean energy production as determined by the Applicant or b) at the conclusion of Phase 2 the Nuclear Regulatory Commission fails to issue a permit for construction of a nuclear power plant.
 - h. Variance of duration of Approval as set forth in 17.128.040 to provide that if Phase 1 is completed within thirty months of approval, Phase 2 may be completed within seventy-two months (six years) of approval. Phase 3 may be completed within one-hundred and thirty-two months (11 years) of approval.
 - i. Variance of 17.126.040 to accept the submittals set forth in paragraph IV. hereof and attached to this Development Plan as satisfying the Submittal Requirements sufficient to proceed with the Application.
 - j. There are five parcels of land surrounded by the land included in the Colorado Clean Energy Park. Three are owned by the United States government and two are owned privately. The Applicant is in contact with these owners and hopes to acquire these parcels and add them to the legal description in the future. The United States government has indicated that this process could take over a year to complete.

III. Justification for Deferrals, Variances and Waivers.

The Colorado Clean Energy Park is a unique concept that can change the course of history in Pueblo County. The development of such an energy park can be as significant to this County and its inhabitants in this century as the construction of the CF&I Steel Mill was in the previous century. A developer of any nuclear power plant will spend between five to eight million dollars ($5M-$8M) during Phase 1 investigating the suitability of the land and sources of water. Assuming the land and water are suitable for construction of a nuclear power plant the developer will spend another one-hundred million dollars ($100M) in complying with the regulatory requirements of the Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The benefits of having a Colorado Clean Energy Park in our community include: a) up to 5,000 construction jobs for a 4 to 5 year period...jobs that would pay Davis-Bacon wages; b) 500 to 700 permanent jobs on-site, and an additional 1,500 to 2,000 jobs off-site. The jobs on-site that would pay average wages significantly higher than the current average wage in Pueblo and would provide jobs that can't be relocated outside of the community; c) significant sales, use taxes that would benefit the community; and d) significant property taxes that would generate as much as $27M in tax revenue annually for the County, allowing expansion of programs important to our community or alternatively, reduction in the overall mill levy assessed by the County, benefitting the entire community.

These benefits justify the County allowing the deferrals, variances and waivers requested by the Applicant. The Applicant has used the terminology "waivers" to coincide with the language of the County regulations, but in this Development Plan no "waiver" is being requested, merely deferral of certain regulatory submittals until it is determined that the project can move forward and variances that would allow construction of the components needed in a nuclear power plant. All Nuclear Regulatory Commission standards that are more stringent than Pueblo County standards will be complied with. All Pueblo County standards that are more stringent than the Nuclear Regulatory Commission standards will be complied with. Any conflict between safety standards will be resolved by complying with the Federal standards which preempt local standards.

IV. Submittals with this Development Plan include:

- a. A Vicinity Map, north arrow and date of preparation attached as Exhibit B in compliance with 17.126.040 B.1.b.
- b. A complete legal description of the property attached as Exhibit A in compliance with 17.126.040 B.1.c.
- c. A map showing the property described in the legal description, attached as Exhibit C.
- d. A listing of the Pueblo County Assessor's tax schedule numbers for each parcel of property described in the legal description attached as Exhibit D.
- e. A listing of all property owners within 500 feet of the exterior boundary of the property showing the land use of each owner attached as Exhibit E.
- f. Consents authorizing Donald J. Banner to act on behalf of owner of property described in legal description.

V. Additional Information:

Applicant is acting as agent for the landowners and does not own the property which is the subject of this application. Applicant's company, Puebloans For Energizing Our Community, has a contract to purchase the property. Should the project move forward, Applicant will seek a company that specializes in the construction of energy generating facilities and Applicant will assign the contract to said company. The assignee will provide the engineering, technical review and design for all improvements and pay all fees associated with this application and construction of the improvements. Applicant's company is wholly controlled by Donald J. Banner and no third parties have any economic interest in Applicant's company.
