Hi Haimanot,

Sorry I didn't get back with you sooner - it was a hectic week.

I agree this document is a site specific EIS which happens to be NRCs Supplement to your Generic EIS. The site specific EIS works for us.. I will check on the scoping but we will do some scoping based on who has already showed interest in the document and we will also send some media release to the newspapers to let them know. I will send you the letter and the newsrelease prior to sending them out for your review.

I am still trying to put together the Cost Recovery for the BLM for Powertech so the labor costs in the preplan may change.

I think that is all that you mentioned in your messages. I will be out of the office Tuesday through Thursday and in a meeting part of Monday afternoon but if you need more information, please let me know.

Haimanot,

We may need to consider the ethnographic report as part of our EIS evaluation – so I think it is important to track it down. See if BLM has it.

Think about:

36 CFR 800.4(b)(1) The standard for identification is a "reasonable and good faith effort" to identify historic properties, depending on a variety of factors (including, but not limited to, previous identification work). Appropriate identification may include background research, consultation, oral history interviews, sample field investigation, and field survey.

Thanks,

Patty

I have a CD copy of the project, in fact it is also online; but it does not have the report (just the summary of the report referenced in the EIS). I called my BLM counterpart and left a message for her to see if we can get a copy of the Sprague report. I will let you know what she says once I hear back from her. Mean while, here is the web link for the Dewey Conveyor Project

Hi Haimanot,

I spoke with Mike Fosha and he indicated that an ethnographic study had been done in the Dewey-Burdock area. It was undertaken as part of a cultural resources study for a cement facility adjacent to D-B.

The report was conducted by Donovan Sprague for a proposed Dewey Conveyor Project in 2008. See pp. 5-6 of the attachment.

Mike told me that he obtained a summary of the report from BLM. Would you be able to contact your BLM contacts and see if we could get a copy of the Sprague report?
