Hello Steven, thanks a ton for your responses on these information requests. I know that they are not the most pleasant items to look into.

Hey, besides the serial number, I also needed the activity of the Ir-192 source used during the treatment. Would you happen to have that item of detail? Thank you,

Dante

Closure information for NMED Event Report No. 070612

On December 11, 2007, you requested additional information on the above NMED Record. On December 28, 2007, I provided some of the information requested and stated that the action should be held open based on an enforcement panel being held to determine the enforcement action. The panel has opted for a standard NOV being issued (ML080230315).

The last piece of information you require is:

What is the serial number of the HDR unit?

The serial number is VS381.

The licensee response letter has not arrived but NRC management feels that this record may be closed. If you require further information, you may contact me.
