Breeda,

We will change it to "could" for consistency with the regulation and submit it in Rev. 6.

Jim

Subject: QAPD

Hi Jim,

Just to followup on my phone call.

Revision 5 of the QAPD, Page vi:

Under the definition for "Basic Component for QA Level 1 and QA Level 2 applications," in the fourth line, the QAPD states "...in this chapter, order, or license issued by the Commission would create a substantial safety hazard...", the "would" is not consistent with the regulations under Part 21. The regulations use the term "... could create a substantial safety hazard."

Let me know how AES wants to address or if you'd like to discuss with the reviewer.

Thanks,

Breeda
