Subject: Acquisition of another license

The licensee had called me on May 25th to inform that they are acquiring two additional gauges from another licensee and requested information regarding amending the license to include these gauges. At that time he did not tell me that the gauges will remain stored at the same location as authorized on another license. Therefore, I informed him that he needs to send a letter providing the model numbers of the gauges.

On May 26, Mike Perkins told me about the licensee's letter that indicated that the licensee is acquiring the assets of another licensee and the gauges will remain stored at the same location. I called the licensee to inform him that NRC cannot authorize the same location on two different licenses and that they need to coordinate with the other company so that they can terminate their license concurrent with amendment to their license. I guided him to NRC web site to get NUREG 1556, Vol 15 to review information regarding transfer of control. I told him that if the other company requests termination of their license and his company assumes responsibility of the other licensee's activities, then they should provide the information required in Section 5 of the NUREG.

He will send the requested information soon.
