Subject: Documentation of Training

The licensee requested change of RSO. The documentation submitted to support their request included certificates of training of the individual. However, it appeared that the individual completed the training on-line. I called the licensee to verify if this was the case, and if so, they need to provide documentation of the individual's hands-on training.

The licensee (Larry Keller) responded to my request and confirmed that he completed his training on-line and that he had used gauges few years back. I requested him to have his management send a letter confirming that he was familiar and had experience with the operations and safety procedures for the gauges.

He agreed to have his management send the requested letter. I provided him with DNMS' fax number and control number.
