Craig Sly, Dominion Licensing for Kewaunee called today to convey their plans regarding the timing of a commitment letter. The key question for which Kewaunee seeks a response (via return message or a conference call) is:

To meet NRC expectations Does Dominion-Kewaunee have to accelerate its schedule for issuing a commitment letter?

If Dominion does not have to accelerate its decision making, it is currently proceeding as follows:

1. On or before 7/08/2011 = decide to accelerate internally Dominion's decision and commitment letter, if NRC expectation is to do so. Otherwise,
2. On or before 7/15/2011 = reach internal decision whether to issue NFPA-805 plan by 7/29/11, or 8/31/11, or 9/30/11. To accomplish this decision, Dominion needs to assess progress and estimate a completion date. 7/15/2011 is the date by when Dominion currently believes it can estimate such a completion date
3. On or before 7/18/2011 = issue the subject commitment letter, based on the decision made by Dominion..

This information (above) expands on the attached document (7/1/2011, 3:06 PM, Sly to Feintuch). Some of you are out of the office on leave at this time. I would like to respond to the 7/8/2011, milestone within this week. As a practical matter, accelerating the schedule to meet our expectation moves it forward by approximately one calendar week faster than their currently planning would.

All, see attached. This just came in from Craig. We probably need a conference call early next week to address this email as our agenda. I am aware via all the "out of office" responses that you will not see this until next week. I have leave on Tue-Wed but 415-3079 routes to my cell phone.

Craig Sly (Dominion corporate for Kewaunee) called me in response to my emailed enquiry. Your speculation (“they may be under the impression that they do not need to submit a commitment letter”) was correct. Sly had based his inaction on an interpretation within the SECY paper in combination with an earlier communication pertaining specifically to Kewaunee.

I don’t want to portray (or misrepresent) how he came to not provide that commitment letter, so I asked him to explain in an email what happened. Something in our communications is still confusing to him. After I forward his communication to you as “reply all,” we will have the agenda for a conference call next week, if that is indicated by his response.

Subject: NFPA 805 Commitment Letters from Kewaunee and Waterford

Karl/Kaly - With the exception of Waterford and Kewaunee, we have received NFPA 805 commitment letters from all the non-pilot plants. Can you both ask your licensee when we should expect to see their commitment letter?

Kaly – We are expecting Waterford’s submittal in September. We also understand we may need to have a phone call to discuss alternate PRA methods.

Karl – There may be some confusion regarding whether Kewaunee. We expect their submittal by July 29 and they may be under the impression that they do not need to submit a commitment letter. However, since they did not meet the June 29 date, we were expecting a letter from them.

Also, FYI, I will be out of the office next week. Thus, please respond to Harry, Paul, and Alex.

Thanks - Doug
