Thanks, Bob, for the feedback on the site visit and especially Jason's role.

The Surry visit went really well. We will meet with Charlie soon to go over the technical stuff and how to document this site visit. I have very limited time over the next few weeks because of my other responsibilities but this visit and Peach Bottom was very fruitful, not only from SOARCA's perspective but for the licensees' as well. I believe that they learned a lot and recognized what they gained from our visits. Both sites provided great support.

I also want you to know that Jason did a great job yesterday and at PB. Besides the strong technical support to the project, he led both visits and did a great job communicating and opening up the licensees. His leadership and communication skills was the primary reason for our success at both sites and his management should know that.

Sincerely,
