Importance: High

Good afternoon, Alan –

I received a call this morning from Wast'e win (pronounced Wast-ay-wee) Young advising that the Standing Rock tribe has a conflict on November 2-3 and will be unable to attend the consultation. I asked her to be sure to let you know, as well.

Please see the email below from Steve Vance of the Cheyenne River tribe, indicating that he is holding off on committing to attendance until he has a feel for the other tribes that will be attending. Can you provide me with an updated list of the tribes that have responded to you?

As always, please don't hesitate to contact me if you have any questions or concerns.

Best regards,

Good morning Melissa,

I am now back at my desk and I received an email this morning from Wast'e win Young stating that Standing Rock may not be able to attend the meeting due to conflict with other commitments. I told her that I would attend any meeting where there is enough Tribal representation for the ancestral territory, to which your proposed project is within. This was also stated at the recent meeting of THPO's of the Great Plains region.

I said I would have an answer for you tomorrow as to Cheyenne Rivers attendance and until the other THPO's respond to my email I am not committing our presence.

I will let you know as soon as I receive further information.

Have a good day.

Steve

Good morning, Steve – it was a pleasure visiting with you today regarding the upcoming Section 106 Tribal Site Walkover and Consultation for Strata Energy's Ross Uranium ISR Project. It is my understanding that you may have a conflict that would prevent you and several other tribal THPOs from attending the consultation planned for November 2-3. I appreciate your willingness to raise the question at your meeting with THPOs from other tribes this week, and I will give you a call on Friday as discussed to follow up.

For your information, I have included below an email received last week from the NRC with attachments detailing the agenda for the site walkover and subsequent consultations. We look forward to meeting you in the near future and to working with you throughout the Section 106 process.

Best regards,

For Strata Energy:
