Nasser,

Here are the absolute last questions:

1. Item 6.A. of the license will be written as follows:

Any byproduct material	Any	200
millicuries per radionuclide
with atomic numbers 3 through 83 and		and 15
curies total half life of less than 120 days

Will 200 millicuries be adequate to cover all of your diagnostic and therapeutic radiopharmaceuticals? Please indicate a possession limit that will include all of these activities as well as any research, etc. that may be ongoing.

2. With regards to your instrument calibration, discuss how the RSC and/or the RSO, as appropriate, will assure that instruments are properly calibrated at prescribed frequencies.

Please e-mail me your response by noon Tuesday, May 29th.

Have a good weekend,
