<http://lhalevy.audioacrobat.com/download/2f0a66af-45fc-fc60-abff-c9ea36649f02.mp3>

Nuclear Hotseat Exclusive: Special panel discussion on The Roy Process for Neutralization and Elimination of Nuclear Waste. Is this the missing technology for ultimately getting rid of the radioactive byproducts of the nuclear industry?

Learn about the process, the doubts, the tantalizing possibilities, and what stands in the way of this potentially game-changing nuclear technology. Featuring: Dennis Nester, agent for The Roy Process; engineer and physicist Ernest Goitein; veteran anti-nuclear activist Ace Hoffman; and a surprise deus ex machina appearance by New York environmental attorney Susan Shapiro.

Be sure to listen through to the end, when the final piece of information clicks into place. Then scroll down here at www.NuclearHotseat.com/blog to access the links referenced in the call.

NOTE: While this may not be the smoothest or easiest interview/discussion I've done on Nuclear Hotseat, it contains the seeds of what is arguably the most important information I've yet reported.

Thank you all for doing this show. To be clear, the Roy Process IS NOT 'reprocessing' nuclear waste, which will create more nuclear waste to leak out, pollute the environment, and another money pit which they 'know or should have known' will not work!

The Roy Process will reduce plutonium239, the element needed for atom bombs, to non-radioactive lead, produce electricity from the decay heat, and create many jobs worldwide. The aim of nuclear power is to chemically separate Pu239 from the 'spent fuel' at tax payers expense and create the BIG STICK of political might. The rest is PR to entrench radiation in the economy. The problem is, they WANT nuclear waste, it fulfills many agendas.
