I let Juan know that we were planning the trip to Surry but I will need to get his final approval. I have nothing planned for next we, so it should be OK. I cc'd him on this email so I should know today or no later than tomorrow. I am scheduled to be in the office tomorrow, so we will talk then. If you need me today, please call me at home.

Glad to hear you're available. Would it be O.K. if we waited until tomorrow to discuss the technical aspects of the site visit? I am hoping that Charlie will be feeling better tomorrow, so he could participate in our discussion.

Here are the administrative arrangements that Richard Chang has made so far:
Participants: Sandia MELCOR analysts (KC Wagner, Kyle Ross), NRC (Bob Prato, Jason Schaperow, maybe Richard Chang), Dominion (Barry Garber, Bill Webster)
We would travel to Virginia on Tuesday and meet with Dominion on Wednesday.

Richard still needs to confirm that KC Wagner is under contract to go to Surry. If that doesn't happen before Tuesday, then we will need to postpone the trip.

As usual, we need to get a list of questions/issues to Surry before the trip and tell Surry who we need to meet with.

Thanks,
Jason

Hi Bob,

The SOARCA PM (Richard Chang) is making plans for the Surry site visit to be next week (next Wednesday?). What is your availability next week? Also, are you available sometime this afternoon to talk with Richard and me about this?

By the way, (b)(6)

Thanks,
Jason

Sounds like we have a good opportunity here, with Surry Ops folks coming to work at NRC. We will do our best to give you some notice.

That's OK, I am here to serve and I still have other work. Nonetheless, please keep in mind, we do have some new guys who worked Ops for Surry. Apparently Dominion offered early out packages and we picked up a few. Give me a little notice and I should be able to get their help. We always think of questions after the fact and they may also provide us with a little more realistic perspective.

Thanks for following up. I appreciate it very much.

We are definitely going to Surry. It has been directed/agreed to by Jennifer Uhle (who is now the RES Deputy Director).

We need KC to come with us on the trip, so that he can get information to make corrections to his ISLOCA model for the Safeguards and Auxiliary Buildings. The thing that is holding us up is that KC is not working on SOARCA. He left Sandia on Nov 18 and went to work for Mark Leonard who is a Sandia subcontractor. Sandia is having trouble getting KC under contract, due to Sandia contracting rules. In parallel, our new PM, Richard Chang, is working to get KC via some other contracting mechanism, such as a sole-source contract.

I am really sorry for the delay.

Charlie, Jason

Are we still going to Surry. NRO just hired a couple of Ops guys from Surry that might really be able to help us prepare for our site visit. Please let me know what we are going to do.
