Subject: Indian Point license

My three pre-teen granddaughters live in different parts of Rockland. I scares me to think what could happen to them one sunny schoolday if a serious accident was reported at the Indian Point plant, even if it turned out to be a false alarm!

No evacuation plan in the world could really handle the chaos and confusion that would occur— the jammed roads and highways, the blaring sirens, the frantic parents in search of their kids, the trauma that the kids would suffer— not to mention, in case of a real accident, the horrible possibility of exposure to radiation.

Come to your senses! Don't renew the license. Indian Point should have never have been built there in the first place.
