Subject: Indian Point Relicensing

From the question of whether-or-not the Indian Point plant is really needed with the 21st century alternatives available and small potential economic impact expected from its shutdown to the horrendously unworkable evacuation plan and the recurring toxic leaks from all the radioactive waste stored on site and ending with unwillingness to upgrade operations to use the best available technology to reduce environmental damage, I as a long time resident of the area say NO MORE. End this legacy of past dreams of a safe, clean energy future and actually go with technology that can get us there and allow us to show the world a better way to go.
