This refers to the conversation between Kimberly Kuhls and Jennifer Bishop in July, 2012 regarding the upcoming changes to the financial assurance regulations.

On June 17, 2011, the Commission issued amended rules for financial assurance for decommissioning. The following changes will affect your license:

Decommissioning Funding Plans must be submitted to the NRC for review during license renewals and at intervals not to exceed three years.

Part 20 regulations have been amended to now include radioactivity in subsurface areas.

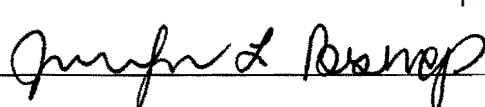

Several changes have been made to Self Guarantees and Parent Company Guarantees, including required annual submittals of the financial test, changes in the financial test, and the establishment of a standby trust fund.

The final rules become effective on December 17, 2012. Please review Federal Register Notice Volume 76, Number 117, pages 35512-35575 for more information.
