Subject: Scoping Period Extension Request for EA of "Nuclear Waste Confidence Decision and Rule"

Dear Chairwoman Macfarlane:

I am requesting that the environmental scoping period be extended and that additional in-person hearings be held in communities living in the shadows of high-level radioactive waste storage pools and dry casks.

re: The U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) has just announced a single in-person environmental scoping hearing (also viewable online), for November 14th, at its Rockville, Maryland headquarters, as well as two webinar-only scoping hearings (Dec. 5th & 6th), as it seeks to fulfill a court-ordered environmental assessment of its "Nuclear Waste Confidence Decision and Rule." NRC's current deadline for public comments on its environmental scoping is January 2nd, 2013, a remarkably short time period (just over two months long, including the upcoming elections, as well as the holidays). Obviously, NRC is trying to rush the process, and keep public involvement to a bare minimum

Sincerely
Jay Richards
