Subject: Outcome

Not sure if we answered the mail well enough. Some serious fallout resulted from MSNBC report. We said report not interpreted correct. Delegation expects NRC to re butt report allegation that ranks IP as most at risk. Lowey also, expects a report on her desk detailing the actual IP risk ASAP. Said we left her "foggy" and somewhat confused. It's a good bet we'll be back down here on this.

Subject: NOTE NEW DIAL-IN NUMBER for conference call on Japan earthquake/tsunami disaster Friday, March 18, at 2 pm

We regret any confusion caused by changing the phone system for these calls. This was necessary to accommodate the expanded number of interested Congressional staff and department/agency officials.

Administration speakers are asked to join the "leaders" pre-conference at 1:30 to discuss the latest events and messages for the day and to identify the agency speakers for the call. The "leaders" (Administration speakers and other callers) should dial in at (877) 334-8037 and provide the password "Japan," as noted below. This is the same dial-in number used today, but with an easier access to the leader pre-conference for Administration callers only. We will use this same number and password tomorrow and daily through March 26, including Saturday and Sunday. It would be helpful to receive the names and titles of each agency's briefer tomorrow morning before the call. Also, to minimize the number of call-in lines used, please have people in your agencies call from a single location and mute the call when others are speaking. Thank you.

FYI, a notice has also been sent to Congressional staff with the same dial-in number they were given for today's call - (877) 380-6801. (No ID number is necessary for Hill participants).

You are invited to join daily conference calls to discuss:

We are developing a contact sheet for the main Legislative Affairs contacts in each department/agency/office that are engaged in the Japan emergency situation. It would be appreciated if each department or agency would send me the name, organization, phone numbers (office/cell), e-mail address. Once the information is compiled, we will share it with each of you. Thank you.

JAPAN EARTHQUAKE UPDATE 13

In order to focus attention on congressional inquiries and provide you with prompt updates about constituents affected by the March 11 earthquake and tsunami in Japan, the Department of State has created a dedicated email address: JapanUSCcongressional@state.gov. If you have already been in contact with us via JapanEmergencyUSC@state.gov <<mailto:JapanEmergencyUSC@state.gov>>, there is no need to resend; we have your information on file. In addition, we will add your email address to the State Department Liaison Office's daily Japan updates. If anyone else on your staff would like to be added to the distribution list for this, please email: PenovarS@state.gov <<mailto:PenovarS@state.gov>>.

There has been a Travel Warning issued authorizing the voluntary departure of eligible family members from Tokyo, Yokohama, and Nagoya, and recommending that U.S. citizens in Japan consider departing. The text of the message is at: http://www.travel.state.gov/travel/cis\_pa\_tw/tw/tw\_5390.html

Additional information from an on-the-record briefing with Under Secretary of State Patrick Kennedy and Deputy Secretary of Energy Dan Poneman is at <http://japan.usembassy.gov/e/p/tp-20110317-09.html>. Under Secretary Kennedy and Deputy Assistant Secretary James D. Pettit, Bureau of Consular Affairs, held special briefing this afternoon and their remarks are at <http://www.state.gov/m/ris/remarks/2011/158550.htm>.

The U.S. Embassy will continue to update American citizens as the situation develops. U.S. citizens in need of emergency assistance, or persons with information about such individuals, can enter information about them through the Task Force Alert link on the Japan Earthquake/Tsunami site on www.travel.state.gov, and provide detailed information about their location and contact information. U.S. citizens in Japan and those concerned about them should monitor the U.S. Department of State website at travel.state.gov.

International commercial flights are operating in and out of Japan, and the best way for Americans to get on these flights is to work directly with the airlines. In addition, for those who have made it to the airport in Tokyo already, US consular officers will be available at the Narita airport for the next several days. They will be wearing orange vests that read "U.S. Embassy." In addition, the Department of State is arranging charter flights from Tokyo to safehaven locations in Asia. Space on these flights is limited, and travelers will be required to sign a form promising to reimburse the U.S. government at the equivalent commercial rate. Information on these flights is at http://www.travel.state.gov/travel/cis\_pa\_tw/pa/pa\_5388.html.

For getting to the airports from various locations in Japan. The State Dept. has compiled a list of local ground transportation options at: http://travel.state.gov/travel/cis\_pa\_tw/pa/pa\_5388.html.

Bus Seats Available from Sendai: The U.S. Embassy in Tokyo has arranged for over 600 seats on several buses for transportation from Sendai City Hall to Tokyo. Priority for seats will be given to U.S. citizens and their immediate dependents. No reservation is required. However, passengers will be required to sign a promissory note to reimburse the U.S. Government for the normal bus fare from Sendai to Tokyo.

The first buses will depart at 9:00 a.m. on Friday, March 18 in front of Sendai City Hall (仙台市役所前広場). If there are extra seats left over, then the remaining buses will depart on 9:00 a.m. on Saturday, March 19 at the same location

We continue to send out updated messages through our W arden network in Japan; these messages, along with other useful inform ation, can be viewed on our website: <http://travel.state.gov> under "Japan Earthquake and Pacific Tsunami." Additional information is available through the U.S. Embassy Tokyo website at: <http://japan.usembassy.gov/>. Japan situation and congressional contact information will be updated regularly on <http://travel.state.gov/congress/>.

Visa inquiries: For questions concerning U.S. visas for people (not U.S. citizens) seeking to enter the U.S. from Japan, please contact japanvisainquiries@state.gov.

How to help: We encourage cash donations. The web site www.interaction.org has a list of organizations accepting contributions. The American Red Cross is accepting donations of $10 by texting REDCROSS to 90999.

USAID's Office of Foreign Disaster Assistance (OFDA) is coordinating the overall response management and humanitarian assistance effort. AID/OFDA can be reached at RMT\_PACTSU@ofda.gov (underscore between RMT and PACTSU), Phone: 202 712 0039.

NUCLEAR ISSUES

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC) assesses secondary containment at the Fukushima Dai-ichi reactor No. 3 is severely damaged, primary containment at reactor No. 2 is damaged, half of fuel at reactor No. 1 is uncovered, the water level is dropping in the spent fuel pond and rods are heating up at reactor No. 5, and the water level in reactor No. 6 is lower than normal but not heating up. There is another spent fuel storage facility on site and its status is currently unknown.

IAEA Director General Amano and an expert mission traveled to Japan to conduct high-level consultations with Japanese authorities and respond to Japan's request for assistance in environmental monitoring and medical services. Amano asked the Board of Governors to meet March 21 in a special session so he could report on his by-then completed trip.

The Department of Energy reports it continues to analyze data from manned air monitoring assets performing assessments since March 16 near the Fukushima Dai-ichi nuclear power plant.

The Tokyo Electric Power Company (TEPCO) estimates it will fix power cables by March 18 on the Fukushima Dai-ichi plant to supply power to the reactor coolant system and test power to reactor No. 2 once spraying of water on reactor No. 3 is completed.

At least 20 people have fallen ill due to possible radiation contamination, in addition to 19 injured and two missing at the Fukushima Dai-ichi plant.

CONSULAR ISSUES

Embassy Paris reports French Finance Minister Lagarde will convene conference calls March 17 with finance ministers and central bankers from European and Group of 7 countries to assess economic effects and possible responses.

Canada advised all of its citizens within 50 miles of the Fukushima Dai-ichi plant to move farther from the site, joining the United States in urging the wider evacuation zone. India advised its nationals to avoid non-essential travel to Japan. Air India also introduced daily flights in order to fly Indian citizens back. The People's Republic of China began bussing its nationals out of the affected areas, transporting citizens to where China Airlines flights operate.

Subject: hearing transcript

I paid for the transcript of a public event in a public place. It's a very full discussion of points that are important for us to make in public. In fact, I bought from a commercial news source I helped get credentials to cover things like this.

How about we put a small disclaimer on it saying this transcript is provided by the NRC so it is not misinterpreted as a committee transcript?

We need as much out there as we can and just posting the written oral statement leaves us somewhat wanting.

He's going to be at the Ops Center and use someone's office so the call is not on a recorded line. Tim will be here and is planning to sit in.

Subject: Japan conference call with Hill staff on March 31

Here is a brief summary of the Hill call yesterday on Japan.

On Thursday, March 31, USAID held an interagency conference call with Congressional staff to update them on the situation in Japan and the USG response. Mark Bartolini (USAID), John Adams (NRC), Robert Spousta (DoD) discussed recent updates and Michele Bermier (State), Maury Huguely (HHS), and Albert Coons (FEMA) were available to respond to questions. (b)(6) and raised the following questions:

- Who is providing relief supplies that DoD is transporting;
- Is DoD doing the debris clearance;
- Are other efforts ongoing by DoD;
- Are the resources being sent to the nuclear plants privately or USG-owned;
- Why are the radiation levels trending downward;
- Are any of the reactor units connected to electricity;
- When is the K1 expected to arrive in Japan; and
- The need for more public information to allay fears about radiation levels in food imports to the U.S. from Japan.

Melissa/Franny: Just wanted to touch base to remind you that Chairman Jaczko, the rest of the Commission and the NRC staff are still very interested in hosting the First Lady to come out to Rockville to visit the NRC. As you can well imagine, we've been very busy responding to the tragic events in Japan, so a nice pep talk would work wonders. NRC is holding its annual Awards Ceremony at the Marriot across the street on June 14 which accommodate a visit. Please let me know if you need any information from us.

Subject: First Lady visit to Nuclear Regulatory Commission

Melissa: Over the past year or so, I had been communicating with David Medina about the possibility of the First Lady coming out to the Nuclear Regulatory Commission in Rockville, MD during her visits to Federal agencies. I learned that David has moved on from his position on her staff, so I thought I would contact you to let you know that the NRC is still interested in hosting Mrs. Obama at her convenience. I understood from David that she wanted to visit the Cabinet-level agencies first and then would consider smaller agencies. Just wanted to touch base with you to express our continued interest. Let me know if you need any information from us or whether I should be communicating with someone else on the First Lady's staff.

Japan – Earthquake and Tsunami

Fact Sheet #15, Fiscal Year (FY) 2011

April 8, 2011

Note: The last fact sheet was dated March 31, 2011.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

- On April 7 at 1032 hours Eastern Daylight Time, or 2332 hours Japan Standard Time (JST), a magnitude 7.1 aftershock occurred off the east coast of Honshu Island—approximately 41 miles east of Sendai, Miyagi Prefecture, and 205 miles northeast of Tokyo—at a depth of 30 miles. The Japan Meteorological Agency issued a tsunami warning shortly after the event but cancelled the warning within 90 minutes. Non-governmental organizations operating locally reported that the earthquake temporarily affected electricity in some areas but resulted in limited damage. The Government of Japan (GoJ) National Police Agency (NPA) reported two deaths and 132 people injured as a result of the April 7 aftershock, which was the largest to occur since the March 11 earthquake. NPA also reported moderate road damage resulting from the aftershock.
- The March 11 earthquake and tsunami have resulted in nearly 13,000 deaths and left nearly 15,000 people missing, the GoJ reported on April 8. The natural disasters also damaged or destroyed more than 217,000 buildings and 2,100 roads.
- The number of people staying in evacuation centers continues to decrease, with approximately 154,000 people remaining in centers as of April 8. More than 18,000 people have left evacuation centers since March 31.

Confirmed Deaths	12,787	GoJ NPA – April 8, 2011
Missing Persons	14,991	GoJ NPA – April 8, 2011
Number of People in Evacuation Centers	154,264	GoJ NPA – April 8, 2011

FY 2011 HUMANITARIAN FUNDING PROVIDED TO JAPAN TO DATE

USAID/OFDA Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami .....	$6,914,369
DoD <sup>2</sup> Humanitarian Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami .....	$70,754,829
Total USAID and DoD Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami .....	$77,669,198

CONTEXT

- On March 11 at 0046 hours Eastern Standard Time, or 1446 hours JST, a magnitude 9.0 earthquake occurred off the east coast of Honshu Island—approximately 231 miles northeast of Tokyo—at a depth of approximately 15 miles, generating a tsunami that struck the eastern coast of Japan and resulted in additional fatalities and damage, particularly in Miyagi, Fukushima, and Iwate prefectures. Furthermore, the tsunami significantly damaged the Fukushima Daiichi power plant located approximately 150 miles north of Tokyo, leading to a serious nuclear incident.
- USAID immediately activated a Response Management Team in Washington, D.C., and deployed a Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART)—including urban search and rescue (USAR) specialists and nuclear experts—to support Japanese emergency response efforts. On March 11, U.S. Ambassador John V. Roos declared a disaster due to the effects of the earthquake and tsunami in Japan.

Humanitarian Situation and Response

- On April 7, NPA mobilized approximately 250 members of the Tokyo Metropolitan Police mobile unit to begin searching for missing persons within the GoJ-established 20-km exclusion zone surrounding the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear power plant. The officers joined approximately 50 local police who had been searching the area for four days for the more than 2,400 residents of the exclusion zone who remain missing.
- From April 1 to 3, Japan Self-Defense Force, U.S. Military, NPA, Japanese Coast Guard, and GoJ Fire and Disaster Management Agency personnel conducted an intensive search for human remains along the coastlines of Fukushima, Iwate, and Miyagi prefectures. The search resulted in a decreased number of persons listed as missing as remains were recovered. As many as 120 aircraft and 65 naval vessels participated in the search, according to the U.N. Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs.

- The GoJ Ministry of the Environment has estimated that the tsunami generated approximately 24.9 million tons of debris in Miyagi, Iwate, and Fukushima prefectures, representing 1.7 times the amount of debris that resulted from the 1995 Kobe earthquake. Cars and ships that washed away during the disaster are not included in this estimate.

Logistics and Relief Supplies

- On April 7, the GoJ Ministry of Economy, Trade, and Industry (METI) announced that the Petroleum Association of Japan (PAJ) has commenced shipments of petroleum for heating and lighting to affected areas. PAJ plans to ship 650 drums of petroleum per prefecture to Iwate, Miyagi, and Fukushima. Since March 27, METI has installed temporary gas stations in nine towns in the three prefectures and provided gasoline to 5,600 vehicles.
- On April 7, the Tohoku Region Bureau of Economy, Trade, and Industry announced that the gasoline supply in Miyagi Prefecture has nearly returned to pre-March 11 levels, noting that local officials continue to work to restore roads and fuel stations in tsunami-affected coastal areas.
- Supermarkets and convenience stores in affected areas are replenishing supplies with increasing frequency as distribution networks return to normal, according to Japanese media reports. In several instances, companies have opened alternate distribution centers or leased new warehouses to enhance distribution chains and restore service to stores in affected prefectures.

Situation at Nuclear Power Plants

- The April 7 aftershock did not affect conditions at the Fukushima Daiichi and Fukushima Daini power plants. The aftershock affected electrical power at three other nuclear facilities in northern Japan, according to the DART. The Higashi-Dori power plant and Rokkasho spent fuel reprocessing plant, both in Aomori Prefecture, are currently operating on emergency diesel generators, and one of three primary power lines remains operational for cooling at the Onagawa power plant in Miyagi Prefecture.
- Staff from the U.S. Department of Energy, the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo, and the DART continue to actively monitor and analyze information on radiation levels in Tokyo. The NRC also continues to provide technical assistance to the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo and GoJ officials in support of assessment and mitigation efforts at the Fukushima Daiichi site.

PUBLIC DONATION INFORMATION

- The most effective way people can assist relief efforts is by making cash contributions to humanitarian organizations that are conducting relief operations. A list of humanitarian organizations that are accepting cash donations for earthquake and tsunami response efforts in Japan can be found at www.usaid.gov/japanquake or www.interaction.org.
- USAID encourages cash donations because they allow aid professionals to procure the exact items needed (often in the affected region); reduce the burden on scarce resources (such as transportation routes, staff time, warehouse space, etc.); can be transferred very quickly and without transportation costs; support the economy of the disaster-stricken region; and ensure culturally, dietary, and environmentally appropriate assistance.

Hi Spiros:

Thank you for getting back to me so quickly.

I am working on a book proposal about nuclear energy in the wake of Fukushima (and Chernobyl). It will be neither pro nor anti nuclear, as I think it's fair to say Wormwood Forest was.

I would like to include in my book a visit to the Limerick nuclear power plant, which is 20 miles from my home. I have put in calls to their communications people but my colleagues have told me that it can be quite difficult for reporters to visit nuclear power plants now because of security concerns. I am writing to you to ask for guidance about how to do this. I would like to include the tour in the sample chapter for my book proposal, so I would like to do it fairly soon if possible.

I hope to hear from you soon.

Best,
Mary

Eliot: This woman wrote a book called: Wormwood Forest: A Natural History of Chernobyl. Jeff Merrifield tracked her down after reading her book and had her up to the office for a courtesy visit. She is now looking to follow up and wants to take a tour of Limerick. How do you handle such media requests to tour a plant. I don't think NRC needs to be involved directly. Should she contact the licensee directly or would you suggest she go through NEI or someone? Appreciate your thoughts. Thanks, Spiros

Attachments: (SBU) 04.12.11 - USAID Admin Report on Japan EQ and Tsunami #19.pdf; 57120978.xls

Please find attached the USAID Administrator's Report on the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami #19, dated April 12, 2011. Information in this update is sensitive but unclassified (SBU) and designated for internal U.S. Government use only; please handle accordingly.

Also attached is the participant listing from today's interagency conference with Hill staff. FYI, here is a brief summary of the call.

On April 12, Mark Bartolini (USAID OFDA Director) hosted the weekly interagency conference call with Congressional staff to update them on the current situation in Japan resulting from the earthquake, tsunami and nuclear situation. Bartolini pointed out that USAID's intent is to ramp down the relief operations over the next couple of weeks and transition to the mission in Japan, leaving the same players in country for the next two months. He noted that as of today the nuclear event has been upgraded and remains a serious concern. Julie Leonard (Manager of the interagency RMT) provided information on the latest aftershocks and total numbers of deaths, missing and injured. Other speakers on the call were Robert Spousta (DoD) who noted the shift in DoD operations from a relief focus to help the GOJ response following the lead of DOE and NRC. In response to a number of concerns about fish from Japan being consumed in the United States, Don Kraemer and Patricia Hansen (FDA) gave a full report on the three modes in which radiation contamination of fish may occur and the actions being taken by FDA in response to these concerns. He said they do not expect any negative impact, noting that the event in Japan is very different than Chernobyl. Jeff Nemkauser and Admiral Svenrodenbeck (HHS/CDC), Steve Wilson and John Sokich (NOAA), and Albert Coons (FEMA) were also available for questions. There were 14 Congressional staff participating on the call; all of their questions related to the possible fish contamination, including:

BC/427

- What the device used by FDA field examiners is called (hand-held radiation pager).
- If the FDA is doing any monitoring and if there are agents with radiation pagers in the island territories.
- Who are the FDA sister agencies working in the island territories.
- If the only fish with elevated levels is called a sand eel or sand lance (same fish).
- Where the sand eels with elevated levels were detected.
- What are the concentration levels in the sand eel.
- Whether the sand eel is used as a fish in Japanese restaurants.
- Whether FDA has any advice for Japanese restaurants in California concerning the fish from Japan.
- Does FDA plan to communicate with the public about the fish issue since many questions are being raised.
- If there is a Web site available that people can be directed to for this information.
- If coordination with marketing institutions is being undertaken to let them know we are monitoring and tracking the risk concerning possible fish contamination.

Japan – Earthquake and Tsunami

Fact Sheet #16, Fiscal Year (FY) 2011

April 15, 2011

Note: The last fact sheet was dated April 8, 2011.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

- On April 11 at 1716 hours Japan Standard Time (JST), or 0416 hours Eastern Daylight Time (EDT), a magnitude 6.6 aftershock occurred in eastern Honshu—approximately 22 miles west of Iwaki, Fukushima Prefecture, and 161 miles northeast of Tokyo—at a depth of approximately 6 miles, according to the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS). The earthquake killed one person, disrupted power for approximately 220,000 households, and temporarily interrupted power and pumps used for cooling reactors 1, 2, and 3 at the Fukushima Daiichi site.
- On April 12 at 0808 hours JST, or 1908 hours EDT on April 11, a magnitude 6.2 aftershock occurred just off the east coast of Honshu—47 miles southeast of Tokyo—at a depth of approximately 8 miles. Minimal damage occurred due to the aftershock. USGS and the Japan Meteorological Agency noted that aftershocks of magnitudes above 6.0 will likely continue to occur regularly throughout the coming months.
- The March 11 earthquake and tsunami have resulted in more than 13,500 deaths and left nearly 15,000 people missing, the GoJ reported on April 15. The natural disasters also damaged or destroyed more than 217,000 buildings and 2,100 roads.
- The number of people staying in evacuation centers continues to decrease, with approximately 138,000 people remaining in centers as of April 15. More than 16,000 people have left evacuation centers since April 8.

USAID/OFDA Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami ..... $6,959,436
 DoD<sup>2</sup> Humanitarian Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami ..... $70,754,829
 Total USAID and DoD Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami ..... $77,714,265

CONTEXT

- On March 11 at 0046 hours Eastern Standard Time, or 1446 hours JST, a magnitude 9.0 earthquake occurred off the east coast of Honshu Island—approximately 231 miles northeast of Tokyo—at a depth of approximately 15 miles, generating a tsunami that struck the eastern coast of Japan and resulted in additional fatalities and damage, particularly in Miyagi, Fukushima, and Iwate prefectures. Furthermore, the tsunami significantly damaged the Fukushima Daiichi power plant located approximately 150 miles north of Tokyo, leading to a serious nuclear incident.
- USAID immediately activated a Response Management Team in Washington, D.C., and deployed a Disaster Assistance Response Team (DART)—including urban search and rescue (USAR) specialists and nuclear experts—to support Japanese emergency response efforts. On March 11, U.S. Ambassador John V. Roos declared a disaster due to the effects of the earthquake and tsunami in Japan.

Humanitarian Situation and Response

- To address the psychosocial health of disaster-affected children, on April 13, the GoJ Ministry of Education, Culture, Sports, Science, and Technology reported plans to deploy more than 1,000 additional school counselors to areas impacted by the March 11 tsunami.
- The Japan Platform (JPF)—a coordinating body for organizations responding to the tsunami—reported that member organizations have raised more than $60.3 million in the month since the tsunami, indicating a high level of Japanese and international private support for disaster relief and recovery efforts. Private individuals and organizations have given a total of more than $525 million for the Japan response—approximately 80 percent of total assistance—according to the U.N. Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs' Financial Tracking Service.

- Approximately 40 families moved into GoJ-provided transitional housing in Rikuzentakata city, Iwate Prefecture, on April 9, representing the first group of affected individuals to move from evacuation centers to GoJ transitional housing. According to JPF, transitional housing construction has faced delays in recent weeks, as nearly 50 percent of pre-tsunami Japanese plywood production occurred in affected areas of northeastern Japan. The GoJ is working to source construction materials and coordinating with Japan Red Cross Society (JRCS), which will provide electric appliances for the housing structures.
- The GoJ Ministry of Health, Labor, and Welfare had coordinated the deployment of nearly 300 medical teams to affected areas, including 146 teams from the JRCS as of April 8, according to JPF. However, JPF stated that emergency medical personnel have begun returning home as medical supply chains recover and health needs transition from emergency to long-term.

Logistics and Relief Supplies

- On April 13, Sendai Airport reopened to domestic commercial flights from Tokyo and Osaka. The airport had been operational only for a limited number of humanitarian after sustaining damage during the March 11 tsunami. U.S. Forces-Japan efforts contributed to the reopening of the airport.

Situation at Nuclear Power Plants

- GoJ officials have confirmed that the raising of the International Nuclear Event Scale (INES) rating for the Fukushima accident from INES 5 to INES 7 reflects the cumulative measurement of radioactive material released to date rather than a recent change in the plant's status. Nuclear experts on the DART note that reactor and spent fuel status at the Fukushima Daiichi site have improved slightly in recent days and continue to describe the situation as static but not stable.
- The GoJ continues to monitor produce and other food items from northern Japan for radioactivity. Effective April 13, the GoJ temporarily banned shipments of shitake mushrooms grown outdoors in five cities, eight towns, and three villages in eastern Fukushima Prefecture due to levels of radioactive compounds above Japanese safety standards.
- On April 13, the GoJ announced plans to develop guidelines to allow residents of the 20-km exclusion zone around the Fukushima Daiichi plant to temporarily return home to retrieve belongings and attend to other personal matters. The GoJ guidelines will take into account cumulative radiation levels, the situation at the Fukushima plant, and wind direction, and the GoJ will implement the visits with assistance from the Japan Self-Defense Forces and police.
- Under the direction of the GoJ Cabinet Secretariat, U.S. experts and Japanese counterparts regularly discuss priority issues and needed assistance. Working together, the experts review scientific and technical data to develop solutions to the unique challenges of the Fukushima Daiichi site.

PUBLIC DONATION INFORMATION

- The most effective way people can assist relief efforts is by making cash contributions to humanitarian organizations that are conducting relief operations. A list of humanitarian organizations that are accepting cash donations for earthquake and tsunami response efforts in Japan can be found at www.usaid.gov/japanquake or www.interaction.org.
- USAID encourages cash donations because they allow aid professionals to procure the exact items needed (often in the affected region); reduce the burden on scarce resources (such as transportation routes, staff time, warehouse space, etc.); can be transferred very quickly and without transportation costs; support the economy of the disaster-stricken region; and ensure culturally, dietary, and environmentally appropriate assistance.

Fact Sheet #17, Fiscal Year (FY) 2011

April 22, 2011

Note: The last fact sheet was dated April 15, 2011.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

- On April 22, the Government of Japan (GoJ) designated the 20-km evacuation zone surrounding the Fukushima Daiichi plant as off limits to unauthorized personnel, with plans for the Japan Self-Defense Forces to help relocate people currently remaining in the area. To finalize the new designation, the GoJ is planning an organized temporary return of evacuees to their homes, in which one person per household would be allowed to return for two hours. However, evacuees from within a 3-km radius of the plant would not be permitted to return.
- The March 11 earthquake and tsunami have resulted in more than 14,000 deaths and left more than 12,000 people missing, the GoJ reported on April 22. The natural disasters also damaged or destroyed nearly 326,000 buildings and 3,700 roads.
- The number of people staying in evacuation centers continues to decrease, with nearly 131,000 people remaining in centers as of April 22. More than 7,000 people have left evacuation centers since April 15.

CONTEXT

- On March 11 at 0046 hours Eastern Standard Time, or 1446 hours Japan Standard Time, a magnitude 9.0 earthquake occurred off the east coast of Honshu Island—approximately 231 miles northeast of Tokyo—at a depth of approximately 15 miles, generating a tsunami that struck the eastern coast of Japan and resulted in additional fatalities and damage, particularly in Miyagi, Fukushima, and Iwate prefectures. On March 11, U.S. Ambassador John V. Roos declared a disaster due to the effects of the earthquake and tsunami in Japan.

Humanitarian Situation and Response

- On April 21, the DART met with staff from two non-governmental organization (NGO) consortiums—the Japanese NGO Center for International Coordination (JANIC) and the Japan Platform (JPF)—which are coordinating humanitarian relief efforts in response to the March 11 tsunami. JANIC noted that approximately 35 international and local NGOs operating in affected areas are coordinating efforts through weekly national- and local-level meetings led by either JPF or JANIC, representing the majority of NGOs participating in the response.
- As a result of an outpouring of private and government support, the majority of NGOs responding to the tsunami have reached or exceeded their absorptive capacity for donations, according to JANIC. NGO and GoJ efforts are currently meeting material needs in most affected areas, although many organizations will likely require

- assistance with forward financial planning. Ongoing NGO activities include food distribution, sanitation, hygiene, debris removal, volunteer management, and planning for the transition to recovery efforts, according to JPF.
- JANIC maintains a fund for distribution to member NGOs responding to the tsunami that are working in the field and need resources. Donations to the fund have reached nearly $54 million to date. In addition, JPF has received more than $67 million and is endeavoring to develop guidelines for a planned grant program to transfer funds to appropriate implementing partners.

Health and Protection

- During the month following the tsunami, the Japanese Red Cross Society (JRCS) deployed more than 450 medical teams, as well as radiation specialists from Hiroshima and Nagasaki Red Cross hospitals. The medical teams had treated more than 34,000 patients as of April 12. In addition, JRCS specialists provided mental health services to disaster-affected individuals in hospitals and evacuation centers in Miyagi, Fukushima, and Iwate prefectures. Looking toward the longer term, JRCS also is planning reconstruction of damaged hospitals.
- To increase opportunities for community activities, enhance interpersonal interaction between affected individuals, and address mental health needs, the American Red Cross plans to fund the construction of a series of community centers in areas where temporary housing will be constructed.

Shelter

- As the response begins to move into the recovery phase, the GoJ has commenced construction of a planned 70,000 temporary housing units for displaced individuals. JRCS is equipping the homes with a package of electrical appliances, valued at approximately $160 million for more than 280,000 beneficiaries. Part of JRCS efforts to help affected families recover from the March 11 disasters, the package includes one refrigerator, washing machine, rice cooker, microwave, television, and hot water dispenser per household.

Situation at Nuclear Power Plants

- The GoJ continues to monitor produce and other food items from northern Japan for radioactivity. The GoJ has banned rice planting within the 20-km off-limits zone.
- Under the direction of the GoJ Cabinet Secretariat, U.S. experts and Japanese counterparts continue to discuss priority issues and needed assistance. Working together, the experts review scientific and technical data to develop solutions to the unique challenges of the Fukushima Daiichi site.

Attachments: (SBJ) 04.26.11 - USAID Admin Report on Japan EQ and Tsunami #21.pdf; 57120980.xls

I have attached, for your information, the latest USAID Administrator's report on Japan and the participant list from the April 26 interagency conference call with Congressional staff. Following is a brief summary of the call.

On April 26, USAID hosted the weekly interagency conference call with Congressional staff on the Japan emergency. Speakers included Mark Bartolini (USAID) and David Hoagland (DOE). Phil Broadbent (FDA) and Barbara Rogers (CDC) were also available to respond to questions. Bartolini stated that there were 14,416 death, 11,709 mission people, and 130,000 people remaining in evacuation centers. He added that land has been secured on which to construct planned shelters for the tsunami displaced families. With the shift from humanitarian relief to recovery and reconstruction, Bartolini said the DART plans to conclude its operations on April 30 and the team leader, Bill Berger, will remain in the region for the next couple of months to facilitate the transition efforts. A cell has been created to continue work with U.S. agencies and the GOJ on the nuclear situation. Hoagland stated that the DOE continues to monitor the situation, collect field measurements, take soil samples, and provide training and support to the GOJ, facilitated by State and USAID. He noted that they are mapping the radiation, and the data shows decreasing radiation levels. There are currently 33 DOE personnel in Japan and a small group at the U.S. embassy. Five Congressional staff participated on the call; they raised questions on the radiation levels, measurements being taken, and location of maps on line.

REMINDER: The next conference call is scheduled for next week, Tuesday, May 3, at 1:45 (pre-brief) and 2:00 (Hill call), at the same dial-in number: 877-334-8037, password "Japan." Our plans are that this will be the final interagency conference call hosted by USAID. We encourage your representatives to participate in this final call. Should questions be raised by Congressional staff, we will defer the questions to the appropriate agency Congressional offices for reply.

Fact Sheet #4, Fiscal Year (FY) 2011

March 14, 2011

Note: The last fact sheet was dated March 13, 2011.

KEY DEVELOPMENTS

- On March 14, the Government of Japan (GoJ) National Police Agency (NPA) reported increased casualty numbers due to the earthquake and tsunami, with the current death toll at 1,897, the number of missing persons at 3,002, and the number of injured at 1,885. Japanese media sources continue to report that the number of fatalities may increase significantly in the coming days as officials recover additional bodies in isolated coastal communities. International media sources have reported that the earthquake and tsunami death toll may be as high as 10,000 individuals.
- Two U.S. urban search and rescue (USAR) teams established a base of operations in Ofunato City—one of the most-affected areas in Iwate Prefecture, on March 14.
- The outer building housing Unit 3 at the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear power plant exploded at approximately 2200 EDT on March 13, or 1100 hours local time on March 14. The explosion injured 11 individuals and released hydrogen gas into the reactor containment building. To date, GoJ officials reported that the reactor containment vessel remains intact and has emitted no major radiation. Nearly 210,000 people remain preemptively evacuated from the vicinities of Fukushima Daiichi and Fukushima Daini nuclear power plants.
- The Japanese Meteorological Agency (JMA) reported a 70 percent chance that a magnitude 7.0 earthquake may occur near Japan before March 16, with the probability dropping to 50 percent between March 16 and March 19. An estimated 30 aftershocks measuring more than magnitude 6.0 have occurred near Japan since March 11.

NUMBERS AT A GLANCE		SOURCE
Confirmed Deaths	1,897	GoJ NPA <sup>1</sup> – March 14, 2011
Missing Persons	3,002	GoJ NPA <sup>1</sup> – March 14, 2011
Number of people in evacuation centers	371,800	OCHA <sup>2</sup> – March 14, 2011

FY 2011 HUMANITARIAN FUNDING PROVIDED TO JAPAN TO DATE

USAID/OFDA Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami ..... $740,600
Total USAID Humanitarian Assistance for the Japan Earthquake and Tsunami ..... $740,600

CONTEXT

- On March 11 at 0046 hours EST, or 1446 hours local time, a magnitude 8.9 earthquake occurred near the east coast of Honshu—the largest and main island of Japan—at a depth of approximately 15 miles. According to the U.S. Geological Survey (USGS), the epicenter of the earthquake was located 80 miles east of Sendai, the capital of Miyagi Prefecture, and 231 miles northeast of Tokyo. The earthquake also generated a large tsunami that resulted in additional fatalities and damage, particularly in Miyagi, Fukushima, and Iwate prefectures.
- On March 11, U.S. Ambassador to Japan John V. Roos declared a disaster due to the effects of the earthquake and tsunami. In response, USAID/OFDA provided an initial $100,000 through the U.S. Embassy in Tokyo to assist with local relief efforts. In addition, USAID activated a Response Management Team (RMT) in Washington, D.C., and deployed a DART—including two USAR teams from Fairfax County, Virginia, and Los Angeles County, California—to Japan to coordinate USG response and support Japanese USAR efforts.
- InterAction, an alliance of U.S.-based non-governmental organizations, maintains a list of organizations accepting donations for the Japanese earthquake response. The American Red Cross (ARC) also receives donations through text messages of “redcross” sent to 90999.

Infrastructure and Public Services

- The GoJ NPA reported increased figures for infrastructure damage. To date, the earthquake has damaged or destroyed nearly 60,000 buildings, as well as an estimated 704 roads, 26 bridges, and 8 railways throughout northeastern Japan. Transportation systems remain paralyzed, according to the U.N. Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA). In addition, communication services are not functioning for more than 20,000 people in Miyagi and Iwate Prefectures.
- Approximately 371,800 people remain in more than 2,050 GoJ-established emergency evacuation centers throughout Japan, according to OCHA. While temperatures drop, disruptions in electrical and gas supplies have limited heating for shelters.
- As of March 14, the GoJ reported that approximately 1.25 million households were without electricity and nearly 3.2 million people may be affected by reduced gas supplies in the coming days. According to international media, Tokyo Electric Power has suspended plans to impose rolling power cuts—scheduled to begin in eight prefectures and cities today—but has requested that residents of Tokyo and other areas limit electricity use.
- A fire at the Cosmo Oil Company refinery in Ichihara city, located 25 miles east of Tokyo, continues to burn, despite firefighters' attempts to extinguish the flames since March 11.

USAR Teams

- As of March 14, the Japan Ministry of Defense (MoD) had deployed 60,000 of an expected 100,000 personnel to conduct USAR activities. The MoD had also deployed 96 helicopters, 7 planes, and 58 naval vessels for that purpose.
- On March 14, two USAR teams from Fairfax and Los Angeles counties—composed of 144 personnel and 12 canines trained to detect live victims—traveled from Misawa Air Force Base (AFB) in the northern part of Japan's Honshu Island to Ofunato City, Iwate Prefecture. The teams established a combined base of operations with a United Kingdom USAR team and expect to begin search and rescue operations on March 15.
- As of March 14, Japan has accepted assistance from approximately 15 countries, including USAR teams from China, the Republic of Korea, Singapore, Australia, and New Zealand.
- U.S. Navy aircraft and ships continue to support search and rescue at sea, including conducting aerial surveillance. U.S. Forces–Japan (USFJ) is providing air transport of Japanese Self-Defense Force (JSDF) personnel and vehicles responding to the disaster.
- The USFJ and JSDF are working to establish a Joint Task Force in Yamagata Prefecture in order to establish a Civil-Military Operations Center that will coordinate all foreign military aid efforts and establish a refueling location for helicopters.

Health

- As of March 13, Japanese health officials reported that 552 Japanese Disaster Medical Assistance Teams, comprising five individuals each, were providing medical assistance to disaster-affected individuals. Japanese health officials have also established three staging care units in affected areas and conducted medical evacuations via air. According to OCHA, hospitals are coping with the number of patients, with 145 of 170 designated emergency response hospitals fully functioning.

Water, Sanitation, and Hygiene

- The GoJ reported that an estimated 1.4 million households in 14 prefectures throughout Japan have no access to safe drinking water, according to OCHA. Safe drinking water in tsunami-affected areas is a concern due to water contamination and salination.
- USFJ is providing emergency relief supplies—including safe drinking water and blankets—to affected populations.

USAID HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE TO JAPAN

Implementing Partner	Activity	Location	Amount
USAID/OFDA ASSISTANCE<sup>1</sup>
U.S. Embassy in Tokyo	Emergency Relief Support	Japan	$100,000
	USAID/DART Support Costs		$640,600
TOTAL USAID/OFDA			$740,600
TOTAL USAID HUMANITARIAN ASSISTANCE TO JAPAN IN FY 2011			$1,540,600

<sup>1</sup> USAID/OFDA funding represents anticipated or actual obligated amounts as of March 14, 2011.

PUBLIC DONATION INFORMATION

- The most effective way people can assist relief efforts is by making cash contributions to humanitarian organizations that are conducting relief operations. A list of humanitarian organizations that are accepting cash donations for earthquake and tsunami response efforts in Japan can be found at www.interaction.org.
- USAID encourages cash donations because they allow aid professionals to procure the exact items needed (often in the affected region); reduce the burden on scarce resources (such as transportation routes, staff time, warehouse space, etc.); can be transferred very quickly and without transportation costs; support the economy of the disaster-stricken region; and ensure culturally, dietary, and environmentally appropriate assistance.

The NRC uses color-coded inspection findings and performance indicators to assess plant performance. The colors start with "green," which has very low safety significance, to "white," "yellow" and "red," based on increasing significance of the issues. Inspection findings and performance indicators are updated on the NRC's web site ( www.nrc.gov ) each quarter.

The annual assessment letter for the Robinson plant is available on the NRC web site at www.nrc.gov/NRR/OVERSIGHT/ASSESS/LETTERS/rob\_2010q4.pdf.

Inspections are carried out by the NRC resident inspectors assigned to the plant and by inspection specialists from the Region II office in Atlanta. A series of regular and supplemental NRC inspections have been scheduled for the Robinson plant this year, and the results of those inspections will be documented in publicly available inspection reports.

Current performance information for Robinson is available on the NRC web site at www.nrc.gov/NRR/OVERSIGHT/ASSESS/ROB2/rob2\_chart.html.

Madam Chairman also asked for a list of the plants (and location) of those like the Japanese (Mark 1 containment). I believe the pre-hearing Q&As have it (this Q came to Borchardt).

Becky,

Jasmine Hunt (jasmine\_hunt@durbin.senate.gov), from Sen. Durbin's office, just contacted me to ask for NRC participation in a public meeting to be convened on Friday, March 25th at 1pm in Chicago, IL. Senator Durbin and Senator Kirk will both attend and will take questions from a selected panel (not from general public). They have requested the participation of NRC, a Commissioner, if possible. Purpose of meeting is to discuss safety of US nuclear facilities.

BL/449

April 6, 2011

The Honorable Gregory B. Jaczko
Chairman
U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission
Washington, DC 20555-0001

Dear Chairman Jaczko,

I appreciate your hard work on the nuclear accident at the Fukushima power plant, and your efforts to help the public understand its implications for the American nuclear power fleet. I do want to raise concerns about some aspects of your response, with the hope that you can resolve them fully and quickly.

My concerns stem from the confirmation in response to my staff's inquiries that the Nuclear Regulatory Commission has been operating in a state of emergency since the Tohoku Earthquake on March 11, 2011. In particular, I question whether:

- 1) You may not have followed law as it pertains to the delineation of emergency authority as provided in Reorganization Plan #1 of 1980 (PL 98-614); and
- 2) This action may have reduced the contributions of your experienced colleagues in monitoring the event and in decision-making.

Section 3 of the Reorganization Plan #1 states that the functions transferred to the Chairman are those pertaining to an emergency concerning a particular facility or materials licensed or regulated by the NRC. Your Congressional Affairs staff indicated that you invoked these powers when the NRC Operations Center entered "monitoring mode" at 9:46 AM on March 11th in reaction to the Tohoku Earthquake and resulting potential tsunami threat to U.S. plants. At this time, the crisis is unfolding in Japan and I am not aware that you issued any warnings to any U.S. licensee or regulated facility since March 11th. On the contrary, you have repeatedly stated publicly that U.S. nuclear plants are safe and indicated, as has the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, that any radiation resulting from the Fukushima nuclear accident that reaches the U.S. will not be significant enough to impact public health. Given what has transpired, it would be helpful if you could provide the basis for your invocation of emergency authority.

Secondly, if your basis for invoking emergency authority was the potential threat of a tsunami affecting nuclear plants in California, that threat ceased on March 11th. Please provide your rationale for continuing to exercise emergency authority after March 11th and your expectations for when and under what conditions you anticipate returning the agency to non-emergency status.

Section 3 of Reorganization Plan #1 also states that the functions transferred to the Chairman in an emergency include declaring, responding, issuing orders, etc., relative to the emergency incident. Since March 28th was the first indication my staff received regarding your exercise of emergency authority—and apparently no public declaration was made—I am concerned that any effort by you to declare an emergency has been less than ideal, especially given your commitment to openness and transparency.

Lastly, Section 3 of Reorganization Plan #1 states that the Chairman shall, to the maximum extent possible, inform the Commission of actions taken relative to the emergency. On March 30, my staff queried all four of your fellow commissioners regarding their knowledge of any such declaration. All four offices indicated that none of the commissioners received any communication from you declaring your intent to exercise emergency powers. It would be helpful if you could provide an explanation as to why the commissioners were apparently not informed of your action.

By April 8th, please provide the information requested above and any legal analysis prepared prior to March 30, 2011 that supports the transfer of functions from the Commission to you including the basis for continuing to exercise those powers.

I look forward to working with you as the NRC addresses the Japan nuclear accident, and to ensure the safety of the nation's nuclear fleet.

Sincerely,

James M. Inhofe

Committee on Environment and Public Works

Mr. Chairman:

I am attaching the slides I have assembled for you to use in the meeting with Senator Mikulski on Monday morning. I left a hard copy of these in the holder on Patti's desk, but you may not be coming in this weekend.

The Agenda:

Senator Mikulski will come to your office, where you will visit, show her WF3 from the window, and have a photo taken. (5 min)

Then you will move to our conference room. In conference room: Bill, Marty, Mike, Darren, Jim Dyer, Steve Burns, Becky, Amy, Josh, Susan Loyd + Senator's 4-5 staffers.

Bill and the DEDOs will use a few power-point slides to explain the NRC, how we are organized, how we keep plants safe. (15 min total)

The Chairman will discuss Japan and NRC response, using power-points. (10 min.)

Senator Mikulski will walk to the Ops Center with Bill (or you, if you'd like to do this) Bill/You can do the tour or turn it over to the Team Director, Roy Zimmerman. Tour will explain who we coordinate with, info we have on US plants, what we do in a crisis. (20 minutes)

This should be an interesting and enjoyable morning for the Senator and her staff!

Hope the move went well.

First meetings are not until next week, I think. This would probably go a long way toward a comfort factor among the poor folks who have to staff this place, and the regions. There are a lot of folks with various meetings that may be in public coming up who probably want safety net.

The discussion I had with Brian McDermott centered on OPA being the controlling entity for the document, with answers vetted by OPA before going into the package.

How about I suggest we can open it up after the chairman's testimony wednesday?

Subject: greater good of the NRC

Josh: there is quite a move afoot over here to create a central pile of q-and-a so that regions can feel comfortable as they go into their end-of-cycle meetings. I have told the "staff" here that what we assembled was pretty much a product for the chairman. We have, however, shared that file across the federal family, and with my staff for their help.

BC/456

Before I take that work product that OPA produced and turning it into a sharepoint site (which OPA would control in terms of the accuracy of answers and usefulness for public use) I wanted to make sure OCM (you and/or the boss) were comfortable with that. I'd like to be supportive.

Due to the latest events in Japan concerning the nuclear issue, it would be helpful if each of the briefers for today's 2 pm Hill conference call share the name and talking points of the briefer, hopefully by 1 pm so we can ensure everyone is on message. Shelly and Karen, any help you can provide in this effort would be helpful.

Nancy Lindborg, Assistant Administrator for Democracy, Conflict and Humanitarian Assistance, will speak for USAID on the humanitarian assistance efforts. I assume DOE and NRC can address the latest nuclear situation. State may want to assure the Hill that we are prepared for evacuation of Amcits, if necessary. DOD will want to mention they are ensuring the safety of the military there. FEMA is needed to speak to preparedness efforts here in the U.S. If I've missed anyone, please let me know – along with your talking points.

We appreciate your help. The call is at 2 pm, call in number: 202-647-0817, access code
