General Comment

To partially quote Barbara Boxer, "It makes absolutely no sense to even consider taking steps to reopen San Onofre..." or any other nuclear power plant. There have not been any rolling blackouts or power shortages because of the temporary closure. We don't need nuclear power plants! Wind and sun will do just fine if power companies would spend their money on R & D for those alternatives instead of nukes. To keep telling us nuclear power is safe is ridiculous. We have only to look at Chernobyl and Fukushima to see how "safe" they are. And we still don't have an answer for their waste. Please close ALL of them down permanently.
