Mike,

As of this morning, it looked like we would only have five tribal survey participants. However, late this afternoon, I received an email from the Ft. Belknap Indian Community THPO indicating that he would like to conduct a survey along with 3 other individuals from his tribe. I haven't yet been able to confirm that he is aware that the survey is next week and that he and his surveyors are available at that time. Hopefully, I will have this confirmation by tomorrow at the latest.

Also, I have just informed the THPO from Ft. Peck that next week is the last opportunity to conduct the survey and he reiterated that he will not be able to send anyone next week.

I will be present next week along with Ashley Waldron and an NRC archaeological consultant (Brad Noisat). Karla (and potentially one additional individual from her company) will be present on the first day to provide support similar to what Cheryl provided during the first session. The four (or five) of us will bring our own lunches.

Thank you,

Hi Johari:

Please see the below message from Mike Butcher. We have reserved 10 rooms based on last week's list but it now appears there will only be 5. Is this a final number? Also note that we planned to provide lunch the first day after the experience last time but should confirm numbers of people. If there are only 5 tribal members and NRC we may dispense with the tent and just use the downstairs meeting room at our field office.

Thanks

Mike

Mike
Can you confirm only 5 surveyors. We have reserved 10 rooms but we can reduce this. The Cozy has another group coming and is booked – we will need final confirmation on numbers today if possible. I am attaching our internal checklist for you to review but everything else is fine.

Mike,

Would you please confirm the lodging/check cashing/logistics information in the attached agenda? I used the information you provided for the previous session but I'm not sure it's all still valid.
