RE: Lost Nuclestat Nuclear Static Eliminator

Dear Sir / Madame:

This letter is to inform you of the loss of a Nuclestat Nuclear Static Eliminator.

- i. The material involved is a PO-210 Polonium Oxide in a Silver Oxide Laminated foil.
- ii. It is believed that the device was left on a work bench and was accidentally thrown away when the table was cleaned
- iii. The device was leased on 05/14/2012. Serial # A2JC550 from NRD LLC, lease # 051720, model P-2021-8000. This is a PO-210 isotope eliminator, 10 millicuries at time of purchase, estimated 1.9 millicuries or 69 MBQ's at time of loss. As stated above, it is believed the device was accidentally disposed of during the end of day clean up.
- iv. To my knowledge the device was not damaged and there was no exposure of radiation.
- v. We inspected the surrounding area, work benches, tool boxes and asked those people who used the device if anyone had it in their possession or knew where it may be.
- vi. We will not be renewing the lease for the lost device and the one that is currently in house is kept and monitored by the department manager.

Sincerely,

John Stempowski
Purchasing Manager
