Attachment B – Program Description

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

1. Proposed Faculty Development Program

Utah State University's (USU) Department of Mechanical & Aerospace Engineering (MAE) has emerged to play a major role regionally in nuclear engineering research and education. More than a third of MAE's faculty has developed nuclear research, and recently USU established a nuclear engineering research center, viz., Thermohydraulics and Materials Properties (TMP) Research Center. To expand its nuclear capability and expertise, MAE proposes a faculty development program that builds on its 2009 NRC Faculty Development Program successes to support two new faculty members. This will be accomplished through the following objectives:

- 1) Expand MAE's nuclear research and education capacity by cultivating research and teaching opportunities for two new highly qualified faculty members with expertise in computational thermohydraulics and life-cycle analyses of energy systems.
- 2) Establish the new professors' research programs as integral elements of TMP to further enable collaboration and sustained research success.

Goal 1: Expand MAE's nuclear research capacity by cultivating research and teaching opportunities for newly hired tenure track faculty members Drs. Aaron Katz and Jason Quinn.

Dr. Aaron Katz, hired in July of 2011, has already visited Idaho National Lab (INL) and has begun to collaborate with key technical personnel. He is also being mentored within MAE by faculty members Drs. Barton Smith and Robert Spall, who both have active nuclear research programs and are working with INL collaborators. Dr. Katz possesses unique potential to advance the state of the art in nuclear reactor system simulation through computational tools. Specifically, as greater simulation fidelity for system components becomes possible through high-performance computing (HPC), Dr. Katz's research in computational fluid dynamics (CFD) will play a greater role in design, licensing, and operation of reactor systems—including the important post-Fukushima challenge of spent fuel disposition. High fidelity CFD can provide considerably more detail, especially for off-design conditions, transients, and accident scenarios. Dr. Katz has played a key role in the research and development of the next generation of CFD tools and has developed expertise to similarly impact the nuclear industry. He has developed a unique methodology for the verification and validation of physical models and their algorithmic implementation within computer codes. These techniques directly apply to the complex multiphase, multiphysics models needed to resolve nuclear reactor flows. Dr. Katz has also developed techniques for automatic grid generation of complex flow domains. Commercial mesh generation software generally does not possess a suitable degree of automation, especially for geometrically complex multi-scale problems and time-varying transient or turbulent flow features in which the geometry or solution changes rapidly. These problems require new approaches to mesh generation, which enhance scalability, facilitate mesh adaptivity, and easily accommodate high-order accurate methods. Such procedures will enhance the role of CFD for safety analysis, licensing, and design.

Dr. Jason Quinn began his MAE tenure track position in July 2012. His expertise is systems engineering modeling, life-cycle assessment, and techno-economics. Dr. Quinn completed a master's degree at the University of Wisconsin-Madison in Nuclear Engineering & Engineering Physics. He is uniquely qualified to evaluate the potential impact and limits of alternative innovative nuclear reactor plants on US energy goals. He is interested in using validated systems models to assess and highlight research areas that can improve the reliability and decrease costs for nuclear energy. Modeling work aimed at nuclear power and grid integration for improved capacity factor while maintaining reliability of the grid is an area of specific interest. Dr. Quinn is also interested in using systems models to increased understanding of nuclear power plant tradeoffs in terms of reactor life, grid integration, cost, safety, environmental impact, and terrorism susceptibility. Ultimately, Dr. Quinn is interested in applying advanced systems modeling to evaluate the overall impact of alternative nuclear energy technologies on the US energy portfolio. This would include the investigation of cost benefit analysis of altering current reactors to extend life, optimization studies focused on new technologies, integration of current research data, and predictive scenario assessment. He will also be involved in the development of new courses for MAE students.

In both new professors' cases, establishing relationships with technical personnel at national labs (e.g., INL, ORNL, LLNL, Argonne, Los Alamos, and Sandia) will be critical for their meaningful entrance into their respective nuclear research areas. MAE researchers have realized tremendous benefit from working with national labs and are committed to strengthening those ties.

- NRC funds will be used to provide regular travel and visits to INL and other relevant nuclear labs and industry to develop collaborations with researchers, DOE/NE technical area leads, and observe as well as participate in ongoing nuclear research.
- The new faculty members will also be highly engaged in identifying funding opportunities and writing grant proposals as well as visiting with federal program managers and potential collaborators. NRC funds will be used for travel expenses to attend two nuclear conferences/ workshops per year to support the above mentioned efforts.

Goal 2: Establish Dr. Katz's research in thermohydraulics computation/simulation and Dr. Quinn's research in systems engineering and life-cycle analysis for nuclear energy applications as integral elements of USU's nuclear engineering research center (TMP) to further enable collaboration and sustained research success.

Nuclear research integration and faculty retention efforts will also be engaged by the new faculty members working alongside MAE colleagues with complementary skills and who are established nuclear engineering researchers. Abundant opportunities exist for new faculty to collaborate with researchers at USU, INL, and other universities to advance in their respective areas of expertise. Seeking further opportunity in fundamental and emerging nuclear engineering research areas is also the goal of USU's nuclear engineering research center (TMP). TMP's developing organization is shown in Figure 1 with MAE faculty members positioned in key nuclear engineering research areas. Joint appointments are under active discussions with USU and INL administrators.

MAE's nuclear research is sponsored by DOE Nuclear Energy University Program (NEUP) R&D, NEUP Scholarship and Fellowship, INL, Sandia National Laboratory, National Nuclear Security Administration, National Science Foundation, Industry, and NRC (Faculty Development, Scholarship, and Fellowship programs). Currently MAE has $3.5 million in active nuclear research grants.

TMP emphasizes the research themes of safety and efficiency as well as nuclear waste disposal. Presently, TMP focuses on two primary research thrusts: 1) thermohydraulics, including computational simulation and experimental evaluation and 2) materials thermal and mechanical behaviors. Dr. Katz research complements thrust area 1 very well. TMP will add a third thrust area 3) systems engineering and life-cycle analysis to accommodate Dr. Quinn's expertise.

Drs. Katz and Quinn will also receive NRC funding from this grant for:

- One month's summer support in each year to lay the foundations of their nuclear research programs;
- Support for one doctoral student for three years. (This has proven to be critical for a new tenure track faculty member in starting his/her career.)

2. Selection Process Ensuring the Best Qualified Applicants Have Been Selected

Dr. Katz and Dr. Quinn were hired from a candidate pool of 230 and 150 respectively. The position announcements were deliberately broad based in terms of research interests. MAE's selection criteria emphasized a demonstrated research foundation based on engineering and scientific fundamentals, the potential to conduct research and teach in nuclear engineering specifics, and the personal characteristics that facilitate full integration into the MAE community. At this point in time, the data clearly show that each candidate is an excellent fit for MAE and each fills a needed technical niche for our nuclear energy emphasis.

3. Management Structure and Capability for Administering the Program

With existing department resources and with the development of TMP, MAE has in place an excellent management structure for the program to insure its successful implementation. Dr. Byard Wood (PI and MAE Department Head), and Dr. Heng Ban (Co-PI and TMP Director) will share responsibility for program funds, which will be managed through the MAE accountant. The PI and Co-PI will also be responsible for program evaluation and will require quarterly reports from the new faculty members as well as their mentors on progress toward publications, course development, and research funding. This information will be included in reports to NRC. Other senior MAE faculty members and TMP participants will also participate in the programmatic goals:

PI: Dr. Wood will be solely responsible for planning, directing, and executing the proposed project. He will ensure effective use of financial resources and faculty development activities. He will facilitate travel to and involvement with INL and other key nuclear research and industry conferences and meetings. He will be responsible for submitting all of the required reports. Dr. Wood has managed more than $23M in funded research across his career.

Co-PI: Dr. Ban will facilitate research proposal development. He will also coordinate face-to-face interaction with the faculty members and funding program managers. He will facilitate faculty integration into the research center. The new faculty will produce quarterly reports on their research activities relative to their doctoral students' work in TMP. The information will be reported in semi-annual performance reports to NRC.

4. Assessment and Evaluation

This Faculty Development Program will be considered a success if by the end of the grant period MAE can achieve the following milestones:

- Drs. Katz and Quinn have at least two new graduate students working in nuclear engineering research.
- Dr. Katz and Dr. Quinn have written and submitted at least three nuclear-related proposals in each year of the grant and have secured >$200,000 in external nuclear-related funding.
- Drs. Katz and Quinn will each develop a signature course that will be included in the nuclear engineering emphasis area in the BS and graduate mechanical engineering curricula.
- At least four multi-institutional collaborative proposals in nuclear engineering have been submitted through TMP to appropriate funding sources that include Drs. Katz and Quinn.
- MAE will have at least 15 graduate students that have graduate research assistantships/fellowships from nuclear related grants/contracts.
- Annual TMP research expenditures in nuclear research are approaching $1.5 million.

Long experience has shown that tenure track faculty has a high probability of achieving tenure with the momentum for a productive academic career, if proper mentoring and appropriate infrastructure is available to new faculty members at the very beginning of the tenure track. This proposal has implicitly discussed a comprehensive mentoring program and infrastructure for each candidate. This NRC grant will add significantly to both mentoring and infrastructure. To ensure its success in achieving these program milestones, the TMP will hold an annual retreat each spring to reaffirm goals and objectives and/or make adjustments. The faculty will evaluate all program outcomes including employment opportunities for its graduates and update its roadmap for continued success. Discussions from these faculty retreats will also be used to generate grant report information.

Certifications and Representations: These terms incorporate the certifications and representations required by statute, executive order, or regulation that were submitted with the SF424B application through Grants.gov.

I. Mandatory General Requirements

The order of these requirements does not make one requirement more important than any other requirement.

1. Applicability of 2 CFR Part 215

a. All provisions of 2 CFR Part 215 and all Standard Provisions attached to this grant/cooperative agreement are applicable to the Grantee and to sub-recipients which meet the definition of "Grantee" in Part 215, unless a section specifically excludes a sub-recipient from coverage. The Grantee and any sub-recipients must, in addition to the assurances made as part of the application, comply and require each of its sub-awardees employed in the completion of the project to comply with Subpart C of 2 CFR 215 and include this term in lower-tier (subaward) covered transactions.

2. Award Package

§ 215.41 Grantee responsibilities.

The Grantee is obligated to conduct such project oversight as may be appropriate, to manage the funds with prudence, and to comply with the provisions outlined in 2 CFR 215.41. Within this framework, the Principal Investigator (PI) named on the award face page, Block 11, is responsible for the scientific or technical direction of the project and for preparation of the project performance reports. This award is funded on a cost reimbursement basis not to exceed the amount awarded as indicated on the face page, Block 16 and is subject to a refund of unexpended funds to NRC.

The standards contained in this section do not relieve the Grantee of the contractual responsibilities arising under its contract(s). The Grantee is the responsible authority, without recourse to the NRC, regarding the settlement and satisfaction of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements entered into in support of an award or other agreement. This includes disputes, claims, protests of award, source evaluation or other matters of a contractual nature. Matters concerning violation of statute are to be referred to such Federal, State or local authority as may have proper jurisdiction.

Any other applicable non-discrimination law(s).

Generally, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 USC § 2000e et seq, provides that it shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer to discharge any individual or otherwise to discriminate against an individual with respect to compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin.

However, Title VI, 42 USC § 2000e-1(a), expressly exempts from the prohibition against discrimination on the basis of religion, a religious corporation, association, educational institution, or society with respect to the employment of individuals of a particular religion to perform work connected with the carrying on by such corporation, association, educational institution, or society of its activities.

Modifications/Prior Approval

NRC's prior written approval may be required before a Grantee makes certain budget modifications or undertakes particular activities. If NRC approval is required for changes in the grant or cooperative agreement, it must be requested of, and obtained from, the NRC Grants Officer in advance of the change or obligation of funds. All requests for NRC prior approval should be made, in writing (which includes submission by e-mail), to the designated Grants Specialist and Program Office no later than 30 days before the proposed change. The request must be signed by both the PI and the authorized organizational official. Failure to obtain prior approval, when required, from the NRC Grants Officer may result in the disallowance of costs, or other enforcement action within NRC's authority.

Lobbying Restrictions

The Grantee will comply, as applicable, with provisions of the Hatch Act (5 U.S.C. §§1501-1508 and 7324-7328) which limit the political activities of employees whose principal employment activities are funded in whole or in part with Federal funds.

The Grantee shall comply with provisions of 31 USC § 1352. This provision generally prohibits the use of Federal funds for lobbying in the Executive or Legislative Branches of the Federal Government in connection with the award, and requires disclosure of the use of non-Federal funds for lobbying.

The Grantee receiving in excess of $100,000 in Federal funding shall submit a completed Standard Form (SF) LLL, "Disclosure of Lobbying Activities," regarding the use of non-Federal funds for lobbying within 30 days following the end of the calendar quarter in which there occurs any event that requires disclosure or that materially affects the accuracy of the information contained in any disclosure form previously filed. The Grantee must submit the SF-LLL, including those received from sub-recipients, contractors, and subcontractors, to the Grants Officer.

§ 215.13 Debarment And Suspension.

The Grantee agrees to notify the Grants Officer immediately upon learning that it or any of its principals:

- (1) Are presently excluded or disqualified from covered transactions by any Federal department or agency;
- (2) Have been convicted within the preceding three-year period preceding this proposal been convicted of or had a civil judgment rendered against them for commission of fraud or a criminal offense in connection with obtaining, attempting to obtain, or performing a public (Federal, State, or local) transaction or contract under a public transaction; violation of Federal or State antitrust statutes or commission of embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, tax evasion, receiving stolen property, making false claims, or obstruction of justice; commission of any other offense indicating a lack of business integrity or business honesty that seriously and directly affects your present responsibility;

- (4) Have had one or more public transactions (Federal, State, or local) terminated for cause or default within the preceding three years.

b. The Grantee agrees that, unless authorized by the Grants Officer, it will not knowingly enter into any subgrant or contracts under this grant/cooperative agreement with a person or entity that is included on the Excluded Parties List System (<http://epls.arnet.gov>).

The Grantee further agrees to include the following provision in any subgrant or contracts entered into under this award:

'Debarment, Suspension, Ineligibility, and Voluntary Exclusion

The Grantee certifies that neither it nor its principals is presently excluded or disqualified from participation in this transaction by any Federal department or agency. The policies and procedures applicable to debarment, suspension, and ineligibility under NRC-financed transactions are set forth in 2 CFR Part 180.'

Drug-Free Workplace

The Grantee must be in compliance with The Federal Drug Free Workplace Act of 1988. The policies and procedures applicable to violations of these requirements are set forth in 41 USC 702.

Implementation of E.O. 13224 -- Executive Order On Terrorist Financing

The Grantee is reminded that U.S. Executive Orders and U.S. law prohibits transactions with, and the provision of resources and support to, individuals and organizations associated with terrorism. It is the legal responsibility of the Grantee to ensure compliance with these Executive Orders and laws. This provision must be included in all contracts/sub-awards issued under this grant/cooperative agreement.

Sections 215.41 through 215.48 set forth standards for use by Grantees in establishing procedures for the procurement of supplies and other expendable property, equipment, real property and other services with Federal funds. These standards are furnished to ensure that such materials and services are obtained in an effective manner and in compliance with the provisions of applicable Federal statutes and executive orders. No additional procurement standards or requirements shall be imposed by the Federal awarding agencies upon Grantees, unless specifically required by Federal statute or executive order or approved by OMB.

Travel

Travel must be in accordance with the Grantee's Travel Regulations or the US Government Travel Policy and Regulations at: www.gsa.gov/federaltravelregulation and the per diem rates set forth at: www.gsa.gov/perdiem, absent Grantee's travel regulation. All other travel, domestic or international, must not increase the total estimated award amount.

Domestic Travel:

Domestic travel is an appropriate charge to this award and prior authorization for specific trips are not required, if the trip is identified in the Grantee's approved program description and approved budget. Domestic trips not stated in the approved budget require the written prior approval of the Grants Officer, and must not increase the total estimated award amount.

All common carrier travel reimbursable hereunder shall be via the least expensive class rates consistent with achieving the objective of the travel and in accordance with the Grantee's policies and practices. Travel by first-class travel is not authorized unless prior approval is obtained from the Grants Officer.

International Travel:

International travel requires PRIOR written approval by the Project Officer and the Grants Officer, even if the international travel is stated in the approved program description and the approved budget.

The Grantee shall comply with the provisions of the Fly American Act (49 USC 40118) as implemented through 41 CFR 301-10.131 through 301-10.143.

Property and Equipment Management Standards

Property and equipment standards of this award shall follow provisions as established in 2 CFR 215.30-37.

Procurement Standards

Procurement standards of this award shall follow provisions as established in 2 CFR 215.40-48

Intangible and Intellectual Property

Intangible and intellectual property of this award shall generally follow provisions established in 2 CFR 215.36.

Inventions Report

The Bayh-Dole Act (P.L. 96-517) affords Grantees the right to elect and retain title to inventions they develop with funding under an NRC grant award ("subject inventions"). In accepting an award, the Grantee agrees to comply with applicable NRC policies, the Bayh-Dole Act, and its Government-wide implementing regulations found at Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 401. A significant part of the regulations require that the Grantee report all subject inventions to the awarding agency (NRC) as well as include an acknowledgement of federal support in any patents. NRC participates in the trans-government Interagency Edison system (<http://www.iedison.gov>) and expects NRC funding Grantees to use this system to comply with Bayh-Dole and related intellectual property reporting requirements. The system allows for Grantees to submit reports electronically via the Internet. In addition, the invention must be reported in continuation applications (competing or non-competing).

Patent Notification Procedures

Pursuant to EO 12889, NRC is required to notify the owner of any valid patent covering technology whenever the NRC or its financial assistance Grantees, without making a patent search, knows (or has demonstrable reasonable grounds to know) that technology covered by a valid United States patent has been or will be used without a license from the owner. To ensure proper notification, if the Grantee uses or has used patented technology under this award without license or permission from the owner, the Grantee must notify the Grants Officer. This notice does not necessarily mean that the Government authorizes and consents to any copyright or patent infringement occurring under the financial assistance.

Data, Databases, and Software

The rights to any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award are determined by 2 CFR 215.36. Such works may include data, databases or software. The

Grantee owns any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award subject to NRC's right to obtain, reproduce, publish or otherwise use the work or authorize others to receive, reproduce, publish or otherwise use the data for Government purposes.

2. How many items have the sponsored faculty produced, for example, Professional Journal articles, publications, patents, or conference reports?
 - a. Response is the type and number of items, for this reporting period and cumulative to the grant.

Unsatisfactory Performance

Failure to perform the work in accordance with the terms of the award and maintain at least a satisfactory performance rating or equivalent evaluation may result in designation of the

Grantee as high risk and assignment of special award conditions or other further action as specified in the standard term and condition entitled "Termination."

Failure to comply with any or all of the provisions of the award may have a negative impact on future funding by NRC and may be considered grounds for any or all of the following actions: establishment of an accounts receivable, withholding of payments under any NRC award, changing the method of payment from advance to reimbursement only, or the imposition of other special award conditions, suspension of any NRC active awards, and termination of any NRC award.

Other Federal Awards With Similar Programmatic Activities

The Grantee shall immediately provide written notification to the NRC Project Officer and the Grants Officer in the event that, subsequent to receipt of the NRC award, other financial assistance is received to support or fund any portion of the program description incorporated into the NRC award. Site Visits

The NRC, through authorized representatives, has the right, at all reasonable times, to make site visits to review project accomplishments and management control systems and to provide such technical assistance as may be required. If any site visit is made by the NRC on the premises of the Grantee or contractor under an award, the Grantee shall provide and shall require his/her contractors to provide all reasonable facilities and assistance for the safety and convenience of the Government representative in the performance of their duties. All site visits and evaluations shall be performed in such a manner as will not unduly delay the work.

IV. Miscellaneous Requirements

Criminal and Prohibited Activities

- a. The Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act (31 USC §§ 3801-3812), provides for the imposition of civil penalties against persons who make false, fictitious, or fraudulent claims to the Federal government for money (including money representing grant/cooperative agreements, loans, or other benefits.)

False statements (18 USC § 287), provides that whoever makes or presents any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements, representations, or claims against the United States shall be subject to imprisonment of not more than five years and shall be subject to a fine in the amount provided by 18 USC § 287.

American-Made Equipment And Products

Grantees are hereby notified that they are encouraged, to the greatest extent practicable, to purchase American-made equipment and products with funding provided under this award.

Increasing Seat Belt Use in the United States

Pursuant to EO 13043, Grantees should encourage employees and contractors to enforce on-the-job seat belt policies and programs when operating company-owned, rented or personally-owned vehicle.

Federal Leadership of Reducing Text Messaging While Driving

Pursuant to EO 13513, Grantees should encourage employees, sub-awardees, and contractors to adopt and enforce policies that ban text messaging while driving company-owned, rented vehicles or privately owned vehicles when on official Government business or when performing any work for or on behalf of the Federal Government.

Federal Employee Expenses

Federal agencies are generally barred from accepting funds from a Grantee to pay transportation, travel, or other expenses for any Federal employee unless specifically approved in the terms of the award. Use of award funds (Federal or non-Federal) or the Grantee's provision of in-kind goods or services, for the purposes of transportation, travel, or any other expenses for any Federal employee may raise appropriation augmentation issues. In addition, NRC policy prohibits the acceptance of gifts, including travel payments for Federal employees, from Grantees or applicants regardless of the source.

Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs) Initiative

Pursuant to EOs 13256, 13230, and 13270, NRC is strongly committed to broadening the participation of MSIs in its financial assistance program. NRC's goals include achieving full participation of MSIs in order to advance the development of human potential, strengthen the Nation's capacity to provide high-quality education, and increase opportunities for MSIs to participate in and benefit from Federal financial assistance programs. NRC encourages all applicants and Grantees to include meaningful participations of MSIs. Institutions eligible to be considered MSIs are listed on the Department of Education website:
<http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/edlite-minorityinst.html>

Research Misconduct

Scientific or research misconduct refers to the fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. It does not include honest errors or differences of opinions. The Grantee organization has the primary responsibility to investigate allegations and provide reports to the Federal Government. Funds expended on an activity that is determined to be invalid or unreliable because of scientific misconduct may result in a disallowance of costs for which the institution may be liable for repayment to the awarding agency. The Office of Science and Technology Policy at the White House published in the Federal Register on December 6, 2000, a final policy that addressed research misconduct. The policy was developed by the National Science and Technology Council (65 FR 76260). The NRC requires that any allegation be submitted to the Grants Officer, who will also notify the OIG of such allegation. Generally, the Grantee organization shall investigate the allegation and submit its findings to the Grants Officer. The NRC may accept the Grantee's findings or proceed with its own investigation. The Grants Officer shall inform the Grantee of the NRC's final determination.

Publications, Videos, and Acknowledgment of Sponsorship

Publication of the results or findings of a research project in appropriate professional journals and production of video or other media is encouraged as an important method of recording and reporting scientific information. It is also a constructive means to expand access to federally funded research. The Grantee is required to submit a copy to the NRC and when releasing information related to a funded project include a statement that the project or effort undertaken was or is sponsored by the NRC. The Grantee is also responsible for assuring that every publication of material (including Internet sites and videos) based on or developed under an award, except scientific articles or papers appearing in scientific, technical or professional journals, contains the following disclaimer:

“This [report/video] was prepared by [Grantee name] under award [number] from [name of operating unit], Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The statements, findings, conclusions, and recommendations are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the view of the [name of operating unit] or the US Nuclear Regulatory Commission.”
