Attachment B – Program Description

Introduction

Trained nuclear engineers have been in high demand because of turnover in the aging nuclear industrial workforce, and the construction of a generation of new nuclear power plants may play an even more significant role in the employment dynamics of the industry. A sizable portion of these jobs demand education beyond the undergraduate level. Moreover, the relatively flat graduate NE&HP enrollment profile is aggravated by strong competition for nuclear graduates faced by the DOE, NRC, utilities and other employers who require the skill mix NE&HP graduates possess: the share of NE&HP graduates hired by these employers has remained flat in the face of competition from non-nuclear employers.

The graduate fellowships offered through the institutions receiving this award will mitigate this shortfall by establishing a steady and reliable pipeline of graduate degree holders to the NE&HP job market. Universities are especially strongly positioned to host fellows if they are building upon an already-proven, established track record of placement of graduates with utilities as well as the DOE and the NRC.

The Nuclear and Radiation Engineering (NRE) Program at The University of Texas at Austin has been educating engineers since 1957. Nuclear Engineering became an option in Engineering Science in 1960 and in Mechanical Engineering in 1970, where it is currently administered. In August 1963, the first TRIGA reactor hosted at UT-Austin went critical at 10kW. In 1992, a new 1 MW TRIGA became the centerpiece of the Nuclear Engineering Teaching Laboratory (NETL). The NRE Program includes an active distance learning component with 15 students currently completing their MS or PhD degrees from off-campus locations.

The Program's strong commitment to graduate nuclear engineering, health physics and radiochemistry education is reflected in the nineteen MS and PhD degrees awarded from 2010 through the summer of 2012. This achievement is noteworthy given the moderate faculty strength of the Program. A significant majority of these graduates have gone on to pursue employment with the national labs, NRC and utilities. Moreover, many of our graduates were placed in this pipeline while still students via summer and semester research assistantships.

Description of Proposed Nuclear Education Fellowship Program

We propose to deepen our commitment to providing employers with well-trained graduates by establishing two fellowship lines, one at the MS and one at the PhD level. The lines will offer up to two years of support to MS students and three years to a PhD student. The stable, guaranteed funding they offer – as long as good standing is maintained – is clearly of high importance to the students and serves as an excellent recruitment tool.

At the same time, we do not see the fellowships as the sole source of funding the students will receive over their graduate careers. UT-Austin holds a Fellowships Program award for the period 2009-13. Our award has supported six students, and four of them remained on the fellowship for just one year before transitioning to other external funding, from a national laboratory in three cases and a nationally-competitive fellowship in the fourth. The latitude granted by the NRC fellowship funding gave the students the opportunity to develop projects that were strong matches to their interests, in two cases by national laboratory internships the summer following their first year. Working with their faculty advisors, they were able to develop the externally funded contracts that are now supporting them. Please refer to the Results from Past NRC Funding section for a detailed history of each student's progress.

This suggests that the most effective way to leverage NRC fellowship funding is as a springboard to develop another external funding source. Students utilize their fellowship for as little as one year, freeing up the funding for use as a recruitment tool for the next student. This approach accentuates the benefits of the award to the university and the NE&HP field, as each student signs a service agreement. At the same time, students will be entitled to remain on the fellowship for as long as 2 years (MS line) or 3 years (MS/PhD) line, as this funding security is a key recruitment tool.

Academic Year	MS Line	MS/PhD Line

Therefore, we propose to support five students via these fellowships, as shown in the table at left. The support schedule is staggered so that at least one fellowship line is available as a recruitment tool during each year of performance. At the same time, we will not require students to remain on the fellowship for two years, so we may support more than five students over the course of the award. We consider the support of more than five students a desirable goal.

Applicant Recruitment, Selection, Monitoring and Reporting

This section describes the advertisement of the fellowship opportunities, selection criteria, progress monitoring and procedures for reporting to the sponsor.

Eligibility: to ensure that we target students who are beginning their graduate research we will restrict eligibility for the fellowships to students having completed no more than one year of engineering education post the highest degree they have received to date. Applicants must be US citizens and either current NRE graduate students or students who are considering offers to study in the NRE program.

Advertisement: We plan to utilize the fellowship award to expand our applicant pool by advertising in venues such as American Nuclear Society (ANS) national and student conferences. Our graduate students regularly attend ANS student conferences, including the most recent conference in April, 2012 at UNLV, where they serve as ambassadors at a heavily-attended graduate school recruitment event. The Fellowship Program will be advertised on the NRE program website where a customized webpage will be created by the Cockrell School of Engineering Faculty Innovation Center (FIC). The FIC has produced a webpage for the NRC-sponsored Summer Nuclear Engineering Institute (SNEI) at UT-Austin which may be viewed at <http://snei.engr.utexas.edu>.

Distribution of promotional materials to faculty colleagues at target institutions is an important element of our promotional activities. To this end, a flyer advertising the fellowships will be prepared with the assistance of the FIC and distributed to US nuclear engineering department chairs via the Nuclear Engineering Department Heads Organization (NEDHO). A flyer prepared by FIC for the SNEI is shown below. The flyer will also be sent to engineering and physics programs at Texas and regional institutions that do not possess a nuclear engineering department. In addition, the Office of the Big-12 Initiative has helped the PI successfully publicize the SNEI to the other Big-12 schools, and that Office would be tapped to assist in advertising the fellowships.

Qualified students will be recruited from underrepresented minorities. For additional information, refer to the section Outreach to State, Regional and Minority Serving Institutions below.

Application and Selection. The application and selection process is modeled upon the procedure followed in National Science Foundation Graduate Research Fellowship Program . The application will consist of:

- undergraduate transcripts and GRE scores,
- graduate transcripts if any graduate study has already been completed,
- a statement of personal and research interests (1-2 pp.) where applicants are asked to address this topic: "Please describe your nuclear-related research and educational objectives in graduate school. Also describe how you plan to fulfill the fellowship requirement that you begin your professional career with nuclear-related employment."
- at least two letters of support.

Fellowship recipients will be selected by a committee composed of the investigators. Committee members will be asked to score the statement and letters of support. Following the guidelines for review of the NSF Fellowships, the committee members will be asked to consider both the intellectual merit of the package, the broader impact the proposed work would likely have if conducted by the applicant, and the degree of commitment of the applicant to one or more of the career paths targeted by the fellowships. A quantitative metric will be used to compare the applications: GRE + GPA: 40% (see below), personal statement: 40%, letters of support: 20%.

The GRE+GPA portion will be computed according to the method used for measuring candidates for admission to our graduate program. Specifically, the GRE+GPA score will be calculated as:  $2 + \text{Undergrad GPA in major} \times 4 + (\text{GRE Verbal}-130 + \text{GRE Quantitative}-130)/5 + \text{GRE Writing}$ . The maximum value of this score is 40. PhD and MS/PhD students scoring above 35/40 can receive additional salary support from the Cockrell School of Engineering (see Benefits section below). As an example, a PhD student with a 3.7/4 GPA, 162/170 GRE verbal, 168/170 GRE quantitative and 5/6 GRE writing would score a 35.8/40 and receive additional funding from the School. As an investment in our NRE program the School has committed to provide four years of this matching support, as discussed further in the Cost Sharing section.

To leverage this cost sharing opportunity, we will impose this GRE+GPA score academic requirement on the Fellow applicants. It acts in addition to, and in most cases is more stringent than, the 3.3 entering GPA requirement that is the minimum criterion specified in the RFP. Although the quantitative metric will be a major element in the committee's decision, with the exception of the GRA+GPA score criterion it reserves the right to consider other factors when choosing awardees. These other factors will reflect a sincere effort to award fellowships to a diverse group of students and may include applicant minority status and socioeconomic background. We will pay particular attention to gender as our program follows the national trend where only about fifteen percent of matriculated students are female.

Award Benefits. The fellowship award will cover full tuition fees for its recipients . The MS/PhD level fellowship will provide full calendar year support, while the MS level fellowship will provide academic year (9 month) support. The 2012-2013 tuition for full-time graduate students is $4,872 per semester and $1,870 for the summer. Since future tuition rates are not available, a 4% increase per year is assumed for budgeting as per guidance from the School.

Fellows will be paid a monthly stipend. To foster more effective recruiting, the stipend will be approximately 15% higher than that offered to graduate research and teaching assistants in our program. For AY 2012-13 we pay most PhD (post MS) research assistants $1900 per month and MS students $1750 per month. Fellowship recipients will be paid $2250 per month and $2000 per month, respectively. They will also receive an allowance of 26.03% of their base stipend to purchase the UT-Austin health insurance given to graduate research assistants. This fringe benefit rate follows University guidance. We escalate these benefits at 3% per year.

As mentioned, qualified fellowship recipients may receive an additional internal Cockrell School fellowship of $9,000 per year for up to four years from the Cockrell School, so that the total remuneration package will be very competitive. We are requiring that the MS/PhD fellow meet these qualifications, and we have received School commitment to set aside a School fellowship as a cost sharing commitment. Please see the Cost Sharing section for more details.

Requirements and Evaluation Plan. The fellowship recipients will be required to

- sign the Service Agreement as defined in the FOA,
- maintain a full course load as defined by the Cockrell School of Engineering,
- maintain 3.3 GPA in our graduate program,
- make satisfactory progress within their degree program .

Compliance with these criteria will be monitored by the NRE program. The NRE program will maintain quantitative data on the fellowship recipients – e.g., GPAs, publication and conference attendance history – that will be collected via the Mechanical Engineering department's online GRADE (Graduate Researcher Annual Development & Evaluation) program. The figure at left shows some of the information categories collected by GRADE.

GRADE information will assist in the preparation of semi-annual reports that will contain:

- Number and content of fellowship applications. This data will be collected to measure the size and quality of the fellowship applicant pool. Particular attention will be paid to the diversity of the pool with numbers of female and minority status applications reported.
- Fellow performance: quantitative. GPAs, conference attendance and number of publications will be compiled. MS fellows will be expected to attend one conference and prepare one conference publication during their Fellowship tenure. PhD students will be expected to attend two conferences and prepare one conference publication and one peer-reviewed journal article during their fellowship (assuming the fellowships run to term). A brief synopsis of fellows' reports from 2009-12 is in the Results from Past NRC Funding section.
- Fellow performance: qualitative. At the conclusion of each year of the performance period, every fellowship recipient will be expected to present a 45 minute presentation of his research and academic activities. The presentation will be made as a seminar to the entire Nuclear and Radiation Engineering Program.
- Faculty assessment of Fellow. The faculty advisor of each fellowship recipient will prepare a one-page evaluation of the fellow's performance over the previous year.
- Fellow job search report. Students supported by fellowship funds and in the last year of their graduate program will prepare a short (1 pp.) report describing the employment options they are considering. The report must demonstrate that the employment options comply with the Fellowship stipulations.

- Fellow placement report. Graduating recipients provide documentation of the employment they have accepted or vacancies they are pursuing, including job description(s).

Outreach to State, Regional and Minority Serving Institutions

The PIs have ongoing interactions with the UT Equal Opportunities for Engineers (EOE), Women in Engineering (WEP) and minority-serving Texas Research Experience (TREX) programs. The Fellowship Program will be listed with the Cockrell School of Engineering Scholarship office and the EOE office. EOE collaborates with the Society of Hispanic Professional Engineers (SHPE) and the National Society of Black Engineers (NSBE) and we will work with the SHPE, Society of Women Engineers (SWE) and NSBE chapters to ensure that these organizations publicize fellowship opportunities to their nationwide membership.

We will also recruit at regional and minority-serving institutions where the Investigators maintain close contacts and collaborations. We maintain ties with Florida Memorial University (FMU), an Historically Black College or University (HBCU), where we have assisted in development of a radiochemistry program. Students and faculty members from FMU have attended summer research programs at NETL. Co-PI Sheldon Landsberger serves on the Nuclear Engineering Advisory Board of the College of Engineering at the University of Texas at Arlington (UTA) where a new undergraduate nuclear technical option has recently been established.

Cost Sharing

The effectiveness of the fellowship program for recruitment is contingent upon an attractive compensation package. We propose to pay a base salary around 15% higher than the standard graduate student stipend, but to further augment this UT-Austin will provide significant additional salary support. The Cockrell School of Engineering is committed to attracting top talent to the NRE program and will provide $9,000 per year to the PhD-level fellowship for a total of $36,000 in matching funding. This funding is contingent upon the recipient's academic record meeting our requirements as described in the Application and Selection section. Therefore, the augmented fellowship will offer a 12-month salary of $36,000 in 2013-14. This is $4,000 higher than the $32,000 received by a National Science Foundation Graduate Fellow .

Any inconsistency or conflict in terms and conditions specified in the award will be resolved according to the following order of precedence: public laws, regulations, applicable notices published in the Federal Register, Executive Orders (EOs), Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circulars, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission’s (NRC) Mandatory Standard Provisions, special award conditions, and standard award conditions.

Certifications and Representations: These terms incorporate the certifications and representations required by statute, executive order, or regulation that were submitted with the SF424B application through Grants.gov.

I. Mandatory General Requirements

The order of these requirements does not make one requirement more important than any other requirement.

1. Applicability of 2 CFR Part 215

a. All provisions of 2 CFR Part 215 and all Standard Provisions attached to this grant/cooperative agreement are applicable to the Grantee and to sub-recipients which meet the definition of "Grantee" in Part 215, unless a section specifically excludes a sub-recipient from coverage. The Grantee and any sub-recipients must, in addition to the assurances made as part of the application, comply and require each of its sub-awardees employed in the completion of the project to comply with Subpart C of 2 CFR 215 and include this term in lower-tier (subaward) covered transactions.

b. Grantees must comply with monitoring procedures and audit requirements in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

2. Award Package

§ 215.41 Grantee responsibilities.

The Grantee is obligated to conduct such project oversight as may be appropriate, to manage the funds with prudence, and to comply with the provisions outlined in 2 CFR 215.41. Within this framework, the Principal Investigator (PI) named on the award face page, Block 11, is responsible for the scientific or technical direction of the project and for preparation of the project performance reports. This award is funded on a cost reimbursement basis not to exceed the amount awarded as indicated on the face page, Block 16, and is subject to a refund of unexpended funds to NRC.

The standards contained in this section do not relieve the Grantee of the contractual responsibilities arising under its contract(s). The Grantee is the responsible authority, without recourse to the NRC, regarding the settlement and satisfaction of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements entered into in support of an award or other agreement. This includes disputes, claims, and protests of award, source evaluation or other matters of a contractual nature. Matters concerning violation of statute are to be referred to such Federal, State or local authority as may have proper jurisdiction.

Subgrants

Appendix A to Part 215—Contract Provisions

Sub-recipients, sub-awardees, and contractors have no relationship with NRC under the terms of this grant/cooperative agreement. All required NRC approvals must be directed through the Grantee to NRC. See 2 CFR 215 and 2 CFR 215.41

Nondiscrimination

(This provision is applicable when work under the grant/cooperative agreement is performed in the U.S. or when employees are recruited in the U.S.)

No U.S. citizen or legal resident shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination under any program or activity funded by this award on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, handicap, or sex. The Grantee agrees to comply with the non-discrimination requirements below:

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 USC §§ 2000d et seq)

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (20 USC §§ 1681 et seq)

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended (29 USC § 794)

The Age Discrimination Act of 1975, as amended (42 USC §§ 6101 et seq)

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 USC §§ 12101 et seq)

Parts II and III of EO 11246 as amended by EO 11375 and 12086.

EO 13166, "Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency."

Any other applicable non-discrimination law(s).

Generally, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 USC § 2000e et seq, provides that it shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer to discharge any individual or otherwise to discriminate against an individual with respect to compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. However, Title VI, 42 USC § 2000e-1(a), expressly exempts from the prohibition against discrimination on the basis of religion, a religious corporation, association, educational institution, or society with respect to the employment of individuals of a particular religion to perform work connected with the carrying on by such corporation, association, educational institution, or society of its activities.

Modifications/Prior Approval

NRC's prior written approval may be required before a Grantee makes certain budget modifications or undertakes particular activities. If NRC approval is required for changes in the grant or cooperative agreement, it must be requested of, and obtained from, the NRC Grants Officer in advance of the change or obligation of funds. All requests for NRC prior approval should be made, in writing (which includes submission by e-mail), to the designated Grants Specialist and Program Office no later than 30 days before the proposed change. The request must be signed by both the PI and the authorized organizational official. Failure to obtain prior approval, when required, from the NRC Grants Officer may result in the disallowance of costs, or other enforcement action within NRC's authority.

Lobbying Restrictions

The Grantee will comply, as applicable, with provisions of the Hatch Act (5 U.S.C. §§1501-1508 and 7324-7328) which limit the political activities of employees whose principal employment activities are funded in whole or in part with Federal funds.

The Grantee shall comply with provisions of 31 USC § 1352. This provision generally prohibits the use of Federal funds for lobbying in the Executive or Legislative Branches of the Federal Government in connection with the award, and requires disclosure of the use of non-Federal funds for lobbying.

The Grantee receiving in excess of $100,000 in Federal funding shall submit a completed Standard Form (SF) LLL, "Disclosure of Lobbying Activities," regarding the use of non-Federal funds for lobbying within 30 days following the end of the calendar quarter in which there occurs any event that requires disclosure or that materially affects the accuracy of the information contained in any disclosure form previously filed. The Grantee must submit the SF-LLL, including those received from sub-recipients, contractors, and subcontractors, to the Grants Officer.

§ 215.13 Debarment And Suspension.

The Grantee agrees to notify the Grants Officer immediately upon learning that it or any of its principals:

- (1) Are presently excluded or disqualified from covered transactions by any Federal department or agency;
- (2) Have been convicted within the preceding three-year period preceding this proposal been convicted of or had a civil judgment rendered against them for commission of fraud or a criminal offense in connection with obtaining, attempting to obtain, or performing a public (Federal, State, or local) transaction or contract under a public transaction; violation of Federal or State antitrust statutes or commission of embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, tax evasion, receiving stolen property, making false claims, or obstruction of justice; commission of any other offense indicating a lack of business integrity or business honesty that seriously and directly affects your present responsibility;

Inventions Report - The Bayh-Dole Act (P.L. 96-517) affords Grantees the right to elect and retain title to inventions they develop with funding under an NRC grant award ("subject inventions"). In accepting an award, the Grantee agrees to comply with applicable NRC policies, the Bayh-Dole Act, and its Government-wide implementing regulations found at Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 401. A significant part of the regulations require that the Grantee report all subject inventions to the awarding agency (NRC) as well as include an acknowledgement of federal support in any patents. NRC participates in the trans-government Interagency Edison system (<http://www.iedison.gov>) and expects NRC funding Grantees to use this system to comply with Bayh-Dole and related intellectual property reporting requirements. The system allows for Grantees to submit reports electronically via the Internet. In addition, the invention must be reported in continuation applications (competing or non-competing).

Patent Notification Procedures- Pursuant to EO 12889, NRC is required to notify the owner of any valid patent covering technology whenever the NRC or its financial assistance Grantees, without making a patent search, knows (or has demonstrable reasonable grounds to know) that technology covered by a valid United States patent has been or will be used without a license from the owner. To ensure proper notification, if the Grantee uses or has used patented technology under this award without license or permission from the owner, the Grantee must notify the Grants Officer. This notice does not necessarily mean that the Government authorizes and consents to any copyright or patent infringement occurring under the financial assistance.

Data, Databases, and Software - The rights to any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award are determined by 2 CFR 215.36. Such works may include data, databases or software. On occasion, NRC may ask the Grantee to transfer to NRC its copyright in a particular work when NRC is undertaking the primary dissemination of the work. Ownership of copyright by the Government through assignment is permitted under 17 USC § 105.

Records Retention and Access Requirements for records of the Grantee shall follow established provisions in 2 CFR 215.53.

Organizational Prior Approval System

In order to carry out its responsibilities for monitoring project performance and for adhering to award terms and conditions, each Grantee organization shall have a system to ensure that appropriate authorized officials provide necessary organizational reviews and approvals in advance of any action that would result in either the performance or modification of an NRC supported activity where prior approvals are required, including the obligation or expenditure of funds where the governing cost principles either prescribe conditions or require approvals.

The Grantee shall designate an appropriate official or officials to review and approve the actions requiring NRC prior approval. Preferably, the authorized official(s) should be the same official(s) who sign(s) or countersign(s) those types of requests that require prior approval by NRC. ### Unsatisfactory Performance

Failure to perform the work in accordance with the terms of the award and maintain at least a satisfactory performance rating or equivalent evaluation may result in designation of the Grantee as high risk and assignment of special award conditions or other further action as specified in the standard term and condition entitled "Termination."

Failure to comply with any or all of the provisions of the award may have a negative impact on future funding by NRC and may be considered grounds for any or all of the following actions: establishment of an accounts receivable, withholding of payments under any NRC award, changing the method of payment from advance to reimbursement only, or the imposition of other special award conditions, suspension of any NRC active awards, and termination of any NRC award.

Federal Employee Expenses

Federal agencies are generally barred from accepting funds from a Grantee to pay transportation, travel, or other expenses for any Federal employee unless specifically approved in the terms of the award. Use of award funds (Federal or non-Federal) or the Grantee's provision of in-kind goods or services, for the purposes of transportation, travel, or any other expenses for any Federal employee may raise appropriation augmentation issues. In addition, NRC policy prohibits the acceptance of gifts, including travel payments for Federal employees, from Grantees or applicants regardless of the source.

Pursuant to EOs 13256, 13230, and 13270, NRC is strongly committed to broadening the participation of MSIs in its financial assistance program. ### Research Misconduct

Scientific or research misconduct refers to the fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. It does not include honest errors or differences of opinions. The Grantee organization has the primary responsibility to investigate allegations and provide reports to the Federal Government. The Office of Science and Technology Policy at the White House published in the Federal Register on December 6, 2000, a final policy that addressed research misconduct. The policy was developed by the National Science and Technology Council (65 FR 76260). The Grants Officer shall inform the Grantee of the NRC's final determination.

Publications, Videos, and Acknowledgment of Sponsorship

Publication of the results or findings of a research project in appropriate professional journals and production of video or other media is encouraged as an important method of recording and reporting scientific information. It is also a constructive means to expand access to federally funded research. The Grantee is required to submit a copy to the NRC and when releasing information related to a funded project include a statement that the project or effort undertaken was or is sponsored by the NRC. The Grantee is also responsible for assuring that every publication of material (including Internet sites and videos) based on or developed under an award, except scientific articles or papers appearing in scientific, technical or professional journals, contains the following disclaimer:

"This [report/video] was prepared by [Grantee name] under award [number] from [name of operating unit], Nuclear Regulatory Commission.
