Attachment B – Program Description

1. Introduction

The inception of nuclear engineering at the University of Florida dates back to March 1951, when UF held an Engineering and Radiological Health and Civil Defense Conference. The University of Florida Training Reactor (UFTR) went critical in May 1959. Nuclear Engineering at UF has continually evolved to educate nuclear engineers and perform cutting-edge nuclear research for almost 60 years. Over the past decade, the program (formerly known as the Nuclear and Radiological Engineering Department) has continued to improve in term of quality and number of students, research funding, facilities, and laboratories. This growth has created new challenges in meeting infrastructure, facilities/laboratories, and personnel requirements. The program was reconfigured in May 2011 to take advantage of current trends in the discipline and to leverage strengths in the College of Engineering. The Medical Physics Graduate Program joined the Department of Biomedical Engineering, with the Health Physics Graduate Program. The Nuclear Engineering Program is now integrated into the Department of Materials Science and Engineering (MSE), which has strengths in nuclear materials. Dr. Simon Phillpot, Chairman of MSE, was appointed (Interim) Director of the Nuclear Engineering Program.

Despite the changes in organization of the program, enrollment has remained relatively strong. The number of undergraduates in the program continues to grow, from approximately 110 in Fall 2007 to approximately 160 in Fall 2012. The graduate enrollment has currently about 20 graduate students, but we enrolled 7 new students in the Fall 2012 and will be admitting 2-3 additional graduate students in Spring 2013. While this seems to represent a significant drop from the approximately 60-70 graduate students in Fall 2007, approximately half of these students were in the Medical Physics program which is now in Biomedical Engineering. It is expected that the number of graduate students over the next 3-5 years will substantially grow, which the expectation at we have 40-50 graduate students in Fall 2017.

The Nuclear Engineering Program has several established laboratories which function to provide education and research opportunities for students, including 1) The Progress Energy Advanced Radiation Detection Laboratory with the mission to develop new neutron and gamma-ray detectors; 2) The X-ray Backscatter Imaging Laboratory for non-destructive testing and evaluation of materials and structures; and 3) The University of Florida Training Reactor (UFTR) which is a 100 kW Argonaut-type research reactor. In 2006, with assistance from the DOE Reduced Enrichment for Research and Test Reactor Program, we successfully completed the conversion of the UFTR nuclear fuel from HEU to LEU. Currently, with major funding and investment from several industrial supporters (including Progress Energy and Siemens), we are working on installing a fully digital control system for the UFTR. Also, efforts are underway to build new experimental workstations at the different ports of the UFTR.

In addition to NEP, the University of Florida College of Engineering is home to 10 other ABET accredited departments/programs. The number of students in COE is approaching 8000, which is comprised of ~5,500 undergraduates and ~2,500 graduate students.

Florida, with its high rate of population growth, will require significant expansion (over 35%) in its base-load generation capacity by 2030. As a result, the two Florida nuclear utilities, Florida Power and Light, and Progress Energy Florida, are planning to extend the life of their existing reactors, and to build four new nuclear power plants. Two of the proposed new power plants will be located in Levy County, approximately a 1-hour drive from the University of Florida campus. Thus, it is certainly a responsibility for higher education in the state to recruit and train the best and brightest students.

The Nuclear Engineering Program has been able to recruit excellent students by providing fellowships such as the COE Alumni Fellowship, which is funded by the COE and a specific number of fellowships is allotted to each engineering program. NRE's efforts in attracting excellent graduate students are reflected in the number of students actively participating in the student chapter of the American Nuclear Society. In addition, with our recent growth, we are establishing new student chapters in Women In Nuclear (WIN) and the Institute for Nuclear Materials Management (INMM). Both of these new student chapters will be established during the 2012-13 academic year.

2. Description of the Proposed Fellowship Program

The fellowship program is designed with a final goal of producing high quality engineers and scientists who benefit various sectors of nuclear industry. The following subsections elaborate on different aspects of the program including eligibility, amount of award, duration, selection committee, monitoring and progress reports, marketing, and program management.

2.1 Eligibility

A fellowship candidate must have a conferred baccalaureate degree from an accredited college or university and at least a GPA of 3.4 for all undergraduate work and a minimum of 1200 (Verbal + Quantitative) on the GRE. The selected fellows must maintain a course load of 9 credit hours per semester and be classified as full-time students as required by the NRC criteria. Minorities and women will be highly encouraged to apply.

2.2 Amount of Award, Duration, and Distribution

Since fellows can be selected for both M.S. and Ph.D. studies, we will consider 2- and 4-year fellowships, although we will give priority to Ph.D. students. The annual stipend for each fellow begins at $27,905 and will escalate at a 3% rate for students continuing on the fellowship in subsequent years. Tuition will be paid for each fellow. The total cost of the project over 4 years (2 fellowships/year) is $357,170.

2.3 Selection Committee

The Nuclear Engineering Program NRC Fellowship Committee which consists of three faculty (Drs. Simon Phillpot (Program Director and PI for the NRC Fellowship Program at UF) and one staff member (the NEP Academic Program Coordinator) will conduct the selection process. The selection will be based on a set of parameters with appropriate weighting for consistency and transparency. These parameters include GPA, GRE, priority condition (i.e., female and/or minority), essay, recommendation letters, and an interview with at least one member of the NEP NRC Fellowship Committee. In addition, students working with NEP faculty on a project funded by the NRC Faculty Development Program will receive higher priority (to enhance funding for both programs). To make sure that female and minority students receive a higher priority, additional weighting will be provided to students that improve diversity. We will utilize three different cases for scoring fellowship applications: Case 1 refers to a student without any special priority conditions; Case 2 refers to a student with one priority condition; Case 3 refers to a student with two priority conditions. Table 1 provides the proposed scoring for the three cases.

Table 1 – Weighting/Scoring Considered for Selection of Fellows

Factor	Case 1	Case 2	Case 3
GPA	20	20	20
GRE	15	15	15
Essay	15	15	15
Recommendations	15	15	15
Interview	10	10	10
Minority/Female		10	20
Integrated with NRC Faculty Development Program	5	5	5
Total Score	80	90	100

Annually, during the graduate recruitment season, generally January to mid-April, the Committee will review the progress of current fellows, and select new fellows from a pool of new applicants and existing graduate students (provide that fellowships are currently available).

2.4 Monitoring and Progress Reporting

The UF NEP NRC Fellowship Committee, with assistance from each fellow's faculty advisor, will monitor the educational program of each fellow, and prepare a report at the end of each semester (15 December for UF's Fall Semester, 15 May for UF's Spring Semester, and 15 August for UF's Summer Semester). These reports will contain information on the number of applicants versus fellowships awarded and include information on the tracking of GPA's and degree progress of students that are awarded fellowships. Any other information related to the academic accomplishments of the fellows demonstrating the high caliber of the participants will be included in the report as well (e.g., papers and presentations at conferences). Based on the semester reports, an annual and final report will be prepared and submitted to the NRC Project Manager electronically.

2.5 Recruitment Activities

The NEP will utilize existing programs at UF for graduate student recruitment. Specifically, we will utilize the annual UF College of Engineering Graduate Student Recruitment Weekend to invite top students which are selected by the NEP Graduate Admissions Committee base on all the parameters in Table 1. The event is typically scheduled at the end of February each year, and we generally select 10-12 applicants to visit the campus. During this recruitment event, faculty interview students in a relaxed setting during the various NEP activities culminating with a one-on-one appointment with the recruit. The travel cost is covered through a cost-share arrangement between the NEP and College of Engineering. Furthermore, all of the arrangements are made through the APC's office.

2.6 Marketing Strategies

Besides our existing marketing activities with regard to recruitment, we will consider the following for the proposed fellowship program:

- Advertise the program within the NEP website
- Prepare a one-page announcement for advertising and marketing the NRC Fellowship Program
- E-mail the announcement to potential graduate students
- Advertise the fellowship opportunity during the UF College of Engineering Graduate Recruitment Weekend
- Announce the program to graduate students via social media (the NEP Facebook page and Twitter)
- Encourage promotion of the NRC fellowship through the UF College of Engineering graduate programs recruiter who conducts visits to various institutions on behalf of the university

2.7 Management and Administration

The NEP will be responsible for the management and administration of the fellowship program. Professor Simon Phillpot, acting as Interim Director of NEP with assistance from Drs. Edward Dugan and James Baciak, will assume the managerial role by generating plans of action, making sure resources are optimally used to carry out the mission of the program, and checking progress against the plans of action in case there is a need to modify the plan(s).

3 Previous Experience

The NEP (formerly the Nuclear and Radiological Engineering Department) and its graduate students have benefited from various internal and external fellowship programs. Among these programs, below we provide a brief review of a few selected programs.

3.1 UF NRC Fellowship Program

In 2007 and 2008, we received NRC Fellowship Program awards as part of the U.S. Nuclear Regulatory Commission Nuclear Scholarship/Fellowship Program Announcement of Opportunity. These awards provided us with several fellowships that subsequently produced both MS and Ph.D. students that are currently working within the nuclear industry. These fellowships provided funds for a stipend, tuition, fees, and insurance. Some supplemental funds from the College of Engineering were provide to a few of the early fellows to cover tuition, fees, and insurance. Many of the activities outlined in Section 2 were successfully utilized in our previous NRC Fellowship Programs such that they will be incorporated into our new fellowship program.

3.2 Other External Fellowship Programs

Our students routinely have received various Department of Energy fellowships, such as the Nuclear Navy, AFCl, Health Physics, and NNSA. In the past 5 years, our students have also received fellowships from the National Science Foundation, National Academy of Nuclear Training, and National Institutes of Health.

3.3 Internal Fellowships

The NEP has experience in implementing and managing a graduate fellowship program through the College of Engineering's (COE) Alumni Fellowship. The COE allocates a certain number of fellowships to each department/program based on a rolling 5-year average of the number of PhDs graduated. Once funds have been distributed, the process begins with a review of the application packets from each department's graduate applicant pool by the Graduate Admissions Committee. Students are selected by the committee based on a number of the metrics provided in Table 1. The top student applicants are encouraged to visit the campus during the COE's annual Graduate Recruitment Weekend held in late-February each year.

The COE Alumni Fellowship program was initiated in Fall 1999. In the past 5 years, approximately 350 students have benefited from the program. Students in each department have benefited from the COE Alumni Fellowship Program, representing a true testimony to how each department is contributing to the advancement of graduate degrees in different engineering disciplines.

Additionally, the COE has a diversity awards program, and several minority fellowships are awarded annually. The program offers several awards, including:

- One College Diversity Award per department/program
- Several "jump-ball" alumni awards specifically tied to improving diversity within the COE
- PhD GEM awards

The selection process for these awards is similar to the process discussed for the COE Alumni Fellowship Program.

4 Significance and Impact of the Proposed Program

We believe that the proposed UF NEP NRC Fellowship Program can successfully produce highly qualified employees for different sectors of the nuclear industry:

- NEP has had experience in developing and operating successful fellowship programs
- NEP recruits high quality graduate students
- NEP is currently growing its graduate program, and the addition of the NRC Fellowship Program will increase the rate of growth
- NEP has excellent institutional support; in the past 12 months, we have hired 3 new faculty, and are in process of hiring an additional faculty member and new program director
- UF and NEP is one of only a few nuclear engineering programs which still owns a research reactor, and we are currently enhancing the UFTR facility (recently received new fuel, significant facility renovations, and currently working on implementing a new digital control system)
- The State of Florida is facing the need for significant growth in electricity generation, and the State is favorable toward nuclear power
- Nuclear utilities in the state (and surrounding region) are planning to build new power plants
- NEP as the only nuclear engineering program in the state, receives significant support from the nuclear utilities (Florida Power and Light has established term professorships, and Progress Energy Florida has provided major awards for a radiation detector laboratory, as well as assistance in licensing of a digital control system for the UFTR.

The Grantee shall comply with the provisions of the Fly American Act (49 USC 40118) as implemented through 41 CFR 301-10.131 through 301-10.143.

Property and Equipment Management Standards

Property and equipment standards of this award shall follow provisions as established in 2 CFR 215.30-37.

Procurement Standards

Procurement standards of this award shall follow provisions as established in 2 CFR 215.40-48

Intangible and Intellectual Property

Intangible and intellectual property of this award shall generally follow provisions established in 2 CFR 215.36.

Inventions Report - The Bayh-Dole Act (P.L. 96-517) affords Grantees the right to elect and retain title to inventions they develop with funding under an NRC grant award ("subject inventions"). In accepting an award, the Grantee agrees to comply with applicable NRC policies, the Bayh-Dole Act, and its Government-wide implementing regulations found at Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 401. A significant part of the regulations require that the Grantee report all subject inventions to the awarding agency (NRC) as well as include an acknowledgement of federal support in any patents. NRC participates in the trans-government Interagency Edison system (<http://www.iedison.gov>) and expects NRC funding Grantees to use this system to comply with Bayh-Dole and related intellectual property reporting requirements. The system allows for Grantees to submit reports electronically via the Internet. In addition, the invention must be reported in continuation applications (competing or non-competing).

Patent Notification Procedures- Pursuant to EO 12889, NRC is required to notify the owner of any valid patent covering technology whenever the NRC or its financial assistance Grantees, without making a patent search, knows (or has demonstrable reasonable grounds to know) that technology covered by a valid United States patent has been or will be used without a license from the owner. To ensure proper notification, if the Grantee uses or has used patented technology under this award without license or permission from the owner, the Grantee must notify the Grants Officer. This notice does not necessarily mean that the Government authorizes and consents to any copyright or patent infringement occurring under the financial assistance.

Data, Databases, and Software - The rights to any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award are determined by 2 CFR 215.36. Such works may include data, databases or software. The Grantee owns any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award subject to NRC's right to obtain, reproduce, publish or otherwise use the work or authorize others to receive, reproduce, publish or otherwise use the data for Government purposes.

Copyright - The Grantee may copyright any work produced under a NRC federal financial assistance award subject to NRC's royalty-free nonexclusive and irrevocable right to reproduce, publish or otherwise use the work or authorize others to do so for Government purposes. Works jointly authored by NRC and Grantee employees may be copyrighted but only the part authored by the Grantee is protected because, under 17 USC § 105, works produced by Government employees are not copyrightable in the United States. On occasion, NRC may ask the Grantee to transfer to NRC its copyright in a particular work when NRC is undertaking the primary dissemination of the work. Ownership of copyright by the Government through assignment is permitted under 17 USC § 105.

Records Retention and Access Requirements for records of the Grantee shall follow established provisions in 2 CFR 215.53.

Organizational Prior Approval System

In order to carry out its responsibilities for monitoring project performance and for adhering to award terms and conditions, each Grantee organization shall have a system to ensure that appropriate authorized officials provide necessary organizational reviews and approvals in advance of any action that would result in either the performance or modification of an NRC supported activity where prior approvals are required, including the obligation or expenditure of funds where the governing cost principles either prescribe conditions or require approvals.

The Grantee shall designate an appropriate official or officials to review and approve the actions requiring NRC prior approval. Preferably, the authorized official(s) should be the same official(s) who sign(s) or countersign(s) those types of requests that require prior approval by NRC. The authorized organization official(s) shall not be the principal investigator or any official having direct responsibility for the actual conduct of the project, or a subordinate of such individual.

Conflict Of Interest Standards for this award shall follow OCOI requirements set forth in Section 170A of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and provisions set forth at 2 CFR 215.42 Codes of Conduct.

- b. The request for review must contain a full statement of the Grantee's position and the pertinent facts and reasons in support of such position.
- c. The Grants Officer will promptly acknowledge receipt of the request for review and shall forward it to the Director, Office of Administration, who shall appoint an intra-agency Appeal Board to review a grantee appeal of an agency action, if required, which will consist of the program office director, the Deputy Director of Office of Administration, and the Office of General Counsel.
- d. Pending resolution of the request for review, the NRC may withhold or defer payments under the award during the review proceedings.
- e. The review committee will request the Grants Officer who issued the notice of termination or adverse action to provide copies of all relevant background materials and documents. The committee may, at its discretion, invite representatives of the Grantee and the NRC program office to discuss pertinent issues and to submit such additional information as it deems appropriate. The chairman of the review committee will insure that all review activities or proceedings are adequately documented.
- f. Based on its review, the committee will prepare its recommendation to the Director, Office of Administration, who will advise the parties concerned of his/her decision.

Termination and Enforcement. Termination of this award by default or by mutual consent shall follow provisions as established in 2 CFR 215.60-62.

The Grantee shall submit a “Federal Financial Report” (SF-425) on a semi-annual basis for the periods ending March 31 and September 30, or any portion thereof, unless otherwise specified in a special award condition. - b. Unless otherwise authorized in 2 CFR 215.25(e)(2) or a special award condition, any extension of the award period can only be authorized by the Grants Officer in writing. Verbal or written assurances of funding from other than the Grants Officer shall not constitute authority to obligate funds for programmatic activities beyond the expiration date.
- c. The NRC has no obligation to provide any additional prospective or incremental funding. Any modification of the award to increase funding and to extend the period of performance is at the sole discretion of the NRC.
- d. Requests for extensions to the period of performance should be sent to the Grants Officer at least 30 days prior to the grant/cooperative agreement expiration date. Any request for extension after the expiration date may not be honored.

Automated Standard Application For Payments (ASAP) Procedures

Unless otherwise provided for in the award document, payments under this award will be made using the Department of Treasury’s Automated Standard Application for Payment (ASAP) system < <http://www.fms.treas.gov/asap/> >. Under the ASAP system, payments are made through preauthorized electronic funds transfers, in accordance with the requirements of the Debt Collection Improvement Act of 1996. In order to receive payments under ASAP, Grantees are required to enroll with the Department of Treasury, Financial Management Service, and Regional Financial Centers, which allows them to use the on-line method of withdrawing funds from their ASAP established accounts. The following information will be required to make withdrawals under ASAP: (1) ASAP account number – the award number found on the cover sheet of the award; (2) Agency Location Code (ALC) – 31000001; and Region Code. Grantees enrolled in the ASAP system do not need to submit a “Request for Advance or Reimbursement” (SF-270), for payments relating to their award.

Audit Requirements

Organization-wide or program-specific audits shall be performed in accordance with the Single Audit Act Amendments of 1996, as implemented by OMB Circular A-133, "Audits of States, Local Governments, and Non-Profit Organizations."

As part of the OCHCO grant awards, in addition to the customary performance progress report requested on the SF-PPR, SF-PPR-B, and SF-PPR-E forms, OCHCO requires the following metrics to be reported on by the awardees as follows:

Unsatisfactory Performance

Failure to perform the work in accordance with the terms of the award and maintain at least a satisfactory performance rating or equivalent evaluation may result in designation of the Grantee as high risk and assignment of special award conditions or other further action as specified in the standard term and condition entitled "Termination."

Failure to comply with any or all of the provisions of the award may have a negative impact on future funding by NRC and may be considered grounds for any or all of the following actions: establishment of an accounts receivable, withholding of payments under any NRC award, changing the method of payment from advance to reimbursement only, or the imposition of other special award conditions, suspension of any NRC active awards, and termination of any NRC award.

Other Federal Awards With Similar Programmatic Activities

The Grantee shall immediately provide written notification to the NRC Project Officer and the Grants Officer in the event that, subsequent to receipt of the NRC award, other financial assistance is received to support or fund any portion of the program description incorporated into the NRC award. NRC will not pay for costs that are funded by other sources.

Prohibition Against Assignment By The Grantee

The NRC, through authorized representatives, has the right, at all reasonable times, to make site visits to review project accomplishments and management control systems and to provide such technical assistance as may be required. If any site visit is made by the NRC on the premises of the Grantee or contractor under an award, the Grantee shall provide and shall require his/her contractors to provide all reasonable facilities and assistance for the safety and convenience of the Government representative in the performance of their duties. All site visits and evaluations shall be performed in such a manner as will not unduly delay the work.

IV. Miscellaneous Requirements

Criminal and Prohibited Activities

- a. The Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act (31 USC §§ 3801-3812), provides for the imposition of civil penalties against persons who make false, fictitious, or fraudulent claims to the Federal government for money (including money representing grant/cooperative agreements, loans, or other benefits.)

Increasing Seat Belt Use in the United States

Pursuant to EO 13043, Grantees should encourage employees and contractors to enforce on-the-job seat belt policies and programs when operating company-owned, rented or personally-owned vehicle.

Federal Leadership of Reducing Text Messaging While Driving

Pursuant to EO 13513, Grantees should encourage employees, sub-awardees, and contractors to adopt and enforce policies that ban text messaging while driving company-owned, rented vehicles or privately owned vehicles when on official Government business or when performing any work for or on behalf of the Federal Government.

Federal Employee Expenses

Federal agencies are generally barred from accepting funds from a Grantee to pay transportation, travel, or other expenses for any Federal employee unless specifically approved in the terms of the award. Use of award funds (Federal or non-Federal) or the Grantee's provision of in-kind goods or services, for the purposes of transportation, travel, or any other expenses for any Federal employee may raise appropriation augmentation issues. In addition, NRC policy prohibits the acceptance of gifts, including travel payments for Federal employees, from Grantees or applicants regardless of the source.

Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs) Initiative

Pursuant to EOs 13256, 13230, and 13270, NRC is strongly committed to broadening the participation of MSIs in its financial assistance program. NRC's goals include achieving full participation of MSIs in order to advance the development of human potential, strengthen the Nation's capacity to provide high-quality education, and increase opportunities for MSIs to participate in and benefit from Federal financial assistance programs. NRC encourages all applicants and Grantees to include meaningful participations of MSIs. Institutions eligible to be considered MSIs are listed on the Department of Education website:
<http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/edlite-minorityinst.html>

Research Misconduct

Scientific or research misconduct refers to the fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. It does not include honest errors or differences of opinions. The Grantee organization has the primary responsibility to investigate allegations and provide reports to the Federal Government. Funds expended on an activity that is determined to be invalid or unreliable because of scientific misconduct may result in a disallowance of costs for which the institution may be liable for repayment to the awarding agency. The Office of Science and Technology Policy at the White House published in the Federal Register on December 6, 2000, a final policy that addressed research misconduct. The policy was developed by the National Science and Technology Council (65 FR 76260). The NRC requires that any allegation be submitted to the Grants Officer, who will also notify the OIG of such allegation. Generally, the Grantee organization shall investigate the allegation and submit its findings to the Grants Officer. The NRC may accept the Grantee's findings or proceed with its own investigation. The Grants Officer shall inform the Grantee of the NRC's final determination.

Publications, Videos, and Acknowledgment of Sponsorship

Publication of the results or findings of a research project in appropriate professional journals and production of video or other media is encouraged as an important method of recording and reporting scientific information. It is also a constructive means to expand access to federally funded research. The Grantee is required to submit a copy to the NRC and when releasing information related to a funded project include a statement that the project or effort undertaken was or is sponsored by the NRC. The Grantee is also responsible for assuring that every publication of material (including Internet sites and videos) based on or developed under an award, except scientific articles or papers appearing in scientific, technical or professional journals, contains the following disclaimer:

"This [report/video] was prepared by [Grantee name] under award [number] from [name of operating unit], Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The statements, findings, conclusions, and recommendations are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the view of the [name of operating unit] or the US Nuclear Regulatory Commission."
