Attachment B – Program Description

PROGRAM DESCRIPTION

Texas A&M University-Kingsville (TAMUK) was recently awarded a grant by NRC to establish a minor in Nuclear Engineering within our Mechanical and Industrial Engineering Department. This proposal is intended to support a new faculty member position; the new position will add a needed expertise and skills to the current assembly of professors who are dedicated for the new minor program here at TAMUK.

This proposal will provide funds to augment the efforts to recruit a new faculty to our new minor in Nuclear Engineering (NE), supporting the mission of our earlier funded grant. The new faculty will collaborate with active faculty members in the Mechanical and Industrial Engineering department who are teaching courses related to the Nuclear Engineering minor to strength the course offering. The faculty development grant will help in several components including but not limited to teaching, curriculum development, and research. The new faculty will directly contribute to provide an indispensable new expertise to the faculty pool available for teaching Nuclear Engineering courses, and will directly collaborate with active members of the program.

1. Capacity And Ability Of The Texas A&M University-Kingsville To Conduct an effective and Quality Recruitment And Marketing Strategies:

Texas A&M University-Kingsville is a prestigious university capable of attracting high qualified faculty members. It offers competitive salaries and fringe benefits to faculty and staff. The capacity of TAMUK to attract highly qualified faculty is demonstrated by its current skilled faculty. The administration encourages and demand high quality teaching and offer its faculty many opportunities for advancements through offering internal grants, workshops and seminars to enhance their capabilities for teaching and research. The University, through the Mechanical Engineering Department, is well positioned to have a successful faculty development plan for a newly hired faculty member. The teaching and research infrastructure are available to have this new faculty member be an integral part of a sustained and rich nuclear engineering program.

2. Quality Of Faculty That Will Be Served By The Program:

The faculty member who will hired through this faculty development grant will hold a degree of Nuclear Engineering or closely related field. This faculty should have the educational and experience necessary to teach courses related to nuclear reactors and to provide expertise not presently existed at TAMUK. The faculty member should have an interest in working with students, faculty members, national laboratories, and the nuclear industry.

3. Feasibility And Completeness Of An Evaluation Plan To Measure The Effectiveness Of The Faculty Development Program:

The evaluation of the success in the university development plan for the new faculty member is aligned with our department's promotion and tenure review. The success of our program will be measured by a successful promotion and review. While there will be other measures, such as the successful completion of degrees by our students and new research accomplishments, the promotion and tenure process is inclusive of measuring those successes.

In evaluating a faculty member, the candidate's accomplishments are evaluated in the following categories: the scholarship of teaching and learning; the scholarship of research and creative accomplishments; and the scholarship of service to the university, society, and the profession. The assessment of each individual's accomplishments is completed in an integrated fashion in light of the department's responsibilities and aspirations.

The scholarship of teaching and learning is evaluated through peer and student assessment of the courses that will be taught by the new faculty member. The department strives to ensure that our faculty teaches courses in a number of categories including the following: courses required in our undergraduate curriculum, courses that are technical electives (not required, but rather special discipline courses), and graduate level courses. Peer assessment takes place by senior faculty in our department who evaluate all of our junior faculty's ability to deliver a clear lecture to our students. In addition, all teaching efforts are evaluated by students enrolled in the class through a "quality of instructor rating". These scores, and the peer assessments, are closely evaluated by our Committees, particularly for the required undergraduate courses. In addition, we evaluate our untenured faculty on the basis of their graduate advising, particularly the successful graduation of students. It is essential for our tenure-track faculty to advise numerous graduate students and have successfully graduated one or more students during their tenure years.

The minor program is created such the students will have basic knowledge of nuclear principles in engineering and science with hands-on experience as they relate to identify competency gaps in nuclear engineering field in the US. Course homework, course tests on materials, and required power point presentations to peers in required courses as well as required minimum grade of C in all program courses will be adequate measure of competency.

Faculty development program will be internally reviewed by the Mechanical Engineering ME faculty. These reviews will collate and respond to student evaluations of the Minor's courses and curriculum, faculty perceptions of student performance and outcomes, and requests for including additional courses across undergraduate curricula. At the end of each semester, student course evaluations will be collected and analyzed in order to make adjustments to course content and instruction styles, as well as level of details in assessing what will be most important how difficult or how interesting the course content is. In addition, assessing the progress and success of the students who continue into graduate nuclear engineering program will provide additional information regarding the adequacy of training and preparation offered by the Minor.

4. Institutional Support For The Program And Plans For Sustainability:

Texas A&M University-Kingsville is committed to the success of the new minor of nuclear engineering at TAMUK as demonstrated by it is earlier letter of support attached to this proposal.

The College of Engineering at TAMUK is committed to the creation of an environment that is supportive of Nuclear Engineering Education and Research. The different aspects to the success of achieving the proposed efforts have been secured. These include:

- A principal investigator with a strong research experience in Advanced High Temperature Reactor (AHTR) and faculty investigators with research experience that is in line with NRC mission.
- Collaborative track record with Oak Ridge National Lab and placement of undergraduate students in internships with the laboratory.
- Available qualified student pool from minority students currently enrolled at TAMUK and potential qualified students from the traditional feeder schools to COE. The Student Success Center located in the College of Engineering at TAMUK is focused on improving the quality of the engineering programs and students retention. It will be vital in recruiting qualified students from different engineering departments at TAMUK to the program. Qualified students will be personally contacted and encouraged to apply.
- Administrative support and institutional commitment as reflected in the commitment for creation of a minor in Nuclear Engineering within the mechanical engineering department.
- Qualified faculty with proper training and experience.

There is a 256-node PC cluster located in the High Performance Computing Center (HPCC) at TAMUK (NSF-MRI Award # CNS-0619810). The HPCC is located at Dotterweich Hall next to College of Engineering building. The PI will use the HPCC to conduct part of the proposed research activities, such as CFD simulation. Faculty members and students from the Departments of Mechanical and Industrial, Chemical, Environmental, and Electrical Engineering have conducted model simulations using this system. Seminars on High Performance Cluster Computing and Visualization Application in Engineering Research were held and open house demonstrations for non-scientific members were also conducted in the university. This system is becoming a key resource for advanced cross-disciplinary research and education activities at TAMUK and throughout the region of South Texas.

Any inconsistency or conflict in terms and conditions specified in the award will be resolved according to the following order of precedence: public laws, regulations, applicable notices published in the Federal Register, Executive Orders (EOs), Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circulars, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission's (NRC) Mandatory Standard Provisions, special award conditions, and standard award conditions.

Certifications and Representations: These terms incorporate the certifications and representations required by statute, executive order, or regulation that were submitted with the SF424B application through Grants.gov.

I. Mandatory General Requirements

The order of these requirements does not make one requirement more important than any other requirement.

1. Applicability of 2 CFR Part 215

a. All provisions of 2 CFR Part 215 and all Standard Provisions attached to this grant/cooperative agreement are applicable to the Grantee and to sub-recipients which meet the definition of "Grantee" in Part 215, unless a section specifically excludes a sub-recipient from coverage. The Grantee and any sub-recipients must, in addition to the assurances made as part of the application, comply and require each of its sub-awardees employed in the completion of the project to comply with Subpart C of 2 CFR 215 and include this term in lower-tier (subaward) covered transactions.

The Grantee is the responsible authority, without recourse to the NRC, regarding the settlement and satisfaction of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements entered into in support of an award or other agreement. This includes disputes, claims, protests of award, source evaluation or other matters of a contractual nature. Matters concerning violation of statute are to be referred to such Federal, State or local authority as may have proper jurisdiction.

The Bayh-Dole Act (P.L. 96-517) affords Grantees the right to elect and retain title to inventions they develop with funding under an NRC grant award ("subject inventions"). In accepting an award, the Grantee agrees to comply with applicable NRC policies, the Bayh-Dole Act, and its Government-wide implementing regulations found at Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 401. A significant part of the regulations require that the Grantee report all subject inventions to the awarding agency (NRC) as well as include an acknowledgement of federal support in any patents. NRC participates in the trans-government Interagency Edison system (<http://www.iedison.gov>) and expects NRC funding Grantees to use this system to comply with Bayh-Dole and related intellectual property reporting requirements. The system allows for Grantees to submit reports electronically via the Internet. In addition, the invention must be reported in continuation applications (competing or non-competing).

Patent Notification Procedures

Pursuant to EO 12889, NRC is required to notify the owner of any valid patent covering technology whenever the NRC or its financial assistance Grantees, without making a patent search, knows (or has demonstrable reasonable grounds to know) that technology covered by a valid United States patent has been or will be used without a license from the owner. To ensure proper notification, if the Grantee uses or has used patented technology under this award without license or permission from the owner, the Grantee must notify the Grants Officer. This notice does not necessarily mean that the Government authorizes and consents to any copyright or patent infringement occurring under the financial assistance.

Data, Databases, and Software

The rights to any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award are determined by 2 CFR 215.36. Such works may include data, databases or software. The Grantee owns any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award subject to NRC's right to obtain, reproduce, publish or otherwise use the work or authorize others to receive, reproduce, publish or otherwise use the data for Government purposes.

Copyright

The Grantee may copyright any work produced under a NRC federal financial assistance award subject to NRC's royalty-free nonexclusive and irrevocable right to reproduce, publish or otherwise use the work or authorize others to do so for Government purposes. Works jointly authored by NRC and Grantee employees may be copyrighted but only the part authored by the Grantee is protected because, under 17 USC § 105, works produced by Government employees are not copyrightable in the United States. On occasion, NRC may ask the Grantee to transfer to NRC its copyright in a particular work when NRC is undertaking the primary dissemination of the work. Ownership of copyright by the Government through assignment is permitted under 17 USC § 105.

Records Retention and Access Requirements

For records of the Grantee shall follow established provisions in 2 CFR 215.53.

Organizational Prior Approval System

In order to carry out its responsibilities for monitoring project performance and for adhering to award terms and conditions, each Grantee organization shall have a system to ensure that appropriate authorized officials provide necessary organizational reviews and approvals in advance of any action that would result in either the performance or modification of an NRC supported activity where prior approvals are required, including the obligation or expenditure of funds where the governing cost principles either prescribe conditions or require approvals.

The Grantee shall designate an appropriate official or officials to review and approve the actions requiring NRC prior approval. Preferably, the authorized official(s) should be the same official(s) who sign(s) or countersign(s) those types of requests that require prior approval by NRC. The authorized organization official(s) shall not be the principal investigator or any official having direct responsibility for the actual conduct of the project, or a subordinate of such individual.

- c. The Grants Officer will promptly acknowledge receipt of the request for review and shall forward it to the Director, Office of Administration, who shall appoint an intra-agency Appeal Board to review a grantee appeal of an agency action, if required, which will consist of the program office director, the Deputy Director of Office of Administration, and the Office of General Counsel.
- d. Pending resolution of the request for review, the NRC may withhold or defer payments under the award during the review proceedings.

e. The review committee will request the Grants Officer who issued the notice of termination or adverse action to provide copies of all relevant background materials and documents. The committee may, at its discretion, invite representatives of the Grantee and the NRC program office to discuss pertinent issues and to submit such additional information as it deems appropriate. The chairman of the review committee will insure that all review activities or proceedings are adequately documented.

As part of the OCHCO grant awards, in addition to the customary performance progress report requested on the SF-PPR, SF-PPR-B, and SF-PPR-E forms, OCHCO requires the following metrics to be reported on by the awardees as follows:

Faculty Development Awards

1. How many faculty have been sponsored by NRC funding?
 - a. Response is the number of faculty sponsored, for this reporting period and cumulative to the grant.
2. How many items have the sponsored faculty produced, for example, Professional Journal articles, publications, patents, or conference reports?
 - a. Response is the type and number of items, for this reporting period and cumulative to the grant.

Unsatisfactory Performance

Failure to perform the work in accordance with the terms of the award and maintain at least a satisfactory performance rating or equivalent evaluation may result in designation of the Grantee as high risk and assignment of special award conditions or other further action as specified in the standard term and condition entitled "Termination."

Failure to comply with any or all of the provisions of the award may have a negative impact on future funding by NRC and may be considered grounds for any or all of the following actions:

establishment of an accounts receivable, withholding of payments under any NRC award, changing the method of payment from advance to reimbursement only, or the imposition of other special award conditions, suspension of any NRC active awards, and termination of any NRC award.

Other Federal Awards With Similar Programmatic Activities

The Grantee shall immediately provide written notification to the NRC Project Officer and the Grants Officer in the event that, subsequent to receipt of the NRC award, other financial assistance is received to support or fund any portion of the program description incorporated into the NRC award. NRC will not pay for costs that are funded by other sources.

Prohibition Against Assignment By The Grantee

Site Visits

The NRC, through authorized representatives, has the right, at all reasonable times, to make site visits to review project accomplishments and management control systems and to provide such technical assistance as may be required. If any site visit is made by the NRC on the premises of the Grantee or contractor under an award, the Grantee shall provide and shall require his/her contractors to provide all reasonable facilities and assistance for the safety and convenience of the Government representative in the performance of their duties. All site visits and evaluations shall be performed in such a manner as will not unduly delay the work.

IV. Miscellaneous Requirements

Criminal and Prohibited Activities

- a. The Program Fraud Civil Remedies Act (31 USC §§ 3801-3812), provides for the imposition of civil penalties against persons who make false, fictitious, or fraudulent claims to the Federal government for money (including money representing grant/cooperative agreements, loans, or other benefits.)
- b. False statements (18 USC § 287), provides that whoever makes or presents any false, fictitious, or fraudulent statements, representations, or claims against the United States shall be subject to imprisonment of not more than five years and shall be subject to a fine in the amount provided by 18 USC § 287.

American-Made Equipment And Products

Grantees are hereby notified that they are encouraged, to the greatest extent practicable, to purchase American-made equipment and products with funding provided under this award.

Increasing Seat Belt Use in the United States

Pursuant to EO 13043, Grantees should encourage employees and contractors to enforce on-the-job seat belt policies and programs when operating company-owned, rented or personally-owned vehicle.

Federal Leadership of Reducing Text Messaging While Driving

Pursuant to EO 13513, Grantees should encourage employees, sub-awardees, and contractors to adopt and enforce policies that ban text messaging while driving company-owned, rented vehicles or privately owned vehicles when on official Government business or when performing any work for or on behalf of the Federal Government.

Federal Employee Expenses

Federal agencies are generally barred from accepting funds from a Grantee to pay transportation, travel, or other expenses for any Federal employee unless specifically approved in the terms of the award. Use of award funds (Federal or non-Federal) or the Grantee's provision of in-kind goods or services, for the purposes of transportation, travel, or any other expenses for any Federal employee may raise appropriation augmentation issues. In addition, NRC policy prohibits the acceptance of gifts, including travel payments for Federal employees, from Grantees or applicants regardless of the source.

Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs) Initiative

Pursuant to EOs 13256, 13230, and 13270, NRC is strongly committed to broadening the participation of MSIs in its financial assistance program. NRC's goals include achieving full participation of MSIs in order to advance the development of human potential, strengthen the Nation's capacity to provide high-quality education, and increase opportunities for MSIs to participate in and benefit from Federal financial assistance programs. NRC encourages all applicants and Grantees to include meaningful participations of MSIs. Institutions eligible to be considered MSIs are listed on the Department of Education website:
<http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/edlite-minorityinst.html>

Research Misconduct

Scientific or research misconduct refers to the fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. It does not include honest errors or differences of opinions. The Grantee organization has the primary responsibility to investigate allegations and provide reports to the Federal Government. Funds expended on an activity that is determined to be invalid or unreliable because of scientific misconduct may result in a disallowance of costs for which the institution may be liable for repayment to the awarding agency. The Office of Science and Technology Policy at the White House published in the Federal Register on December 6, 2000, a final policy that addressed research misconduct. The policy was developed by the National Science and Technology Council (65 FR 76260). The NRC requires that any allegation be submitted to the Grants Officer, who will also notify the OIG of such allegation. Generally, the Grantee organization shall investigate the allegation and submit its findings to the Grants Officer. The NRC may accept the Grantee's findings or proceed with its own investigation. The Grants Officer shall inform the Grantee of the NRC's final determination.

Publications, Videos, and Acknowledgment of Sponsorship

Publication of the results or findings of a research project in appropriate professional journals and production of video or other media is encouraged as an important method of recording and reporting scientific information. It is also a constructive means to expand access to federally funded research. The Grantee is required to submit a copy to the NRC and when releasing information related to a funded project include a statement that the project or effort undertaken was or is sponsored by the NRC. The Grantee is also responsible for assuring that every publication of material (including Internet sites and videos) based on or developed under an award, except scientific articles or papers appearing in scientific, technical or professional journals, contains the following disclaimer:

“This [report/video] was prepared by [Grantee name] under award [number] from [name of operating unit], Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The statements, findings, conclusions, and recommendations are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the view of the [name of operating unit] or the US Nuclear Regulatory Commission.”
