Attachment B – Program Description

Introduction

Background The Mechanical Engineering (ME) and the Chemical and Metallurgical Engineering (CME) Departments at the University of Nevada, Reno (UNR) have conducted externally-funded nuclear-related research since 1992. For example, the ME Department has developed experimentally-benchmarked computational simulations to predict the performance of spent nuclear fuel transport casks under fire accident conditions. The CME Department has conducted research to determine the performance and reliability of materials in advanced nuclear power applications. These projects have been supported by the Nuclear Regulatory Commission (NRC), the Department of Energy (DOE), Nuclear Energy University Program (NEUP), the Nevada Office of Nuclear Projects, and private corporations. The two departments share a seminar program in which speakers from the NRC, GE-Hitachi, as well as Argonne, Sandia, Idaho and Oak Ridge National Labs have lectured on nuclear energy topics. In 2009, the CME department initiated a Nuclear Materials Emphasis which includes courses entitled Materials Applications in Nuclear Reactors, Fundamentals of Nuclear Energy, Radiation Measurement and Detection, and Corrosion Degradation of Materials. UNR is working with the University of Nevada, Las Vegas (UNLV) and the University of Utah (UU), which have, respectively, a program in radiochemistry and a new minor in Nuclear Engineering, to develop an internet-based system to share unique Nuclear-Related Engineering Courses. While UNR does not have a Nuclear Engineering Department, the faculty at UNR are performing research and developing educational opportunities in Materials and Thermal Science for Nuclear Power that help prepare students who can support the mission of the NRC.

Objective This funding will continue a Fellowship Program in Materials and Thermal Science for Nuclear Energy that recruits and supports outstanding students to earn graduate degrees at UNR. The goal is to increase the number and quality of students receiving MS and Ph.D. degrees at UNR who are able to support the design, construction, operation, and regulation of nuclear facilities, and the safe handling of nuclear materials. There are at least nine faculty members across four departments conducting nuclear science research at UNR.

Fellowship Administration

Fellowships Benefits The following describes the benefits a graduate student will receive if he/she is awarded a Fellowship at UNR:

1. A yearly stipend of $27,500 for Ph.D. Fellows for up to four years; or $25,000 for MS Fellows for up to two years.
2. Full time graduate tuition
3. Faculty research supervision and professional career advisement
4. Travel and registration for one professional conference per year
5. Relocation expenses for the Fellow to intern at a National Lab, NRC or a nuclear industry site during one summer, if Fellows choose to intern.

The stipend amount was chosen to be midpoint between the current stipend at UNR and the DOE National Nuclear Security Administration (NNSA) Stewardship Science Graduate Fellowship. The MS stipend is roughly 10% less. The Fellow will select a UNR faculty Research Advisor, and together they will choose an appropriate MS thesis or Ph.D. dissertation topic. The Research Advisor will provide an appropriate research environment, including all needed laboratory space, research materials, equipment, computational facilities, research supervision, and program/professional advice. Each Fellow will be encouraged to spend one summer working as an intern at a National Lab, the NRC or a nuclear industry facility performing research and analysis that will enhance his/her professional experience and development. Faculty members at UNR have collaborations with members of several facilities. The appendix (attachments 2 -5) of this proposal contains letters from the Argonne, Brookhaven and Sandia National Laboratories, and Nuclear Industry (Areva) stating their support of the proposed Fellowship program, and their interest in hosting summer fellows. The Fellows will continue to receive their stipends from UNR and relocation costs while they intern at these sites.

Fellowship Requirements The conditions the Fellows must fulfill to receive and maintain a fellowship at UNR are given below. It should be noted that the conditions are not beyond NRC requirements, but clarify some criteria required by NRC.

1. US Citizenship or permanent residency
2. Enroll full time (6 credits/semester) in the graduate program at UNR
3. Sign the mandatory Service agreement with NRC
4. Maintain a GPA of 3.3 or better (on a 4.0 scale) each semester and make good academic progress.

If the Fellow does not maintain the required GPA during a semester, then he/she will be placed on probation for one semester, during which time the Fellow will be required to improve the GPA to the required level. Making good academic progress is based on Fellows research output. If research output is unsatisfactory, the student will be placed on probation for one semester to improve research productivity. If research productivity is poor due to reasons beyond the Fellow's control, then the student will be provided more supervision and help to make good research progress. If the above conditions are not met during probation, the student will be dismissed from the Fellowship Program, and replaced by another student.

Fellowship Program Committee This committee will administer the program. It will consist of the two principal investigators, the graduate program chairs of the ME and CME Departments (or their nominees), and one external member. The bulk of the work will be performed by the PI's, but the other committee members will provide input and have voting rights. This committee will market the program to senior undergraduates and graduate students at UNR and other universities, with efforts to reach out to women, minorities and disabled students. Students pursuing Ph.D. and MS degrees will be recruited. Students will submit a Fellowship Application consisting of a UNR graduate admission application (which includes transcripts, GPA, standardized test scores, and letters of recommendations), proof of US citizenship or permanent residency, an essay describing their background and professional goals, and an indication that they are willing to fulfill the Fellowship Requirements (listed above) if they accept the fellowship. The Fellowship Committee will review all applications based on merit, and the ability of researchers at UNR to help the student reach his/her professional goal. The Committee will select, invite and reimburse travel expenses for outstanding off-campus applicants to visit UNR. Awards will be made so that two Fellows are funded at all times during the four year duration of the program. Awards will not be made until the student has signed the NRC service agreement, and a letter indicating he/she is aware of and will fulfill the Fellowship Requirements to the best of their abilities. The Committee and Research Advisor will evaluate the progress of the Fellow at the end of each semester. If satisfactory progress is not made, the Fellow will be placed on probation or dismissed from the Fellowship Program.

If there is any reduction of costs to the program compared to the budgeted amounts, the Program Committee will have the responsibility of assigning those funds to either support an additional Fellow, or to support the research environment of an existing fellow. Cost reductions may come about if an MS student is funded instead of a Ph.D., a student leaves the program or graduates earlier than expected, or from other unanticipated reasons.

Review Criteria

Recruitment and Marketing At UNR, each academic department and the graduate school (<http://www.unr.edu/grad/>) have dynamic programs for recruiting graduate students. The UNR Graduate School is a recruiting member of the California Forum for Diversity in Graduate Education (CFDGE). CFDGE is a consortium of public and private colleges and universities in California. CFDGE organizes two forums every year to meet the needs of advanced undergraduates and master's candidates belonging to groups that are currently underrepresented in doctoral-level programs. The groups include low-income and first-generation college students, African Americans, American Indians, Hispanics, Pacific Islanders and Asian American women. Well over 1200 students attend and participate in these forums and more than 75% of the students have a GPA of over 3.0. UNR Graduate School has been highly successful in recruiting graduate students at these forums.

At the departmental level, both the ME and CME departments are actively involved in marketing our programs to undergraduate seniors at UNR and various institutions. The departments have printed flyers, brochures and leaflets that provide information regarding our graduate programs, faculty research areas and available assistantships. These materials are mailed to institutions throughout the country. Further, faculty members in the two departments visit regional institutions, such as UNLV and UU, to provide lectures and actively publicize our programs. Moreover, the departments maintain a comprehensive website to inform potential students about our academic graduate programs.

In addition to our routine recruiting programs described above, we propose to conduct the following activities specifically for the purpose of administering a successful NRC grant:

1. Design, print and mail informational flyers and brochures advertising the NRC Fellowship program at UNR. These brochures will also be published online on the UNR graduate school and departmental websites. Announcements of the fellowships will be made on academickeys.com website. Funds for this purpose have been budgeted by the College of Engineering (Attachment 1).
2. Provide these informational materials to the UNR recruiters who will be participating in the CFDGE forums twice a year, and thereby increase the diversity of the next-generation nuclear workforce
3. Provide these materials to our departmental faculty who actively travel to other institutions for research, instruction and recruiting purposes.
4. We will also conduct teleconference-based advertising of these fellowships at other institutions with whom we have collaborations
5. We also have informal agreements with our regional partner institutions, UNLV, UU, and university of Idaho, for cross-referral of students due to our very complementary research strengths
6. We will also hold a recruitment weekend for invited eligible applicants, probably in early spring, with complete or partial travel support. The agenda would consist of individual meetings with selected faculty in our departmental programs, interaction with existing departmental graduate students, tours of the campus and facilities. The college of Engineering has agreed to cover these expenses in part (see Attachments 1).

In summary, we will work diligently to identify the best and the brightest of the students to receive these coveted fellowships.

Mentoring, Advising and Existing Programs of Study Mentoring and advisement will be primarily performed by the Faculty Research Advisor with support from the Fellowship Program Committee. The Committee will provide the Fellows with a clear statement of the program requirements, and will describe how the fellow will be evaluated for retention in the program. The Research Advisor will help the student choose courses, mentor his/her research activities, and provide professional guidance. The Advisor will also help the fellow make contacts with technical staff at National Laboratories, the NRC and/or nuclear related industry to further the Fellow's professional objectives and to identify the most appropriate internship opportunity. The Advisor will have the responsibility of monitoring the Fellows progress (including grades and evaluation by the course instructors).

As mentioned earlier, UNR has a history of nuclear materials and thermal science research funding from the NRC, DOE, National Labs, the State of Nevada and private industry. We also have nuclear related coursework and seminar speakers. These established programs will provide the Fellows with a wide variety of research and educational opportunities, and will prepare them for productive careers in the nuclear industry.

Moreover, the Fellows will be given opportunities to participate in the larger professional community. Fellow will be encouraged to take advantage of existing financial opportunities from other agencies such as NSF, DOE, NEUP and NNSA. Further, National fellowships are also considered highly prestigious awards. Any savings to the Fellowship Program will be used to either support an additional Fellow, or support the research activities of an existing Fellow. The Fellows will also have an option to conduct a summer internship in their field of research to gain work experience and develop professional contacts, which will help him/her find an appropriate nuclear related professional placement after graduation. The Research Advisor and the Fellowship committee will help the student identify summer research opportunities. The PI's have successfully conducted these activities in the past and have the support of researchers at Argonne, Brookhaven and Sandia National Laboratories, and Areva Nuclear power to support Fellows (Please see letters as attachments 2-5).

Evaluation Plan We believe the success of the UNR Fellowship Program will be based on the following achievements:

1. The professional placement of the Fellows in positions of leadership in the nuclear industry or government, which will help the Fellows realize a satisfying and productive career.
2. The contribution the Fellows make to the development and growth of UNR programs.

The contribution of the Program to student success cannot be fully measured until well after the Fellow has completed the program. However, the following attributes are widely believed to lead to success, and will be continuously monitored and emphasized by the Research Advisor during the Fellow's graduate study:

1. Course Grades, and supplemental evaluation by course instructors
2. Development of new methods and knowledge leading to archival publications
3. Fellow's professional growth, including research independence, thoughtfulness, and ability to be mentored.
4. Participation and leadership within University and associated National Laboratory research groups
5. Participation in proposal writing
6. Conference and Professional Society student awards
7. Timely progression toward degree completion

The Fellow will make contributions to the life and growth of the program by his/her interaction with faculty members and peers. The Fellowship program is expected to increase the visibility of the Materials and Thermal Science research at UNR, and hence improve the number and quality of the graduate school applicants and graduates. To assess the effect of the Fellowship Program, the following quantitative measures during the program will be compared to historical statistics: (i) the number of student applicants, (ii) the number of US applicants, (iii) the average GPA of the applicants and, (iv) the standardized test scores of the applicants. We will try to determine if the professional placement of Fellows differs from that of the other students.

Institutional Support, Sustainability, Number of Students Served

In 2009, the UNR College of Engineering supported nuclear power engineering by establishing the Nuclear Materials Emphasis within the MTE department. This emphasis includes courses on Materials Applications in Nuclear Reactors, Fundamentals of Nuclear Energy, and Corrosion Degradation of Nuclear Materials. This emphasis has formalized an association between a number of faculty members and students performing research in nuclear power engineering. The ME and CME departments also sponsor a joint seminar series which hosts numerous nuclear power speakers.

The Funding Opportunity Announcement indicates that NRC may not be able to fund all four years due to circumstances beyond NRC's control. If that happens, the Fellowship Program will be sustained to the extent possible by giving the Fellows priority in receiving assistantships from other grants and/or the departments.

The Fellows will be recommended to apply for travel support from the UNR graduate school and to other DOE funded fellowship opportunities (with assistance from the Research Advisor). This is an effort to sustain the program by conserving funding. This will allow additional students to receive fellowships.

The number of students served by this program will depend on the mix of MS and Ph.D. students selected by the Program Committee, and the amount of time the Fellows require to complete their degree. Our initial plan is to support two PhD students starting in year 1 and one MS student starting in year 2. If two Ph.D. fellows are initially funded, and they require four years to complete their degrees, and 1 MS student is accepted who takes 2 years to graduate, then three students will be served. However, if they require less time to complete their degrees, and/or more MS students (who normally take 1.5 to 2 years to graduate) are funded, then four or five students will be served.

Innovation-Partnerships/Consortia/Minority Institutional/Distance Learning UNR is a member of a consortium on Nuclear Power Educational with the UNLV and UU. We have successfully shared one course in Spring 2012. This course on Radiation Detection was taught at UNR and offered via web-based methods to UU. We also have an informal agreement to advertise Fellowships offered by each institution to our students. The Fellows will intern at a National Lab or other off-campus facility. This will further develop our collaboration with technical staff at those locations. The Fellowship Program will make funding UNR research programs more attractive to researchers at those facilities because they will have experience working with our Fellows, the Fellows gain experience working in areas of interest to the off-campus researchers, and the Fellows will already be funded by NRC.

Leveraging/Matching Funds The UNR College of Engineering will supply the cost of producing and mailing posters ($1000) that announce the Fellowship Program to all engineering college in the US (Attachment 1). The College of Engineering will also match another $2500 to reimburse travel expenses of promising off-campus applicants to visit UNR (Attachment 1). The University supports this project by reducing the overhead rate from the normal 51% charged for on-campus educational grants to the allowed 8%, which amounts to at least $138,857 match. Total matching funds is $142,357.

Any inconsistency or conflict in terms and conditions specified in the award will be resolved according to the following order of precedence: public laws, regulations, applicable notices published in the Federal Register, Executive Orders (EOs), Office of Management and Budget (OMB) Circulars, the Nuclear Regulatory Commission’s (NRC) Mandatory Standard Provisions, special award conditions, and standard award conditions.

Certifications and Representations: These terms incorporate the certifications and representations required by statute, executive order, or regulation that were submitted with the SF424B application through Grants.gov.

I. Mandatory General Requirements

The order of these requirements does not make one requirement more important than any other requirement.

1. Applicability of 2 CFR Part 215

a. All provisions of 2 CFR Part 215 and all Standard Provisions attached to this grant/cooperative agreement are applicable to the Grantee and to sub-recipients which meet the definition of "Grantee" in Part 215, unless a section specifically excludes a sub-recipient from coverage. The Grantee and any sub-recipients must, in addition to the assurances made as part of the application, comply and require each of its sub-awardees employed in the completion of the project to comply with Subpart C of 2 CFR 215 and include this term in lower-tier (subaward) covered transactions.

b. Grantees must comply with monitoring procedures and audit requirements in accordance with OMB Circular A-133.

http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/circulars/a133_compliance/08/08toc.aspx

2. Award Package

§ 215.41 Grantee responsibilities.

The Grantee is obligated to conduct such project oversight as may be appropriate, to manage the funds with prudence, and to comply with the provisions outlined in 2 CFR 215.41. Within this framework, the Principal Investigator (PI) named on the award face page, Block 11, is responsible for the scientific or technical direction of the project and for preparation of the project performance reports. This award is funded on a cost reimbursement basis not to exceed the amount awarded as indicated on the face page, Block 16, and is subject to a refund of unexpended funds to NRC.

The standards contained in this section do not relieve the Grantee of the contractual responsibilities arising under its contract(s). The Grantee is the responsible authority, without recourse to the NRC, regarding the settlement and satisfaction of all contractual and administrative issues arising out of procurements entered into in support of an award or other agreement. This includes disputes, claims, and protests of award, source evaluation or other matters of a contractual nature. Matters concerning violation of statute are to be referred to such Federal, State or local authority as may have proper jurisdiction.

Subgrants

Appendix A to Part 215—Contract Provisions

Sub-recipients, sub-awardees, and contractors have no relationship with NRC under the terms of this grant/cooperative agreement. All required NRC approvals must be directed through the Grantee to NRC. See 2 CFR 215 and 2 CFR 215.41

Nondiscrimination

(This provision is applicable when work under the grant/cooperative agreement is performed in the U.S. or when employees are recruited in the U.S.)

No U.S. citizen or legal resident shall be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination under any program or activity funded by this award on the basis of race, color, national origin, age, religion, handicap, or sex. The Grantee agrees to comply with the non-discrimination requirements below:

Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (42 USC §§ 2000d et seq)

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 (20 USC §§ 1681 et seq)

Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended (29 USC § 794)

The Age Discrimination Act of 1975, as amended (42 USC §§ 6101 et seq)

The Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990 (42 USC §§ 12101 et seq)

Parts II and III of EO 11246 as amended by EO 11375 and 12086.

EO 13166, "Improving Access to Services for Persons with Limited English Proficiency."

Any other applicable non-discrimination law(s).

Generally, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, 42 USC § 2000e et seq, provides that it shall be an unlawful employment practice for an employer to discharge any individual or otherwise to discriminate against an individual with respect to compensation, terms, conditions, or privileges of employment because of such individual's race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. However, Title VI, 42 USC § 2000e-1(a), expressly exempts from the prohibition against discrimination on the basis of religion, a religious corporation, association, educational institution, or society with respect to the employment of individuals of a particular religion to perform work connected with the carrying on by such corporation, association, educational institution, or society of its activities.

Modifications/Prior Approval

NRC's prior written approval may be required before a Grantee makes certain budget modifications or undertakes particular activities. If NRC approval is required for changes in the grant or cooperative agreement, it must be requested of, and obtained from, the NRC Grants Officer in advance of the change or obligation of funds. All requests for NRC prior approval should be made, in writing (which includes submission by e-mail), to the designated Grants Specialist and Program Office no later than 30 days before the proposed change. The request must be signed by both the PI and the authorized organizational official. Failure to obtain prior approval, when required, from the NRC Grants Officer may result in the disallowance of costs, or other enforcement action within NRC's authority.

Lobbying Restrictions

The Grantee will comply, as applicable, with provisions of the Hatch Act (5 U.S.C. §§1501-1508 and 7324-7328) which limit the political activities of employees whose principal employment activities are funded in whole or in part with Federal funds.

The Grantee shall comply with provisions of 31 USC § 1352. This provision generally prohibits the use of Federal funds for lobbying in the Executive or Legislative Branches of the Federal Government in connection with the award, and requires disclosure of the use of non-Federal funds for lobbying.

The Grantee receiving in excess of $100,000 in Federal funding shall submit a completed Standard Form (SF) LLL, "Disclosure of Lobbying Activities," regarding the use of non-Federal funds for lobbying within 30 days following the end of the calendar quarter in which there occurs any event that requires disclosure or that materially affects the accuracy of the information contained in any disclosure form previously filed. The Grantee must submit the SF-LLL, including those received from sub-recipients, contractors, and subcontractors, to the Grants Officer.

§ 215.13 Debarment And Suspension.

The Grantee agrees to notify the Grants Officer immediately upon learning that it or any of its principals:

- (1) Are presently excluded or disqualified from covered transactions by any Federal department or agency;
- (2) Have been convicted within the preceding three-year period preceding this proposal been convicted of or had a civil judgment rendered against them for commission of fraud or a criminal offense in connection with obtaining, attempting to obtain, or performing a public (Federal, State, or local) transaction or contract under a public transaction; violation of Federal or State antitrust statutes or commission of embezzlement, theft, forgery, bribery, falsification or destruction of records, making false statements, tax evasion, receiving stolen property, making false claims, or obstruction of justice; commission of any other offense indicating a lack of business integrity or business honesty that seriously and directly affects your present responsibility;

(3) Are presently indicted for or otherwise criminally or civilly charged by a governmental entity (Federal, State, or local) with commission of any of the offenses enumerated in paragraph (1)(b); and

(4) Have had one or more public transactions (Federal, State, or local) terminated for cause or default within the preceding three years.

b. The Grantee agrees that, unless authorized by the Grants Officer, it will not knowingly enter into any subgrant or contracts under this grant/cooperative agreement with a person or entity that is included on the Excluded Parties List System (<https://www.sam.gov/portal/public/SAM/>).

The Grantee further agrees to include the following provision in any subgrant or contracts entered into under this award:

'Debarment, Suspension, Ineligibility, and Voluntary Exclusion

The Grantee certifies that neither it nor its principals is presently excluded or disqualified from participation in this transaction by any Federal department or agency. Inventions Report - The Bayh-Dole Act (P.L. 96-517) affords Grantees the right to elect and retain title to inventions they develop with funding under an NRC grant award ("subject inventions"). In accepting an award, the Grantee agrees to comply with applicable NRC policies, the Bayh-Dole Act, and its Government-wide implementing regulations found at Title 37, Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) Part 401. A significant part of the regulations require that the Grantee report all subject inventions to the awarding agency (NRC) as well as include an acknowledgement of federal support in any patents. NRC participates in the trans-government Interagency Edison system (<http://www.iedison.gov>) and expects NRC funding Grantees to use this system to comply with Bayh-Dole and related intellectual property reporting requirements. The system allows for Grantees to submit reports electronically via the Internet. In addition, the invention must be reported in continuation applications (competing or non-competing).

Patent Notification Procedures- Pursuant to EO 12889, NRC is required to notify the owner of any valid patent covering technology whenever the NRC or its financial assistance Grantees, without making a patent search, knows (or has demonstrable reasonable grounds to know) that technology covered by a valid United States patent has been or will be used without a license from the owner. To ensure proper notification, if the Grantee uses or has used patented technology under this award without license or permission from the owner, the Grantee must notify the Grants Officer. This notice does not necessarily mean that the Government authorizes and consents to any copyright or patent infringement occurring under the financial assistance.

Data, Databases, and Software - The rights to any work produced or purchased under a NRC federal financial assistance award are determined by 2 CFR 215.36. On occasion, NRC may ask the Grantee to transfer to NRC its copyright in a particular work when NRC is undertaking the primary dissemination of the work. Ownership of copyright by the Government through assignment is permitted under 17 USC § 105.

Organizational Prior Approval System

In order to carry out its responsibilities for monitoring project performance and for adhering to award terms and conditions, each Grantee organization shall have a system to ensure that appropriate authorized officials provide necessary organizational reviews and approvals in advance of any action that would result in either the performance or modification of an NRC supported activity where prior approvals are required, including the obligation or expenditure of funds where the governing cost principles either prescribe conditions or require approvals.

The committee may, at its discretion, invite representatives of the Grantee and the NRC program office to discuss pertinent issues and to submit such additional information as it deems appropriate. The chairman of the review committee will insure that all review activities or proceedings are adequately documented.

Unsatisfactory Performance

Failure to perform the work in accordance with the terms of the award and maintain at least a satisfactory performance rating or equivalent evaluation may result in designation of the Grantee as high risk and assignment of special award conditions or other further action as specified in the standard term and condition entitled "Termination."

Failure to comply with any or all of the provisions of the award may have a negative impact on future funding by NRC and may be considered grounds for any or all of the following actions: establishment of an accounts receivable, withholding of payments under any NRC award, changing the method of payment from advance to reimbursement only, or the imposition of other special award conditions, suspension of any NRC active awards, and termination of any NRC award.

Other Federal Awards With Similar Programmatic Activities

Federal Employee Expenses

Federal agencies are generally barred from accepting funds from a Grantee to pay transportation, travel, or other expenses for any Federal employee unless specifically approved in the terms of the award. Use of award funds (Federal or non-Federal) or the Grantee's provision of in-kind goods or services, for the purposes of transportation, travel, or any other expenses for any Federal employee may raise appropriation augmentation issues. In addition,

NRC policy prohibits the acceptance of gifts, including travel payments for Federal employees, from Grantees or applicants regardless of the source.

Minority Serving Institutions (MSIs) Initiative

Pursuant to EOs 13256, 13230, and 13270, NRC is strongly committed to broadening the participation of MSIs in its financial assistance program. NRC's goals include achieving full participation of MSIs in order to advance the development of human potential, strengthen the Nation's capacity to provide high-quality education, and increase opportunities for MSIs to participate in and benefit from Federal financial assistance programs. NRC encourages all applicants and Grantees to include meaningful participations of MSIs. Institutions eligible to be considered MSIs are listed on the Department of Education website:

<http://www.ed.gov/about/offices/list/ocr/edlite-minorityinst.html>

Research Misconduct

Scientific or research misconduct refers to the fabrication, falsification, or plagiarism in proposing, performing, or reviewing research, or in reporting research results. It does not include honest errors or differences of opinions. The Grantee organization has the primary responsibility to investigate allegations and provide reports to the Federal Government. Funds expended on an activity that is determined to be invalid or unreliable because of scientific misconduct may result in a disallowance of costs for which the institution may be liable for repayment to the awarding agency. The Office of Science and Technology Policy at the White House published in the Federal Register on December 6, 2000, a final policy that addressed research misconduct. The policy was developed by the National Science and Technology Council (65 FR 76260). The NRC requires that any allegation be submitted to the Grants Officer, who will also notify the OIG of such allegation. Generally, the Grantee organization shall investigate the allegation and submit its findings to the Grants Officer. The NRC may accept the Grantee's findings or proceed with its own investigation. The Grants Officer shall inform the Grantee of the NRC's final determination.

Publications, Videos, and Acknowledgment of Sponsorship

Publication of the results or findings of a research project in appropriate professional journals and production of video or other media is encouraged as an important method of recording and reporting scientific information. It is also a constructive means to expand access to federally funded research. The Grantee is required to submit a copy to the NRC and when releasing information related to a funded project include a statement that the project or effort undertaken was or is sponsored by the NRC. The Grantee is also responsible for assuring that every publication of material (including Internet sites and videos) based on or developed under an award, except scientific articles or papers appearing in scientific, technical or professional journals, contains the following disclaimer:

"This [report/video] was prepared by [Grantee name] under award [number] from [name of operating unit], Nuclear Regulatory Commission. The statements, findings, conclusions, and recommendations are those of the author(s) and do not necessarily reflect the view of the [name of operating unit] or the US Nuclear Regulatory Commission."
