Instead of putting good money after bad and licensing a new installation at San Onofre Nuclear Plant, why doesn't the government spend the money developing all the passive sources of energy that are available in this country? It isn't too late, although this is the escape hatch the government likes to use as an excuse for not proceeding on something that should have been started long ago and is certainly safer and much cheaper for the consumer. Time is of the essence and time is running out.

At the expense of us all, the government keeps subsidizing San Diego Gas and Electric. A deaf ear and a blind eye seems to be turned on to the problems and broken promises that nuclear power has generated.

These problems and broken promises all started when we were led to believe that the power would be so cheap that the utility companies would not bother to meter the energy used by the customers. Such is not the case and our bill get higher and higher. Passive energy now is possible and would be cheaper. I know whereof I speak as I have installed solar in my home and have cut my utility bills by one-third.

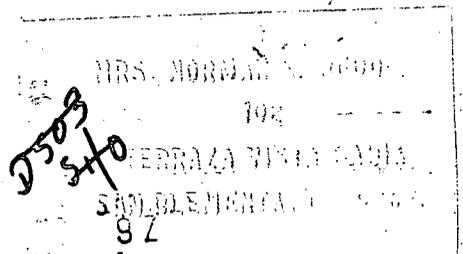

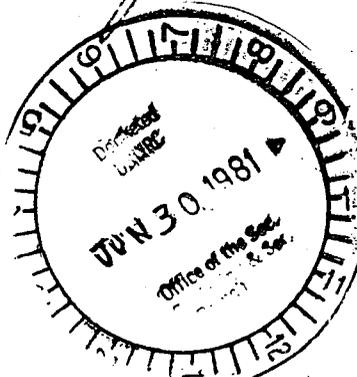

And what about the nuclear waste? Nothing has been done about this problem. Is it because there is nothing that can be done?

Where is the safety you promised us? There is no guarantee. If Isreal can blow up a plant in Iraq, there is nothing that could prevent any hostile person or country from blowing up any of our plants. These plants are an open invitation to anyone that has the nerve and the smarts and wants to cause trouble. Any person that has the audacity to promote anything as dangerous and as lethal deserves to be around when the worst happens and no one has any proof that the worst won't happen.

As a native of San Clemente for 25 years our future is at stake. Our homes, our businesses and most of all our lives are in jeopardy.

THERE IS NO PLACE TO HIDE.
