General Comment

Thank you for considering my comment on this proposed rule.

It is inappropriate and unethical for the Nuclear regulatory Commission in this GEIS, to use the Private Fuel Storage (PFS), LLC "centralized interim storage" proposal, targeted at the Skull Valley Goshutes Band of Indians in Utah, as a model for "away-from-reactor" storage.

As your agency knows, PFS was canceled in December 2012. NRC claims in its GEIS to observe Environmental Justice (EJ) principles, and yet PFS was a blatant violation of EJ. Nearly 500 organizations across the U.S. joined with Skull Valley Goshute traditionalists urging NRC to disapprove PFS's license, due to its inherent violation of EJ.
