

"Good books don't give up all their secrets at once." Stephen King

On Thanksgiving Day there was an article by Joe O'Sullivan on a meeting with Richard Clement, where Richard glossed over the holders of Azarga, which now or soon to be controlling holders of Powertech. Have done extensive investigations on this newly formed company, my opinion, the big shots that put this together are some of the scariest people on the planet. Their history is of rape and plunder of mother earth. Go to

<http://www.au-wire.com/peter-epstein-of-au-wire-com-exclusive>

<http://pbadupws.nrc.gov/docs/MLI322/MLI3224A259>

Read the background on Alexander Alan Molneux; Matthew O'Kane CPA; Charles G. Groat, PH.D.; Apolonius Struijk; A. Robert Abboud; and Robert Martin Friedland. Also check out other companies they have been with: ivanhoe mines ltd; ivanhoe energy inc.; Ivanhoe Capital Corporation; celsius coal ltd.; southgobi resources ltd.; turquoise hill resources ltd.; rio tinto pic.. <Http://northernminer.com/news/azarga-resources-takes-stake>

Also would like to mention in my research at:

<http://www.wise-uranium.org/umopusa.html> I copied off 26 pages of issues with Crow Butte in situ leach mining. That maybe you would want to check out.

Maybe, Joe O'Sullivan would like to see all th information some of us have?

The Hot Springs Star has a guest editorial by none other than another Edgemont mayor, campaigning for another uranium disaster for the Edgemont area. As Jim Kent pointed out in a recent column, the people of Edgemont, or at least their politicians never give up on get rich schemes.

Mary Helen Pederson Hot Springs 605-745-3232.

*This was printed in the Hot Springs, Star
I am the author.*