

ITAAC Notifications and ITAAC Numbers

November 20, 2014

James Gaslevic

Background

- During a public meeting on 9/22/14, the Staff discussed options to lessen resource burdens on petitioners from having to track the closure of large numbers of uncompleted ITAAC.
- The Staff suggested 3 options:
 - The later ICN would cite the corresponding UIN.
 - The later ICN would include the corresponding UIN as an attachment.
 - The later ICN would include a redline attachment showing differences between the ICN and the UIN.

Background (cont.)

- At the 9/22/14 meeting and in a 10/15/14 letter, the industry:
 - Questioned the necessity of taking any additional measures given the public’s ability to cross-reference UINs and later ICNs.
 - Did not oppose less burdensome measures, such as Option 1, but opposed Options 2 and 3.
 - Suggested that the Staff could address its concerns by enhancing the plant-specific ITAAC closure status reports on the NRC website.
 - Suggested that the Staff’s concerns be addressed via RG 1.215.

Staff's Response

- The Staff agrees that the public can use ITAAC numbers to cross-reference UINs and ICNs.
- But current practice makes this more difficult.
 - ITAAC Index Numbers (which go from 1 to 875) are inconsistently used (Vogtle uses them but V.C. Summer does not).
 - Staff and licensees are not using the same terminology (Staff uses “Sequence Number” rather than “Index Number”).
- ITAAC numbers should be prominently placed in ITAAC notifications and used consistently.

Staff's Proposed Resolution

- RG 1.215, Rev. 2, will include the following:
 - The Staff will adopt the term “ITAAC Index number.”
 - The ITAAC number that refers to the Section of the COL ITAAC appendix will be called an “ITAAC Section Number.”
 - Both the ITAAC Index Number and the ITAAC Section Number will be placed in the subject line of each ITAAC notification.
 - The simpler Index Number will facilitate cross-referencing while the Section Number will facilitate locating the ITAAC in the COL ITAAC appendix.

- The Staff will enhance the plant-specific ITAAC closure status reports on the NRC website to make them more user-friendly.
- The notice of intended operation would instruct petitioners on how existing resources can be used to cross-reference UINs and ICNs.
