things aren't looking promising on my end for a resolution tonight. Here is what I will be doing in the event this doesn't get resolved before midnight. I have physically signed the copy you sent me with today's date and will return it to you as soon as possible (unfortunately that will be Monday – I am off site until then and will not have access to a scanner). I will then upload all of the documents, to include this email, into our system so it will be released with the award in Fedconnect.

As such, please consider this email as formal confirmation that M0006 has in effect been fully executed, thus extending the POP end date to July 25, 2015. Thank you again for your patience.

Respectfully,
