Dear Chief Bladley,

You know the canned content of this letter, so let me give you my direct opinion on this matter.

Florida is fragile. You need to educate yourself. I recommend courses on Florida's ecology, both land and marine, and a course in the geological history of Florida. Both these may be found at the University of South Florida St. Petersburg. Go, enroll, and cure your massive ignorance on this matter.

Our national and state parks are to be RESERVES for the education, edification, and enjoyment of our citizens. They are NOT for corporate profit. They were set aside to PROTECT them from exploitation such as that which you contemplate.

Nuclear power has been shown, at Three Mile Island and at Chernobyl, to be unsafe, unreliable, and unpredicatble. It has also been shown by the tidal wave event in Japan to be highly vulnerable to natural disasters. The biggest risk in Florida would be from flooding, and that risk increases every year because of people like our idiot governor who deny climate change.

You need to educate yourself. You also need NOT to approve this disastrous plan.
