Dear Chief Bladley,

I am writing in reference to Docket ID: NRC-2009-0337 to express my opposition to the proposed expansion of Turkey Point Power Plant, located in Homestead, Florida.

The extra expenses associated with nuclear safety and waste handling are making this option less practical, even if it wasn't risking "nuking" the local environment, so to speak.

Have you checked out solar? Prices are way down. Using solar during the day time peak-use periods would absorb enough load to make the existing facilities more than adequate. Battery storage is getting cheaper, too, although not cheap enough to go 100% solar this year. (Maybe in five to ten years...)

The maintenance expenses for solar are minimal, the safety factor is high, and decommissioning a solar plant, should that happen, is not dangerous or expensive.

Thank you for considering my request.

Sincerely,

Ms. Robbie Bennett
