I am writing with concerns about FPL's proposal to build two more nuclear reactors at their Turkey Point site in South Florida (Docket ID: NRC-2009-0337). As a resident of South Florida I feel my property and my quality of life would be negatively impacted by the proposed expansion. The natural resources we depend on economically are extremely vulnerable. Our aquifers and fresh water resources should not be further depleted by water hogging nuclear energy. We need to protect the Bay and the greater drinking water needs of South Florida - not hasten salt water intrusion.

As someone who grew up just down the street from Turkey Point in the Cutler Ridge neighborhood, I am aware that the site was never a good site. To expand upon an already ill-placed power plant is a horrible idea.

The state process is flawed and NRC should not rely on a bad state utility planning process that could have a tremendous negative impact on myself and all residents in the region. Please look more closely at energy efficiency and renewables to meet the projected need for our state. The Sunshine state can, and must, do better than expanding risky, water intensive, expensive nuclear energy.

I am greatly concerned about the large impacts

Sincerely,
Cara Jennings
