General Comment

I used to believe in nuclear power. We all know that there is no way to ever fix Fukushima and whatever else you've done in the Pacific. All nuclear power needs to be stopped. No one wants it anymore. You should be ashamed of yourselves for what you've allowed to happen to this world. Radiation levels in are going to kill every human and animal on earth.

Please know that everyone I know agrees with me about this subject.

Stop wasting time on this source of power and figure out how to clean up the Pacific ocean -it is the most important thing to do right now -brainstorming on how to fix the immense amount of radiation you've released into the world.

I don't need to be contacted, I am only commenting.
